The President

PROCLAMATION 2560

SUSPENDING ALLOTMENT TO SPECIFIED COUNTRIES OF IMPORT QUOTAS FOR LONG-STAPLE COTTON

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 as amended by section 31 of the act of August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 750, 773), as amended by section 5 of the act of February 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 1148, 1152), and as reenacted by section 1 of the act of June 3, 1937 (50 Stat. 246), I issued a proclamation on September 5, 1939 (No. 2351,[1] 54 Stat. 2640), limiting the quantities of certain cotton and cotton waste which might be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, which proclamation was in part suspended by my proclamations of December 19, 1940 (No. 2450,[2] 54 Stat. 2769), and March 31, 1942 (No. 2544[3]); and

WHEREAS under my proclamation of September 5, 1939, the total quantity of cotton having a staple 1⅛ inches or more in length which might be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in any year commencing September 20, was 45,656,420 pounds, which total quantity was by such proclamation allotted in individual shares to specified foreign countries; and

WHEREAS the United States Tariff Commission has made a supplemental investigation pursuant to the said section 22 to determine whether or not the circumstances requiring such allotment of individual shares still exist, has made findings of fact with respect thereto, and has transmitted to me a report of those findings and its recommendation based thereon, a copy of the report having also been transmitted to the Secretary of Agriculture:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby find and declare, on the basis of the investigation and report of the Tariff Commission, that the circumstances requiring the allotment to specified foreign countries of individual shares in the total quantity of cotton having a staple 1⅛ inches or more in length permitted to be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption no longer exist. Accordingly, pursuant to the said section 22, as further amended by the act of January 25, 1940 (54 Stat. 17), I hereby proclaim the suspension, effective on the thirtieth day following the date of this proclamation, of such provisions of my proclamation of September 5, 1939, as allotted to specified foreign countries individual shares of the total quantity of cotton having a staple 1⅛ inches or more in length permitted to be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, so that, on and after the effective date hereof, such cotton shall be permitted entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption, within the limit of the total quantity specified in my proclamation of September 5, 1939, without regard to the foreign country of origin. Nothing in this proclamation shall be construed to modify my proclamation of December 19, 1940 (No. 2450, 54 Stat. 2769), or my proclamation of March 31, 1942 (No. 2544).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 29th day of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

[SEAL]

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

MANNING, BOWMAN & COMPANY

Manning, Bowman & Company, Meriden, Connecticut, manufactures electrical appliances such as waffle irons, buffet warmers, flat irons, percolators, and electroplate ware. In connection with such manufacture, the Company maintains a foundry for melting and casting aluminum. Although the Company knew that Supplementary Order M-1-d prohibited the melting of aluminum scrap in the absence of specific authorization by the Director of Industry Operations on January 23, 1942, it wilfully accepted delivery of approximately 17,000 pounds of aluminum scrap and melted this aluminum into ingot form despite the fact that no authorization therefor had been obtained from the Director of Industry Operations. Further, the Company thereafter wilfully violated Supplementary Order M-1-e in using this aluminum in the manufacture of grids for waffle irons.

These violations of Supplementary Orders M-1-d and M-1-e, dealing with the use and distribution of aluminum, have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting aluminum to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing,

It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.60 Suspension order S-60.

(a) Manning, Bowman & Company, its successors and assigns, shall not process, assemble, or produce electrical appliances or material to be incorporated in electrical appliances for a period of six months from the effective date of this order, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(b) Manning, Bowman & Company, its successors and assigns, shall not sell, transfer, or deliver electrical appliances containing aluminum, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations: Provided, however, That the Company may deliver or transfer such electrical appliances for the purpose of storing the same for its own account.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Manning, Bowman & Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect immediately and shall remain in effect until revoked. (P. D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-63]

ILLINOIS PURE ALUMINUM COMPANY

Illinois Pure Aluminum Company, Lemont, Illinois, is a manufacturer of aluminum kitchen utensils. Supplementary Order M-1-e, effective January 23, 1942, prohibits the use of aluminum in the manufacture of certain articles among which are kitchen utensils. Despite the fact that the Company knew that restrictions had been placed upon the use of aluminum in manufacture, it continued to operate in wilful disregard of Supplementary Order M-1-e. During the period of January 23 through April 14, 1942, the Company used approximately 26,486 pounds of aluminum in the manufacture of kitchen utensils contrary to the provisions of this order.

This violation of Supplementary Order M-1-e dealing with the use of aluminum in manufacture has impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting aluminum to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing,

It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.63 Suspension Order S-63. (a) Illinois Pure Aluminum Company, its successors and assigns, shall accept no deliveries from any source of primary aluminum, secondary aluminum, aluminum scrap, or alloys of which aluminum constitutes the major part for a period of three months from the effective date of this order, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(b) Illinois Pure Aluminum Company, its successors and assigns, shall not process, fabricate, assemble or in any way use any primary aluminum, secondary aluminum, aluminum scrap, or alloys of which aluminum constitutes the major part for a period of three months from the effective date of this order, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(c) Illinois Pure Aluminum Company, its successors and assigns, shall not transfer or deliver any articles, heretofore produced by it which contain aluminum, in fulfillment of purchase orders rated lower than A-1-j, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations: Provided, however, That it may deliver or transfer any such articles for the purpose of storing the same for its own account.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Illinois Pure Aluminum Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent herewith.

Issued this 29th day of June 1942.

J. S. KNOWLSON, Director of Industry Operations.

PART 923—TUNGSTEN

[General Preference Order M-29, as Amended June 30, 1942]

Section 923.3 General Preference Order M-29 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 923.3 General Preference Order M-29—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tungsten" means and includes:

(i) Ores and concentrates, including beneficiated or treated forms, containing commercially recognized tungsten;

(ii) The element tungsten in pure form, in any shape into which the same may be fabricated;

(iii) Ferro-tungsten, tungsten metal powder and any other ferrous combination of the element tungsten in semi-manufactured or manufactured form, excluding alloy steel, high speed steel and tool steel.

(iv) All non-ferrous mixtures or alloys containing tungsten, prepared for any purpose requiring further processing, whether the same are manufactured by means of melting, pressing, sintering, brazing, soldering or welding, including but not limited to mixtures or alloys to be used in the production of tools and tool blanks or as hard facing materials, but not including any finished tool;

(v) All chemical compounds having tungsten as a recognizable and essential component;

(vi) All scrap or secondary material containing commercially recoverable tungsten as defined in (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) above, excluding tungsten bearing iron and steel scrap.

(2) "Producer" means any person who mines or otherwise produces natural materials containing recoverable quantities of tungsten.

(3) "Processor" means any person who prepares ores, concentrates or any chemical or metallurgical forms of tungsten for any industrial use.

(4) "Dealer" means any person who procures tungsten either by importing or from domestic sources for sale or resale without change in form, whether or not such person receives title to or physical delivery of the material, and includes warehousemen, brokers and jobbers.

(b) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries—(1) Allocations. Except as permitted by paragraph (c) (2) of this order, no person shall make or accept delivery of tungsten without the specific authorization of the Director of Industry Operations.

The Director will from time to time allocate the supply of tungsten and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses shall be made or withheld. The Director may also require any person seeking to place a purchase order for tungsten to place the same with one or more particular suppliers. Such allocations and directions will be made primarily to insure satisfaction of all defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(2) Permissible deliveries. Until further order or in the absence of a contrary direction by the Director of Industry Operations, the following transactions are permitted without specific authorization by the Director of Industry Operations:

(i) Tungsten in any form (as defined in this order), may be delivered;

(a) To the Metals Reserve Company or to any other Corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U. S. C., section 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such Corporation, or

(b) To any person in quantities of 25 pounds or less of contained tungsten, provided that the total quantity in terms of tungsten content which any person may receive pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph during any one calendar month, beginning with the month of July, 1942, from all sources of supply shall be limited to 25 pounds.

(ii) Tungsten ores or concentrates containing less than 20% of tungsten trioxide by weight may be delivered;

(a) To any processor for the purpose of being concentrated or further concentrated by the processor receiving such delivery, or

(b) To any dealer, provided that no dealer shall store or otherwise hold for more than 60 days any material acquired by him under the provisions of this subparagraph.

(d) Reports and applications. (1) Each processor and dealer shall file with the War Production Board on or before the 20th day of each calendar month reports on form PD-9-d, or such other form as said Board may from time to time prescribe.

(2) Any person who desires an allocation of tungsten shall apply therefor to the War Production Board not later than the 20th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery of the material is desired, on Form PD-9-c, or such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe, and shall file a copy of such application with each supplier with whom he places a purchase order for tungsten. All such applications to the War Production Board must be accompanied by reports on behalf of the applicant on form PD-9-d, or on such other form as may be prescribed for this purpose from time to time by the War Production Board. Failure by any person to file an application in the manner and on the date required by this paragraph may be construed as notice to the Director of Industry Operations and to all suppliers of tungsten that such person does not desire an allocation of tungsten during the next succeeding month.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Effect upon other orders. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed as altering or modifying any of the terms or provisions of General Imports Order M-63, as the same may be from time to time amended.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Tungsten Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference: M-29. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

Issued this 30th day of June 1942.

Director of Industry Operations.

[Amendment 1 to General Imports Order M-63 as Amended June 2, 1942]

Section 1042.1 (General Imports Order M-63 as amended June 2, 1942) is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. By changing paragraph (a) (4) to read as follows:

(4) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States (including the Philippine Islands). It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to Canada, Mexico, or any other foreign country.

2. By adding the following as a new subparagraph (6) under paragraph (a):

(6) Material shall be deemed "in transit" if either it is afloat or an on board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it.

3. By adding the following as a new subparagraph (5) under paragraph (b):

(5) Unless otherwise directed by the Director of Industry Operations, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply to any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation or to any material which the owner at the time of importation had purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation.

4. By changing paragraph (f) (3) to read as follows:

(3) No material which is imported after it has become subject to this order, including materials imported by or for the account of the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry Form PD-222-B in duplicate. No material on List I or List II which was imported prior to July 2, 1942, and which on July 2, 1942, was in a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States shall be withdrawn for consumption unless the person making the withdrawal shall file with the withdrawal Form PD-222-B in duplicate. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the War Production Board, Stockpile and Shipping Branch, Ref: M-63, Washington, D. C.

(e) By striking List I, List II, and List III from the order and substituting therefor List I, List II, and List III hereto attached.

(f) This amendment shall take effect July 2, 1942.

[Interpretation 1 of General Imports Order M–63 as Amended June 2, 1942, and June 30, 1942]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director of Industry Operations with respect to § 1042.1 General Imports Order M–63, as amended June 2, 1942, and June 30, 1942.[1]

No authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for the release or withdrawal of materials on List II or List III from a free port, a free zone, or the bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States regardless of the date when such materials first entered such place. The actual importation, which is the subject of restriction under paragraph (b), is deemed to have occurred before the question of release or withdrawal arises. Also, no authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for the subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment of such released or withdrawn List II and List III materials.

As to List I materials which are similarly situated, no authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for their release or withdrawal from free port, free zone, or bonded custody, but authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for their subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment unless they are shipped in bond to Canada, Mexico, or some other foreign country, in which event the foreign destination is deemed to be the place of initial storage as such term is used in the order. Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

[Maximum Price Regulation 172]

CHARGES OF CONTRACTORS IN APPAREL INDUSTRY

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for charges of contractors in the apparel industry at levels which differ from the prices charged by contractors for their services in March 1942. Such action is required in order to adjust the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] to allow for certain increases in labor which were not reflected in the prices of these commodities being delivered in that month. The maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 is issued simultaneously herewith, and it has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1389.51 to 1389.60, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Public Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1389.51 Prohibition against dealing in services in apparel industry above maximum prices. On or after June 30 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell any materials or supply any services in any transaction subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 at a price higher than the maximum prices established herein.

(b) No person, in the course of trade or business, shall buy any material or receive any service in any such transaction at a price higher than the maximum prices established herein.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

§ 1389.52 Applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 to the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation No. 157.[4] (a) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 shall apply and the General Maximum Price Regulation, except as provided in paragraph (b), shall not apply to prices that contractors in the apparel industry as herein defined may charge for their services.

(b) The provisions of § 1449.5 (Transfer of Business or Stock of Trade), § 1449.11 (Base Period Records) shall apply to all charges for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 and to all persons making such charges.

(c) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 shall not apply to contractors' charges which are subject to the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 157—Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes.

(d) The term, "contractor," includes any person who performs one or more processes of manufacturing in the production of an article of apparel, on materials supplied by a principal, and who receives payment for the process or processes so performed and for the furnishing of materials, if any, that are incidental to such operations: Provided, That a contractor who furnishes materials, the value of which constitutes 20 percent or more of the price charged for his services or who furnishes more materials than is customary in services of the type rendered, is excluded hereunder. It shall also include any person engaged in examining, shrinking and sponging of woolen or worsted fabrics.

(e) A material shall be deemed "supplied" by a principal to a contractor if:

(1) It is consigned, or,

(2) It is sold pursuant to an agreement providing that the articles of apparel to be processed from the material shall be sold only to the principal, at a price based upon the cost of the material to the contractor plus a charge for his services and for any materials incidentally supplied by the contractor.

(f) A principal includes any person who engages the services of a contractor, as defined in paragraph (d) of this section, in the procurement, manufacture, or production of an article of apparel for the purposes of resale by the principal. A principal may or may not perform processes of manufacture on the article of apparel in addition to those performed by the contractor, and may himself be a contractor, as defined in paragraph (d) of this section.

(g) An article of apparel shall include all apparel, apparel furnishings and accessories made by cutting and sewing methods or knitting processes, except men's fur-felt, wool-felt, and silk hats and bodies, and men's, women's and children's footwear.

§ 1389.53 Maximum contractors' charges. The seller's maximum price for any service governed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 shall be as follows:

(a) Where the material is consigned to the contractor. The direct labor cost of the service plus the same percentage margin over direct labor cost obtained by the contractor for the same or similar services in March 1942.

Direct labor cost shall be computed on the basis of wage rates paid by the contractor on March 31, 1942, or the nearest prior date upon which such wage rates were paid, plus any increase subsequent thereto pursuant to a collective bargaining contract or other wage agreement which contract was entered into on or before April 27, 1942, and which provides for an unconditional increase in wage rates of a fixed amount or percentage.

(b) Where the material is sold to the contractor. The total of the following:

(1) The direct labor cost of the service, which shall be computed according to paragraph (a) hereof;

(2) The same percentage margin over direct labor cost obtained by the contractor for the same or similar services in March 1942;

(3) The actual cost to the contractor of the material sold to the contractor by the principal.

(c) Where the contractor cannot determine his price under (a) or (b). If the contractor cannot determine the maximum price for a service pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) hereof, the maximum price for such service shall be the total of the following:

(1) Direct labor cost of the service, which shall be computed as in paragraph (a);

(2) The same percentage margin over direct labor cost obtained by the contractor in March 1942:

(i) For the services rendered in connection with the manufacturing of the most closely related article of the same type; or

(ii) If the contractor did not furnish services in connection with the manufacture of articles of the same type, then the same percentage margin over direct labor cost obtained by his most closely competitive seller of the same class in March, 1942 for services performed on the manufacture of articles of the same type.

§ 1389.54 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1389.55 Records and reports. (a) In addition to the records required to be kept by § 1449.11 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, every person making any charges subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172, on or after June 30, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than one year complete and accurate records of:

(1) Each charge made, showing the date thereof, the principal, the nature of the service rendered, the price charged or received, and the method of computing such charge.

(b) Such person shall keep such records in addition to or in lieu of the records required by this Section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

(c) Such person shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

§ 1389.56 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to contractors' charges in the apparel industry, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by use of commission, service, transportation or any other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1389.57 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1389.58 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 may file a Petition for Amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1389.59 Definitions. (a) For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) "Consigned" means consigned, loaned, charged on memorandum or other agreement whereby title to the goods transferred is retained by the principal.

(2) "Percentage margin over direct labor cost" is determined by subtracting the actual cost of direct labor in March from the charges made in March by the contractor for his services and then dividing the resultant figure by the cost of direct labor in March.

(3) "Articles of the same type" are articles of apparel having the same use and which customarily sell in the same departments at retail (for example; suits, coats, vests, dresses, blouses, shirts, etc.).

(4) "Seller of the same class" means a seller (i) performing the same function, (ii) of similar type, (iii) dealing in the same type of commodities or services, and (iv) selling to the same class or classes of purchaser. A seller's "most closely competitive seller of the same class" shall be a seller of the same class who (a) is selling the same or a similar commodity or service, and (b) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities or services, and (c) is located nearest to the seller.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1449.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation and the definitions set forth in § 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to the terms used herein.

§ 1389.60 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 172 (§§ 1389.51 to 1389.60, inclusive) shall become effective June 30, 1942.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Amendment 1 to Maximum Rent Regulation 1]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN A PORTION OF THE SAN DIEGO DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

The title, preamble, and paragraph (a) of § 1388.11, paragraphs (c), (d), and (g) of § 1388.14, paragraphs (a) (5), (a) (6), and (c) (5) of § 1388.15, paragraph (c) of § 1388.16, and the first sentence of § 1388.17 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

[Maximum Rent Regulation 1]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE SAN DIEGO DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the San Diego Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities already had resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within the San Diego Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the San Diego Defense-Rental Area on or about January 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 for housing accommodations within the San Diego Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 is hereby issued.

§ 1388.11 Scope of Regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 applies to all housing accommodations within the San Diego Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1 to 1388.5, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942 (consisting of the County of San Diego, in the State of California), except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, however, That the words "June 1, 1942" and "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 shall apply only to that portion of the San Diego Defense-Rental Area consisting of the Judicial Townships of Encinitas, National, and San Diego and that part of the Judicial Township of El Cajon lying west of the Cleveland National Forest in the County of San Diego in the State of California, and that for the remaining portion of the San Diego Defense-Rental Area the words "June 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 shall mean "July 1, 1942," and the words "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 1 shall mean "August 1, 1942."

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after January 1, 1941 and before June 1, 1942, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.15 (c).

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The title, preamble, and paragraph (a) of § 1388.61, paragraphs (c), (d), and (g) of § 1388.64, paragraphs (a) (5), (a) (6), and (c) (5) of § 1388.65, paragraph (c) of § 1388.66, and the first sentence of § 1388.67 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 2[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

[MAXIMUM RENT REGULATION 2]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE WATERBURY DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Waterbury Defense-Rental Areas, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Waterbury Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 2 for housing accommodations within the Waterbury Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

[Maximum Rent Regulation 5]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE BRIDGEPORT DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Bridgeport Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Bridgeport Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 5 for housing accommodations within the Bridgeport Defense-Rental Area will be

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Amendment 1 to Maximum Rent Regulation 9]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN PORTION OF BURLINGTON DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

The title, preamble, and paragraph (a) of § 1388.411, paragraphs (c), (d), and (g) of § 1388.44, paragraph (a) (5), (a) (6), and (c) (5) of § 1388.415, paragraph (c of § 1388.416, and the first sentence of § 1388.417 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

[Maximum Rent Regulation 9]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE BURLINGTON DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Burlington Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941 defense activities already had resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within the Burlington Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Burlington Defense-Rental Area on or about January 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9 for housing accommodations within the Burlington Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9 is hereby issued.

§ 1388.411 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9 applies to all housing accommodations within the Burlington Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Regulation (§§ 1388.401 to 1388.405, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942 (consisting of the Counties of Des Moines, Henry, and Lee in the State of Iowa, and the County of Henderson in the State of Illinois), except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, however, That the words "June 1, 1942" and "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9, shall apply only to that portion of the Burlington Defense-Rental Area consisting of the Townships of Augusta, Burlington, Concordia, Danville, Flint River, Tama, and Union in the County of Des Moines; and the Townships of Baltimore, Center, Mount Pleasant, and New London in the County of Henry; and the Townships of Denmark, Green Bay, Madison, and Washington in the County of Lee, in the State of Iowa, and that for the remaining portion of the Burlington Defense-Rental Area the words "June 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9, shall mean "July 1, 1942," and the words "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 9 shall mean "August 1, 1942."

§ 1388.414 Maximum rents. • • •

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on January 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to June 1, 1942, the first rent for such accommodations after January 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.415 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after January 1, 1941 and before June 1, 1942, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.415 (c).

[Amendment 1 to Maximum Rent Regulation 11]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN A PORTION OF THE DETROIT DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

The title, preamble, and paragraph (a) of § 1388.511, paragraphs (c), (d), and (g) of § 1388.514, paragraphs (a) (5), (a) (6), and (c) (5) of § 1388.515, and paragraph (c) of § 1388.516, and the first sentence of § 1388.517 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

[Maximum Rent Regulation 11]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE DETROIT DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Detroit Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Detroit Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 for housing accommodations within the Detroit Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 is hereby issued.

§ 1388.511 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 applies to all housing accommodations with the Detroit Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.501 to 1388.505, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942 (consisting of the Counties of Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, and Wayne in the State of Michigan), except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, however, That the words "June 1, 1942" and "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 shall apply only to that portion of the Detroit Defense-Rental Area consisting of the Counties of Macomb, Oakland, and Wayne in the State of Michigan, and that for the remaining portion of the Detroit Defense-Rental Area the words "June 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 shall mean "July 1, 1942," and the words "July 1, 1942" in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 11 shall mean "August 1, 1942."

§ 1388.514 Maximum rents. * * *

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on April 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to June 1, 1942, the first rent for such accommodations after April 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.515 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after April 1, 1941 and before June 1, 1942, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.515 (c).

* * * * *

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.515 (c).

§ 1388.515 Adjustments and other determinations. * * *

(a) * * *

(5) There was in force on April 1, 1941, a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941; or the housing accommodations were not rented on April 1, 1941, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to April 1, 1941, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941.

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Akron Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Akron Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 14 for housing accommodations within the Akron Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

[Maximum Rent Regulation 16]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES IN THE CLEVELAND DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Cleveland Defense-Rental Area, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941 defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within the Cleveland Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the said Cleveland Defense-Rental Area on or about July 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 16 for housing accommodations within the Cleveland Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 16 is hereby issued.

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after July 1, 1941 and before June 1, 1942, or (2) housing accommodations changed between these dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between these dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. • • • • • • •

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Amendment 1 to Maximum Rent Regulation 21A]

HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

The Preamble and § 1388.1501 (a) of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 21A[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.1501 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designations and Rent Declarations issued by the Administrator on March 2, 1942, as amended on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designations and Rent Declarations.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941 defense activities already had resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about January 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

(1) The San Diego Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of San Diego, in the State of California.

(2) The Columbus, Georgia Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Muscogee, in the State of Georgia; and Election Precinct One, including the City of Phenix City, in the County of Russell, in the State of Alabama.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941 defense activities already had resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about January 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

§ 1388.1653 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1655 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1655 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1654 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1655) shall be:

(a) For housing accommodations rented on January 1, 1941, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on January 1, 1941, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on January 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the first rent for such accommodations after January 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1655 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after January 1, 1941 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1655 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodation not rented at any time between November 1, 1940 and such effective date, the rent fixed by the Administrator. The landlord shall, prior to renting and in time to allow 15 days for action thereon, file a petition requesting the Administrator to enter an order fixing the maximum rent therefor. Such order shall be entered on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since January 1, 1941.

If no order is entered on such petition within 15 days after filing, the landlord may rent such accommodations and the first rent therefor shall be the maximum rent. Within 5 days after so renting, the landlord shall report the maximum rent. The Administrator may order a decrease in such maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1655 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved but in no event more than the first rent for such accommodations.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1655 (c).

§ 1388.1655 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on January 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since January 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on January 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to January 1, 1941, and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on January 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the service, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on January 1, 1941, a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941; or the housing accommodations were not rented on January 1, 1941, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to January 1, 1941, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c) (d), or (g) of § 1388.1654 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941; or the maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (e) of § 1388.1654 for which the rent was not fixed by the Administrator is higher than such generally prevailing rent.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on January 1, 1941.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

§ 1388.1656 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of the housing accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling by himself, his family or dependents; or he has in good faith contracted in writing to sell the accommodations for immediate use and occupancy by a purchaser, who in good faith has represented in writing that he will use the accommodations as a dwelling for himself, his family or dependents; or the landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the housing accommodations for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, such accommodations shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the accommodations during such six-month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(d) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(e) No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1657 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity herewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

§ 1388.1658 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accommodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1659 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1660 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1661 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1662 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 26]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.1701 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

(3) Rooms and other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses; Provided, That this Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to entire structures or premises though used as hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1702 Prohibition against higher than maximum rents. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

§ 1388.1703 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1705 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1705 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that Section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1704 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1705) shall be:

(a) For housing accommodations rented on April 1, 1941, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on April 1, 1941, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on April 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the first rent for such accommodations after April 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1705 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after April 1, 1941 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations change between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1705 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time between February 1, 1941 and such effective date, the rent fixed by the Administrator. The landlord shall, prior to renting and in time to allow 15 days for action thereon, file a petition requesting the Administrator to enter an order fixing the maximum rent therefor. Such order shall be entered on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941 In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since April 1, 1941.

If no order is entered on such petition within 15 days after filing, the landlord may rent such accommodations and the first rent therefor shall be the maximum rent. Within 5 days after so renting, the landlord shall report the maximum rent. The Administrator may order a decrease in such maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1705 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved but in no event more than the first rent for such accommodations.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1705 (c).

§ 1388.1705 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on April 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since April 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on April 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to April 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on April 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on April 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941; or the housing accomodations were not rented on April 1, 1941, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to April 1, 1941, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that;

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c), (d), or (g) of § 1388.1704 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941; or the maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (e) of § 1388.1704 for which the rent was not fixed by the Administrator is higher than such generally prevailing rent.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on April 1, 1941.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

§ 1388.1706 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of the housing accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling by himself, his family or dependents; or he has in good faith contracted in writing to sell the accommodations for immediate use and occupancy by a purchaser, who in good faith has represented in writing that he will use the accommodations as a dwelling for himself, his family or dependents; or the landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the housing accommodations for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, such accommodations shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the accommodations during such six month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(d) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on nonpayment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(e) No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1707 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

§ 1388.1708 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accommodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1709 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1710 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1711 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1712 Petitions for Amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 27]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas and the portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.1751 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area on or about July 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.1751 to 1388.1764, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1388.1751 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation applies to all housing accommodations within each of the following Defense-Rental Areas and the following portion of a Defense-Rental Area (hereinafter referred to in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1151 to 1388.1155, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) The Indianapolis Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Marion, in the State of Indiana.

(2) That portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area consisting of the County of Labette, in the State of Kansas.

(3) The Minden Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Parish of Webster, in the State of Louisiana.

(4) The Joplin-Neosho Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Jasper and Newton, in the State of Missouri.

(5) The Lorain-Elyria Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Lorain, in the State of Ohio.

(6) The Texarkana Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Bowie, in the State of Texas; and the County of Miller, in the State of Arkansas.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Housing accommodations situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Dwelling space occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the space is provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the dwelling space is a part;

(3) Rooms and other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses: Provided, That this Maximum Rent Regulation does apply to entire structures or premises though used as hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of the rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1752 Prohibition against higher than maximum rents. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

§ 1388.1753 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant § 1388.1755 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1755 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that Section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1754 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1755) shall be:

(a) For housing accommodations rented on July 1, 1941, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on July 1, 1941, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on July 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the first rent for such accommodations after July 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1755 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after July 1, 1941 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1755 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time between May 1, 1941 and such effective date, the rent fixed by the Administrator. The landlord shall, prior to renting and in time to allow 15 days for action thereon, file a petition requesting the Administrator to enter an order fixing the maximum rent therefor. Such order shall be entered on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since July 1, 1941.

If no order is entered on such petition within 15 days after filing, the landlord may rent such accommodations and the first rent therefor shall be the maximum rent. Within 5 days after so renting, the landlord shall report the maximum rent. The Administrator may order a decrease in such maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1755 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved but in no event more than the first rent for such accommodations.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1755 (c).

§ 1388.1755 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on July 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since July 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on July 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to July 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on July 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on July 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941; or the housing accommodations were not rented on July 1, 1941, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to July 1, 1941, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c), (d), or (g) of § 1388.1754 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941; or the maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (e) of § 1388.1754 for which the rent was not fixed by the Administrator is higher than such generally prevailing rent.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rent for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on July 1, 1941.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

§ 1388.1756 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, of (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination

the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of the housing accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling by himself, his family or dependents; or he has in good faith contracted in writing to sell the accommodations for immediate use and occupancy by a purchaser, who in good faith has represented in writing that he will use the accommodations as a dwelling for himself, his family or dependents; or the landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the housing accommodations for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, such accommodations shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the accommodations during such six-month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provisions of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(d) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(e) No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1757 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

§ 1388.1758 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accommodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1759 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commission or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1760 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1761 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenants applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1762 Petitions for Amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 28]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas and the portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.1801 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area on or about March 1, 1942. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.1801 to 1388.1814, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1388.1801 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation applies to all housing accommodations within each of the following Defense-Rental Areas and the following portion of a Defense-Rental Area (each of which is referred to hereinafter in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1201 to 1388.1205, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) The San Francisco Bay Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, Sacramento, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano, Sonoma, and Yolo, in the State of California.

(2) The Savannah Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Chatham, in the State of Georgia.

(7) The St. Louis Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the City of St. Louis and the Counties of Jefferson, St. Charles, and St. Louis, in the State of Missouri; and the Counties of Madison, Monroe, and St. Clair, in the State of Illinois.

(8) That portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, and Union, in the State of New Jersey.

(9) The Buffalo Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Erie and Niagara, in the State of New York.

(11) The Erie Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania.

(14) The San Antonio Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Comal, Guadalupe, Kendall, Medina, and Wilson, in the State of Texas.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Housing accommodations situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Dwelling space occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the space is provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the dwelling space is a part;

(3) Rooms and other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses: Provided, That this Maximum Rent Regulation does apply to entire structures or premises though used as hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1802 Prohibition against higher than maximum rents. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

§ 1388.1803 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1805 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1805 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1804 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1805) shall be:

(a) For housing accommodations rented on March 1, 1942, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the first rent for such accommodations after March 1, 1942. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1805 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after March 1, 1942 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1805 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time between January 1, 1942 and such effective date, the rent fixed by the Administrator. The landlord shall, prior to renting and in time to allow 15 days for action thereon, file a petition requesting the Administrator to enter an order fixing the maximum rent therefor. Such order shall be entered on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since March 1, 1942.

If no order is entered on such petition within 15 days after filing, the landlord may rent such accommodations and the first rent therefor shall be the maximum rent. Within 5 days after so renting, the landlord shall report the maximum rent. The Administrator may order a decrease in such maximum rents as provided in § 1388.1805 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved, but in no event more than the rent on March 1, 1942 or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, more than the first rent after that date.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1805 (c).

§ 1388.1805 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on March 1, 1942, the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since March 1, 1942. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on March 1, 1942.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to March 1, 1942 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance and the rent on March 1, 1942 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(5) There was in force on March 1, 1942 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942; or the housing accommodations were not rented on March 1, 1942, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to March 1, 1942, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that;

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c), (d), or (g) of § 1388.1804 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942; or the maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (e) of § 1388.1804 for which the rent was not fixed by the Administrator is higher than such generally prevailing rent.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

§ 1388.1806 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of the housing accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling by himself, his family or dependents; or he has in good faith contracted in writing to sell the accommodations for immediate use and occupancy by a purchaser, who in good faith has represented in writing that he will use the accommodations as a dwelling for himself, his family or dependents; or the landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the housing accommodations for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, such accommodations shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the accommodations during such six month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(d) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(e) No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1807 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

§ 1388.1808 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accommodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1809 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1810 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1811 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1812 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive.)

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 29A]

HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.1851 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941 defense activities already had resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about January 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.1851 to 1388.1864, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1388.1851 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation applies to all rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each of the following Defense-Rental Areas (each of which is referred to hereinafter in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1051 to 1388.1055, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) The Montgomery-Prince Georges Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Montgomery and Prince Georges, in the State of Maryland.

(2) The Alexandria-Arlington Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Independent City of Alexandria and the Counties of Arlington and Fairfax, in the State of Virginia.

(3) The Jackson - Milan - Humboldt Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Carroll, Gibson, and Madison, in the State of Tennessee.

(4) The Tullahoma Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Bedford, Coffee, Franklin, Lincoln, and Moore, in the State of Tennessee.

(5) The Alexandria-Leesville Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Parishes of Beauregard, Rapides, and Vernon, in the State of Louisiana.

(6) The Brownwood Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Brown, Coleman, and Comanche, in the State of Texas.

(7) The San Luis Obispo Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of San Luis Obispo, in the State of California.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Rooms occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the rooms are provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the rooms are a part;

(3) Rooms in hospitals, or rooms of charitable or educational institutions used in carrying out their charitable or educational purposes;

(4) Entire structures or premises used as hotels or rooming houses, as distinguished from the rooms within such hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1852 Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.1853 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1855 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1855 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that Section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1854 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1855) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on January 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on January 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after January 1, 1941; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the first rent for the room after January 1, 1941 for that term and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such room: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1855 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and the meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

§ 1388.1855 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on January 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since January 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending January 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to January 1, 1941, and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on January 1, 1941, was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on January 1, 1941, a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services, or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on January 1, 1941.

§ 1388.1856 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5) such room shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the room during such six month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except on action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on daily basis.

No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1857 Registration. (a) Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall file a written statement on the form provided therefor, containing such information as the Administrator shall require, to be known as a registration statement. Any maximum rent established after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation under paragraphs (b) or (c) of § 1388.1854 shall be reported either on the first registration statement or on a statement filed within 5 days after such rent is established.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

§ 1388.1858 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of a room and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the room by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1859 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1860 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1861 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1862 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

(1) The term "Act" means the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

[Maximum Rent Regulation 30A]

HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.1901 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about April 1, 1941. It is his judgment that defense activities had not resulted in increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 prior to April 1, 1941, but did result in such increases commencing on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Rooms occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the rooms are provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the rooms are a part;

(3) Rooms in hospitals, or rooms of charitable or educational institutions used in carrying out their charitable or educational purposes;

(4) Entire structures or premises used as hotels or rooming houses, as distinguished from the rooms within such hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1902 Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.1903 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1905 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1905 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1904 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1905) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on April 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on April 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after April 1, 1941; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the first rent for the room after April 1, 1941 for that terms and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such room: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1905 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and the meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

§ 1388.1905 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased, because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on April 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since April 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a)-(7) and (c) (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending on April 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to April 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on April 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on April 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of the year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of the year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on April 1, 1941.

§ 1388.1906 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5), such room shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the room during such six-month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on a daily basis.

No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1907 Registration. (a) Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall file a written statement on the form provided therefor, containing such information as the Administrator shall require, to be known as a registration statement. Any maximum rent established after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation under paragraphs (b) or (c) of § 1388.1904 shall be reported either on the first registration statement or on a statement filed within 5 days after such rent is established.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

§ 1388.1908 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of a room and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the room by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1909 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1910 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1911 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1912 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 31A]

HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas and the portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.1951 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area on or about July 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.1951 to 1388.1964, inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1388.1951 Scope of Regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation applies to all rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each of the following Defense-Rental Areas and the following portion of a Defense-Rental Area (each of which is referred to hereinafter in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1151 to 1388.1155, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) The Indianapolis Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Marion, in the State of Indiana.

(2) That portion of the Parsons Defense-Rental Area consisting of the County of Labette, in the State of Kansas.

(3) The Minden Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Parish of Webster, in the State of Louisiana.

(4) The Joplin-Neosho Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the Counties of Jasper and Newton, in the State of Missouri.

(5) The Lorain-Elyria Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Lorain, in the State of Ohio.

(6) The Texarkana Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Bowie, in the State of Texas; and the County of Miller, in the State of Arkansas.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Rooms occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the rooms are provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the rooms are a part;

(3) Rooms in hospitals, or rooms of charitable or educational institutions used in carrying out their charitable or educational purposes;

(4) Entire structures or premises used as hotels or rooming houses, as distinguished from the rooms within such hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.1952. Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum

Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.1953 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.1955 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.1955 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that Section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.1954 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.1955) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on July 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on July 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after July 1, 1941; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during th period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the first rent for the room after July 1, 1941 for that term and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparabl rooms on July 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such room: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.1955 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and the meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

§ 1388.1955 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on July 1, 1941: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased, because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on July 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since July 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending on July 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to July 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on July 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on July 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on July 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on July 1, 1941.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on July 1, 1941.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necesary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on July 1, 1941.

§ 1388.1956 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5), such room shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the room during such six month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on nonpayment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on a daily basis.

No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.1957 Registration. (a) Within in 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall file a written statement on the form provided therefor, containing such information as the Administrator shall require, to be known as a registration statement. Any maximum rent established after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation under paragraps (b) or (c) of § 1388.1954 shall be reported either on the first registration statement or on a statement filed within 5 days after such rent is established.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipts for the amount to be paid.

§ 1388.1958 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of a room and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the room by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.1959 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room, or otherwise.

§ 1388.1960 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.1961 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.1962 Petition for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

[Maximum Rent Regulation 32A]

HOTEL AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas and the portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.2001 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in said Designation and Rent Declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area on or about March 1, 1942. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area and the said portion of the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.2001 to 1388.2014, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.2002 Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.2003 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.2005 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases except as provided in § 1388.2005 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that Section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.2004 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.2005) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on March 1, 1942, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on March 1, 1942, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after March 1, 1942; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the first rent for the room after March 1, 1942 for that term and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942, as determined by the owner of such room: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.2005 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and the meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

§ 1388.2005 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased, because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on March 1, 1942, the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since March 1, 1942. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending on March 1, 1942.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that: (1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to March 1, 1942 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on March 1, 1942 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(5) There was in force on March 1, 1942 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if be deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days afte. the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

§ 1388.2006 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5), such room shall not be rented for a period of six months after such removal or eviction without permission of the Administrator. The landlord may petition the Administrator for permission to rent the room during such six month period, and the Administrator shall grant such permission if he finds that the action was in good faith and not for the purpose of evading any provision of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on a daily basis.

No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.2007 Registration. (a) Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall file a written statement on the form provided therefor, containing such information as the Administrator shall require, to be known as a registration statement. Any maximum rent established after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation under paragraphs (b) or (c) of § 1388.2004 shall be reported either on the first registration statement or on a statement filed within 5 days after such rent is established.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

§ 1388.2008 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of a room and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the room by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.2009 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room, or otherwise.

§ 1388.2010 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.2011 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlord's petitions and tenant's applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.2012 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

LOADING PORT WARRANTY CARGO DISCHARGING PORT FREIGHT RATE INSPECTOR'S CERTIFICATE

1(a). The vessel, classed as aforesaid and to be so maintained during the currency of this charter, shall, with all convenient dispatch, proceed as ordered to Loading Port or so near thereunto as she may safely get (always afloat), and being tight, staunch and strong, and having all pipes, pumps and heater coils in good order, and being in every respect fitted for the voyage, so far as the foregoing conditions can be attained by the exercise of due diligence, perils of the sea and any other cause of whatsoever kind beyond the Owner's control excepted, shall load (always afloat) from the factors of the Charterer a full and complete cargo of Molasses in bulk, not exceeding what she can reasonably stow and carry over and above her tackle, apparel, stores and furniture (sufficient space to be left in the expansion tanks to provide for the expansion of the cargo), and being so loaded shall forthwith proceed, as ordered on signing Bills of Lading, to Discharging Port, or so near thereunto as she may safely get (always afloat), and deliver said cargo. The freight shall be at and after the rate stipulated in Part I hereof per American measured gallon of molasses, based on Bill of Lading quantity, adjustable on outturn gauge as shown in the Independent Inspectors Certificate of Gauge if cargo is free of duty, or Customs Certificate of Gauge if cargo is dutiable, a copy of certificate in either case to be furnished to Owner's agent by Charterer.

1(b). Freight payable. Full freight shall be irrevocably earned on cargo as loaded, vessel and/or cargo lost or not lost; payment to be made in United States Dollars to Owner's Agent at the Agent's place of business as follows:

90% on receipt of figures indicating Bill of Lading quantity shipped, notice of which shall be given promptly by Charterer to Owner's Agent; remainder on receipt of outturn gauge certificate; Bill of Lading quantity conclusive, if vessel and/or cargo lost.

The Owners will, upon completion of loading, order the vessel to sail to the discharging port, the Charterer in any case remaining liable to the Owner for all freight and charges, vessel and/or cargo lost or not lost.

1 (c). Advances. Cash shall be advanced by Charterer to the Master or Owner's Agents, if required, for ordinary disbursements at ports of loading and/or discharge at current rates of exchange.

2. Time for naming loading port. The Charterer shall name the loading port twenty-four (24) hours prior to the Vessel's readiness to sail from the last previous port of discharge, or from her bunkering port for the voyage, or upon signing this Charter if the Vessel has already sailed. Any extra expenses incurred by reason of the Charterer's delay in furnishing loading port orders shall be paid for by the Charterer, and any time thereby lost to the Vessel shall count as used lay time.

2 (a) Rotation of ports. Except as provided in Clause 14, if vessel loads at more than one port the ports shall be in geographical rotation either toward last loading port or toward the port of discharge.

3. Readiness and cancelling date. Lay time shall not commence before the readiness date stipulated in Part I hereof, except with the Charterer's sanction, and should the Vessel not be ready to load by 4:00 o'clock P. M. (local time) on the cancelling date stipulated in Part I hereof, the Charterer shall have the option of cancelling this Charter by giving Owner notice of such cancellation within twenty-four (24) hours after such cancellation date; otherwise this Charter to remain in full force and effect.

4. Notice of readiness. The Master or his representative shall give the Charterer or his agent at the ports of loading and discharge notice in writing during ordinary business hours that the Vessel is ready to load or discharge cargo, berth or no berth, and lay time shall commence upon the expiration of six (6) hours after receipt of such notice, or upon the Vessel's arrival in berth (i. e., finished mooring when at a sealoading or discharging terminal, and all fast when loading or discharging alongside a wharf), whichever first occurs: Provided, however, That where, because of routing instructions or other orders of the Owner over which the Charterer has no control, delay is caused to the Vessel for more than six (6) hours after notice of readiness is given, in waiting turn to load or discharge, lay time shall not commence until Vessel is berthed.

5. Hours for loading and discharging. Such number of running hours as are stipulated in Part I hereof shall be allowed the Charterer as lay time for loading and discharging cargo; but if the Vessel's condition or facilities do not admit of loading and discharging in the time allowed, then the additional time necessary therefor shall be included in lay time. If regulations of the Owner or port authorities prohibit loading or discharging of the cargo at night, time so lost shall not count as used lay time; if the Charterer, Shipper or Consignee prohibits loading or discharging at night, time so lost shall count as used lay time.

5 (a). If vessel loads at more than one port lay time shall commence at each additional port when Vessel passes over bar going in and count until Vessel passes over bar coming out. However, if the tide is suitable upon completion of loading and Vessel delays her sailing, time lost thereby shall not count as lay time. If, on completion of loading, tide is not favorable and Vessel does not sail at next favorable tide, time lost thereafter until time of sailing shall not count as lay time.

6 (a). Safe berth. The Vessel shall load and discharge at any safe place or wharf, or alongside vessels or lighters reachable on her arrival, which shall be designated and secured by the Charterer, any lighterage being at the expense, risk and peril of the Charterer, provided that the Vessel can proceed thereto, lie at, and depart therefrom always safely afloat. The Charterer shall have the right of shifting the Vessel at ports of loading and/or discharge from one safe berth to another on payment of all expenses incurred, except as stated in Clause 14 hereof. Time consumed on account of shifting shall count as used lay time, except as stated in Clause 14.

7. Pumping in and out. The cargo shall be pumped into the Vessel at the expense, risk and peril of the Charterer, and shall be pumped out of the Vessel at the expense of the Vessel, but at the risk and peril of the Vessel only so far as the Vessel's permanent hose connections, where delivery of the cargo shall be taken by the Charterer or its Consignee. The Vessel shall supply her pumps and the necessary steam for discharging in all ports where the regulations permit of fire on board, as well as necessary hands. Should regulations not permit fires on board, the Charterer or Consignee shall supply, at its expense, all steam necessary for discharging as well as loading, but the Owner shall pay for steam supplied to the Vessel for all other purposes. If cargo is loaded from lighters, the Vessel, if permitted to have fires on board, shall, if required, furnish steam to lighters at Charterer's expense for pumping cargo into the Vessel.

8. Hoses. Hoses for loading and discharging to be furnished by Charterer at its risk and expense.

9. Dead freight. Should the Charterer fail to supply a full cargo, the Vessel may, at the Master's option, and shall, upon request of the Charterer, proceed on her voyage, provided that the tanks in which cargo is loaded are sufficiently filled to put her in seaworthy condition. In that event, however dead freight shall be paid on the difference between the quantity loaded and the quantity the Vessel would have carried if loaded to her minimum permissible freeboard for the voyage.

10. Demurrage. Charterer shall pay demurrage per running hour and pro rata for a part thereof at the rate stipulated in Part I for all time that loading and discharging and used lay time as elsewhere herein provided exceeds the allowed lay time herein specified. If, however, demurrage shall be incurred at ports of loading and/or discharge because of fire or explosion in or about the plant, or because of breakdown of machinery of the Charterer, shipper, or consignee of the cargo, the rate of demurrage shall be reduced to one-half the rate stipulated in Part I hereof per running hour and pro rata of such reduced rate for part of an hour for demurrage so incurred.

11. Dues wharfage. Dues and other charges on the cargo shall be paid by the Charterer, and dues and other charges on the Vessel shall be paid by the Owner. The Vessel, however, shall always be free of wharfage, dockage, and quay dues.

12. Previous cargo. The last two successive cargoes carried, or to be carried, by the Vessel immediately preceding her entering upon this Charter consisted, or will consist, of cargoes as stipulated in Part I hereof.

13. Heating cargo. 48 hours before arrival at discharging berth, if required by Charterer, Vessel shall apply heat gradually to cargo so that on arrival at discharging berth cargo is heated to between 85° and 90° Fahrenheit at coils. If required by Charterer, after Vessel has arrived at discharging berth, Vessel shall increase temperature and maintain it to 100° Fahrenheit or over during discharge. Steam shall be supplied at Owner's expense.

14. Two ports counting as one. The following: Paulsboro and Philadelphia; Camden and Philadelphia; Antilla and Preston; Deseo and Guantanamo; and any two of the following: Bufadero, Nuevitas, Pastelillo and Puerto Tarafa; Guayabal, Manopla and Santa Cruz del Sur, shall be regarded as in one port, and all expenses incurred in shifting shall be for account of the Owner, except that any extra port charges by reason of calling at the second port in each group shall be for account of the Charterer. The order of ports in any of the foregoing groups shall be at the Charterer's option. Time consumed in shifting shall not count as used lay time.

15. Ice. In case port of loading or discharge should be inaccessible owing to ice, the Vessel shall direct her course according to Master's judgment, notifying by telegraph or radio, if available, the Charterer, Shipper or Consignee, who is bound to telegraph or radio orders for another port (at its option), which is free from ice, and where there are facilities for the loading or reception of Molasses in Bulk. The whole of the time occupied from the time the Vessel is diverted by reason of the ice until her arrival at an ice-free port of loading or discharge as the case may be shall be paid for by the Charterer at the rate stipulated in Part I hereof.

16. If on Vessel's arrival off the port of loading or discharge there is danger of the Vessel being frozen in, the Master shall communicate by telegraph or radio, if available, with the Charterer, Shipper or Consignee of the cargo, who shall telegraph or radio him in reply, giving orders to proceed to another port as per Clause 15, where there is no danger of ice and where there are the necessary facilities for the loading or reception of Molasses in bulk, or to remain at the original port at their risk, and in either case Charterer to pay for the time that the Vessel may be delayed, at the rate stipulated in Part I hereof.

17. Quarantine. Should the Charterer send the Vessel to any port or place where a quarantine exists, any delay thereby caused to the Vessel shall count as used lay time; but should the quarantine not be declared until the Vessel is on passage to such port, the Charterer shall not be liable for any resulting delay.

18. If the Vessel, prior to or after entering upon this Charter, has docked or docks at any wharf which is not rat-free or stegomyia-free, she shall, before proceeding to a rat free or stegomyia-free wharf, be fumigated by the Owner at his expense, except that if the Charterer ordered the Vessel to the infected wharf he shall bear the expenses of fumigation.

19. Cleaning. If requested by the Charterer the Vessel will steam the tanks, pipes and pumps of the Vessel or Butterworth en route to loading port and there pump water ballast and/or slops into shore tank or barge to be supplied by Charterer immediately on arrival. Any delay in furnishing these facilities shall count as used lay time. Any further cleaning, if required, shall be done by and at the expense of Charterer and time consumed shall count as used lay time. If Charterer does not require additional cleaning at port of loading Owner shall not be responsible for any damage caused to or contamination of cargo, by reason of failure to have the tanks properly cleaned for receiving the shipment. Except as may otherwise be indicated in Part I, the Vessel shall not be responsible for leakage, shrinkage, difference between reported intake and reported outturn, deterioration, discoloration, or change in quality of the cargo, nor for any consequences arising out of shipping more than one grade of cargo.

20 (a). Act of God, etc. The Vessel, her Master and Owner shall not, unless otherwise in this Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage, or delay or failure in performing hereunder, arising or resulting from:—any act, neglect, default or barratry of the Master, pilots, mariners or other servants of the Owner in the navigation or management of the Vessel; fire, unless caused by the personal design or neglect of the Owner; collision, stranding, or peril, danger or accident of the sea or other navigable waters; saving or attempting to save life or property; wastage in weight or bulk, or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality or vice of the cargo; any act or omission of the Charterer or Owner, Shipper or Consignee of the cargo, their agents or representatives; insufficiency of packing; insufficient or inadequacy of marks; explosion, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts, or any latent defect in hull, eqipment or machinery; unseaworthiness of the Vessel unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the Owner to make the Vessel seaworthy or to have her properly manned, equipped and supplied; or from any other cause of whatsoever kind arising without the actual fault or privity of the Owner. And neither the Vessel, her Master or Owner, nor the Charterer, shall, unless otherwise in this Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing hereunder, arising or resulting from:—Act of God; act of war; act of public enemies, pirates or assailing thieves; arrest or restraint of princes, rulers of people, or seizure under legal process provided bond is promptly furnished to release the Vessel or cargo; strike or lockout or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, either partial or general; or riot or civil commotion.

20 (b). Water ballast. Charges for handling, storing or disposing of water ballast at loading port to be for account of Charterer.

20 (c). Taxes. Any Habilitacion tax, customs overtime, and taxes on freight at loading or discharging ports, also any unusual taxes, assessment and governmental charges that are not presently in effect but in the future may be imposed on the vessel or freight are to be borne by Charterer.

21. Jason clause. In the event of accident, danger, damage, or disaster before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which the Owner is not responsible by statute, contract, or otherwise, the cargo shippers, consignees, or owners of the cargo shall contribute with the Owner in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the cargo. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the Owner, salvage shall be paid for as fully as if the salving ship or ships belong to strangers.

22. General average. General average shall be adjusted, stated and settled, according to Rules 1 to 15, inclusive, 17 to 22, inclusive, and Rule F of York-Antwerp Rules 1924, at such port or place in the United States as may be selected by the Owner, and as to matters not provided for by these Rules, according to the laws and usages at the port of New York. In such adjustment, disbursements in foreign currencies shall be exchanged into

[2] 7 F.R. 837.

United States money at the rate prevailing on the dates made and allowances for damage to cargo claimed in foreign currency shall be converted at the rate prevailing on the last day of discharge at the port or place of final discharge of such damaged cargo from the ship. Average agreement or bond and such additional security, as may be required by the Owner, must be furnished before delivery of the cargo. Such cash deposit as the Owner or his agents may deem sufficient as additional security for the contribution of the cargo and for any salvage and special charges thereon, shall, if required, be made by the cargo, shippers, consignees or owners of the cargo to the Owner before delivery. Such deposit shall, at the option of the Owner, be payable in United States money, and be remitted to the adjuster. When so remitted the deposit shall be held in a special account at the place of adjustment in the name of the adjuster pending settlement of the general average and refunds or credit balances, if any, shall be paid in United States money.

23. Deviation. The Vessel shall have liberty to call at any ports in any order, to sail with or without pilots, to tow or to be towed, to go to the assistance of vessels in distress, to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property or of landing any ill or injured person on board, and to call for fuel at any port or ports in or out of the regular course of the voyage. Any salvage shall be for the sole benefit of the Owner.

24. Bills of lading. Bills of Lading, in the form appearing below, for cargo shipped shall be signed by the Master as requested. Any Bill of Lading signed by the Master or Agent of the Owner shall be without prejudice to the terms, conditions and exceptions of this Charter. The Charterer hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Owner, the Master, and the Vessel from all consequences or liabilities that may arise from the Charterer or its agents, or the Master, signing bills of lading or other documents inconsistent with this Charter, or from any irregularity in papers supplied by the Charterer or its agents, or from complying with its or its agents' orders.

25. Clause paramount. All Bills of Lading issued hereunder shall have effect subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States, approved April 16, 1936, which shall be deemed to be incorporated therein, and nothing therein or herein contained shall be deemed a surrender by the Owner of any of its rights or immunities or an increase of any of its responsibilities or liabilities under said Act. If any term of any Bill of Lading issued hereunder be repugnant to said Act to any extent, such term shall be void to that extent but no further.

26. Both to blame. If the Vessel comes into collision with another ship as a result of the negligence of the other ship and any act, neglect or default of the master, mariner, pilot or the servants of the Owner in the navigation or in the management of the Vessel, the owners of the cargo carried hereunder will indemnify the Owner against all loss or liability to the other or non-carrying ship or her Owners insofar as such loss or liability represents loss of, or damage to, or any claim whatsoever of the owners of said cargo, paid or payable by the other or non-carrying ship or her Owners to the owners of said cargo and set off, recouped or recovered by the other or non-carrying ship or her Owners as part of their claim against the carrying ship or Owner. The foregoing provisions shall also apply where the Owners, operators or those in charge of any ship or ships or objects other than, or in addition to, the colliding ships or objects are at fault in respect of a collision or contact.

27. Lien. The Owner shall have an absolute lien on the cargo for all freight, dead freight, demurrage and costs, including attorney's fees, of recovering the same, which lien shall continue after delivery of the cargo into the possession of the Charterer, or of the holders of any Bills of Lading covering the same, or of any storageman.

28. Agents. The Owner shall appoint Vessel's agents at all ports.

29 (a). War clause. In any situation whatsoever and wheresoever occurring and whether existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the voyage, which in the judgment of the Owner or Master is likely to give rise to risk of capture, seizure, detention, damage, delay or disadvantage to or loss of the Vessel or any part of her cargo, or to make it unsafe, imprudent, or unlawful for any reason to commence or proceed on or continue the voyage or to enter or discharge the cargo at the port of discharge, or to give rise to delay or difficulty in arriving, discharging at or leaving the port of discharge or the usual place of discharge in such port, the Owner may before loading or before the commencement of the voyage, require the shipper or other person entitled thereto to take delivery of the cargo at port of shipment and upon their failure to do so, may warehouse the cargo at the risk and expense of the cargo; or the Owner or Master, whether or not proceeding toward or entering or attempting to enter the port of discharge or reaching or attempting to reach the usual place of discharge therein or attempting to discharge the cargo there, may discharge the cargo into depot, lazarette, craft or other place; or the Vessel may proceed or return, directly or indirectly, to or stop at any such port or place whatsoever as the Master or the Owner may consider safe or advisable under the circumstances, and discharge the cargo, or any part thereof, at any such port or place; or the Owner or the Master may retain the cargo on board until the return trip or until such time as the Owner or the Master thinks advisable and discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever as herein provided or the Owner or the Master may discharge and forward the cargo by any means at the risk and expense of the cargo. The Owner or the Master is not required to give notice of discharge of the cargo, or the forwarding thereof as herein provided. When the cargo is discharged from the Vessel, as herein provided, it shall be at its own risk and expense; such discharge shall constitute complete delivery and performance under this contract and the Owner shall be freed from any further responsibility. For any service rendered to the cargo as herein provided, the Owner shall be entitled to a reasonable extra compensation.

29 (b). The Owner, Master and Vessel shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, route, ports of call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, or by any committee or person having, under the terms of the war risk insurance on the Vessel, the right to give such orders or directions. Delivery or other disposition of the cargo in accordance with such orders or directions shall be a fulfillment of the contract voyage. The Vessel may carry contraband, explosives, munitions, warlike stores, hazardous cargo, and may sail armed or unarmed and with or without convoy.

29 (c). In addition to all other liberties herein the Owner shall have the right to withhold delivery of, reship to, deposit or discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever, surrender or dispose of the cargo in accordance with any direction, condition or agreement imposed upon or exacted from the Owner by any government or department thereof or any person purporting to act with the authority of either of them. In any of the above circumstances the cargo shall be solely at their risk and expense and all expenses and charges so incurred shall be payable by the owner or consignee thereof and shall be a lien on the cargo.

30. Priority. All agreements of the Owner contained in this Charter Party shall be subject to any orders or instructions of priority or requisition issued by the United States Government or the Government of the flag of the Vessel or any agencies thereof, or the requirements or naval or military authorities or other Agencies of Government.

31. Limitation of liability. Any provision of this Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, the Owner shall have the benefit of all limitations of, and exemptions from, liability accorded to the Owner or Chartered Owner of vessels by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force.

32. Approval. The voyage under this Charter is subject to the approval of the War Shipping Administration and any conditions imposed by said Administration pursuant to the Ship Warrants Act (Public Law 173, 77th Congress).

33. Assignment. Subject to the approval of War Shipping Administration, the Charterer shall have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter to any individual or company, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfillment of this Charter in all its terms and conditions.

34. Breach. Damages for breach of this Charter shall include all provable damages, and all costs of suit and attorney fees incurred in any action hereunder.

35. Members of Congress. No member of or delegate to the Congress, nor Resident Commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except as provided in Section 116 of the Act approved March 4, 1909.

36. Definition of "Owner". Wherever the word "Owner" appears herein same shall be deemed to include a Time Charterer, Demise Charterer, or a Requisition Charterer or user.

37. This Charter Party consists of this Part II and of Part I on the reverse hereof. Unless in this Part II otherwise provided, all of the provisions of said Part I shall be part of this Charter Party as though fully incorporated herein. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Part II and those of Part I, the provisions of Part I shall govern to the extent of such conflict.

§ 31.11 Liquidation or prepayment fees. A prepayment fee is collected from land bank borrowers in those cases where payments in full arise from the refinancing of the loan from a non-Government lending source and where the loan has been in force for less than five years.

Full payments on loans during the first five years the loans are in force are exempt from prepayment fees to the extent of 20 per cent of the original amount per year. On any amount in excess of the 20 per cent per year a prepayment fee of one-half of one per cent per annum for the unexpired portion of the five year period is charged. The 20 per cent per year permitted without prepayment fee may be accumulated from year to year in such a manner that the entire loan may be paid off before the expiration of the five year period without penalty.

Where the funds remitted for prepayment of a loan are in excess of the 20 per cent per year allowed and where they were not obtained from the refinancing of the loan from a non-Government lending source, a certification to that effect is to accompany the remittance to the Bank in order to insure that the prepayment fee will not be charged. (Sec. 12 "Second", 39 Stat. 370, as amended, 12 U.S.C. 771 "Second"; 6 CFR 10.386.) (Res. Ex. Com., May 26, 1942.)

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration

[Docket No. FDC-37]

PART 36—SHELLFISH: DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY; QUALITY AND FILL OF CONTAINER

STANDARDS OF FILL OF CONTAINER FOR CANNED WET PACK SHRIMP AND CANNED DRY PACK SHRIMP, IN NONTRANSPARENT CONTAINERS

Final Order

By virtue of authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 52 Stat. 1046, 1047, and 1055, 21 U.S.C. secs. 341, 343 (h) (2), and 371; the Reorganization Act of 1939, 53 Stat. 561 ff., 5 U.S.C. sec. 133–133r; and Reorganization Plans No. 1 (53 Stat. 1423, 4 F.R. 2727) and No. IV (5 F.R. 2421); and upon the basis of evidence received at the hearing herein; the following order is promulgated hereby:

Findings of Fact

1. Since October 1918 shrimp canners have been operating, so far as standards of fill of container are concerned, on the basis of Item 297 of the United States Department of Agriculture Service and Regulatory Announcements, Chemistry 23, issued October 9, 1918. The item, in part, follows:

297. Weights of Shrimp in Cans of Various Sizes. After consideration of what constitutes proper fill in case of canned shrimp, the bureau is of the opinion that canned shrimp properly packed should contain not less than the following "cut-out" weights of shrimp:

DRY-PACK SHRIMP

Size of can (No.)	Diameter	Height	"Cut-out" weight of shrimp
	Inches	Inches	Ounces
1	$2^{11}/_{16}$	4	5
1½	Sanitary, $3^{5}/_{16}$	$3^{13}/_{16}$	$8^{1}/_{4}$
	Hole and cap, $3^{3}/_{16}$

WET-PACK SHRIMP

1	$2^{11}/_{16}$	4	$5^{3}/_{4}$
1½	Sanitary, $3^{5}/_{16}$	$3^{13}/_{16}$	$9^{3}/_{4}$

• • • • •

In connection with the canning of shrimp attention is directed to the requirements of Food Inspection Decision 144, that cans should be as full of food as practicable for packing and processing without injuring the quality or appearance of the contents. In the case of food packed with water, brine, etc., the cans should be as full as possible of food and should contain only sufficient liquor to fill the interstices and cover the product. The weights indicated above have been obtained by the bureau after examination of experimental packs of canned shrimp which have been put up in connection with the study of Food Inspection Decision 144.

2. This announcement was made to facilitate the enforcement of the Federal Food and Drugs Act of 1906.

3. In terms of percentages, the item required minimum cut-out weights of 46 percent of the water capacity of the cans for dry pack shrimp and of 53 percent to 55 percent of such capacity for wet pack shrimp.

4. Packers of canned shrimp have uniformly observed the requirements of this announcement and have also adopted the practice of filling cans of sizes which were not listed in the announcement to the same relative proportions, for both dry and wet pack, as those required by the announcement.

5. Cans of shrimp, both wet pack and dry pack, when filled to the minima prescribed by the Service and Regulatory Announcement and to the minima adopted by canners for other can sizes, contain a smaller quantity of shrimp than consumers expect from the size of the can. The percentage of fill is much below that found in other canned foods.

6. It is entirely practicable to pack considerably more shrimp in the cans than is packed under the announcement.

7. It is entirely practicable under existing cannery practice to pack canned shrimp in such manner that the cut-out weight of shrimp taken from each can prepared by the wet pack process will be at least 64 percent of the water capacity of the container and the cut-out weight of shrimp taken from each can prepared by the dry pack process will be at least 60 percent of the water capacity of the container.

8. Standards of fill of container for canned shrimp requiring that each can prepared by the wet pack process be so packed that the drained weight of shrimp taken therefrom will be at least 64 percent of the water capacity of the can and that each can prepared by the dry pack process be so packed that the cut-out weight of shrimp taken therefrom will be at least 60 percent of the water capacity of the can will assure consumers that the containers are not slack filled and are no larger than necessary for the food packed therein.

9. Such standards of fill of container would operate equally well regardless of the size of the shrimp units packed.

10. Standards of fill of container making such requirements can be met in the regular commercial practice, without encountering any difficulties in the packing process and without damage to the units packed. Such fills as would be required by such standards would give no greater difficulty in packing than is common with many other packs of canned food, even with canned shrimp as presently packed. The only possible difficulty that would arise under such standards is a labeling difficulty with respect to the dry pack shrimp in a number one standard tin can noticed in finding 13.

11. These standards would not require that the cans be filled to absolute capacity. To fill the cans to the maximum possible capacity would require that each shrimp be carefully fitted into place in the cans by hand. This would require an inordinate expenditure of time and would probably increase the price paid by the consumer for canned shrimp.

12. Standards of fill of container for canned shrimp in terms of percentage of water capacity of containers rather than in terms of ounces per can are generally more satisfactory, with the exception noted in finding 13, because they would encompass any size of can that may be used, including sizes not often used but which should be covered by the standard.

13. Water capacity of the standard can varies slightly from can to can dependent upon the profile ring used in can manufacture and the setting of the chucks in the double seamer used by the packer. Average figures for water capacity of the number one standard tin can, the container most commonly used in the shrimp canning industry, have been calculated at 10.90 and others at 10.94, avoirdupois ounces. If these average figures for water capacity of the number one standard tin can were used and if the standard of fill of container for dry pack canned shrimp were set at 60 percent of the water capacity of such can, the number one standard tin can would contain a minimum cut-out weight of 6.54 or 6.56 ounces of shrimp. The standard so fixed to apply to the number one standard tin can would likely result in labeling difficulties since decimal portions of ounces are not generally used in labeling, and since it would not be practicable to pack to the next commonly used fractional portion of the ounce above 6.54 or 6.56 ounces. In view of the labeling difficulty that might arise from the standard as proposed as applied to dry pack canned shrimp in the number one standard tin can, it is reasonable to fix the minimum fill for such can in terms of avoirdupois ounces. Such standard, which would accomplish the same purpose as the general requirements referred to in finding 7 and which would be approximately equivalent to such requirements, is one requiring that the cut-out weight of shrimp taken from each number one can prepared by the dry pack process be at least 6½ avoirdupois ounces.

14. Some of the cans used for dry pack canned shrimp have, in the past, had paper liners inserted for the prevention of the undesirable black spots caused by the shrimp touching the sides of the cans with the resultant formation of dark colored sulfides. The liners do not affect the standard of fill of container, however, since the space a liner occupies in a can is insignificant.

15. The difference in cut-out weights of wet pack and dry pack shrimp is due to the fact that the wet pack shrimp tends to gain weight by absorbing some of the can brine used as a liquid packing medium whereas the dry pack shrimp tends to lose weight due to the cooking out of moisture during heat processing.

16. All members of the shrimp canning industry use cut-out weight as a basis for standardizing their own fill of container. The fill of container of canned shrimp is equitably gauged by the cut-out weight of the finished canned shrimp. Put-in weight would not be an appropriate basis for standardizing the fill because the amount of water present in the shrimp going into the can varies considerably with different manufacturing procedures, and these variations are largely equalized by the final heat processing of the cans to prevent spoilage—the shrimp subjected to more severe brine treatment taking up more moisture in the can.

17. Canned shrimp filled to the minima set forth in findings 7 and 13 can be heat-processed to prevent spoilage without impairing the shrimp or in any way resulting in an unsatisfactory product.

18. A satisfactory and accurate method for determining the cut-out weight of canned shrimp is as follows: Keep the unopened canned shrimp container at a temperature of not less than 68° nor more than 95° Fahrenheit for at least 12 hours immediately preceding the determination. After opening, tilt the container so as to distribute its contents evenly over the meshes of a circular sieve which has been previously weighed. The diameter of the sieve is 8 inches if the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 3 pounds and 12 inches if such quantity is 3 pounds or more. The bottom of the sieve is woven-wire cloth which complies with the specifications for such cloth set forth under "2380 Micron (No. 8)" in Table I of "Standard Specifications for Sieves", published March 1, 1940, in L. C. 584 of the U. S. Department of Commerce, National Bureau of Standards. Without shifting the material on this sieve, so incline the sieve as to facilitate drainage. Two minutes from the time drainage begins, weigh the sieve and the drained shrimp. The weight so found, less the weight of the sieve, is considered to be the weight of the drained shrimp.

19. A satisfactory and accurate method for determining the water capacity of containers is that set forth in § 10.1 (a) of this Chapter [§ 10.010 (a), 4 F.R. 3320]

20. When canned shrimp falls below the standard of fill of container, a label statement which is satisfactory and which fairly informs the consumer of that fact is the general statement of substandard fill specified in § 10.2 (b) of this Chapter [§ 10.020 (b), 4 F.R. 3320] in the manner and form therein specified.

On the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, it is concluded that the following regulation fixing and establishing standards of fill of container for canned wet pack shrimp and canned dry pack shrimp in nontransparent containers will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers:

§ 36.3 Canned wet pack shrimp and canned dry pack shrimp in nontransparent containers—fill of containers: label statement of substandard fill. (a) The standard of fill of nontransparent containers for canned wet pack shrimp is a fill such that the cut-out weight of shrimp taken from each can is not less than 64 percent of the water capacity of the container, and, for canned dry pack shrimp (except that packed in the nontransparent cylindrical container which is $2^{11}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and 4 inches in height), is a fill such that the cut-out weight of shrimp taken from each can is not less than 60 percent of the water capacity of the container. The standard of fill for canned dry pack shrimp packed in the nontransparent cylindrical container which is $2^{11}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and 4 inches in height is a cut-out weight of not less than 6½ avoirdupois ounces of shrimp for each container. Water capacity of containers is determined by the general method provided in § 10.1 (a) of this chapter [4 F.R. 3320, § 10.010 (a)] Cut-out weight is determined by the following method:

Keep the unopened canned shrimp container at a temperature of not less than 68° nor more than 95° Fahrenheit for at least 12 hours immediately preceding the determination. After opening, tilt the container so as to distribute the shrimp evenly over the meshes of a circular sieve which has been previously weighed. The diameter of the sieve is 8 inches if the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 3 pounds, and 12 inches if such quantity is 3 pounds or more. The bottom of the sieve is woven-wire cloth which complies with the specifications for such cloth set forth under "2380 Micron (No. 8)" in Table 1 of "Standard Specifications for Sieves", published March 1, 1940, in L. C. 584 of the U. S. Department of Commerce, National Bureau of Standards. Without shifting the material on the sieve, so incline the sieve as to facilitate drainage. Two minutes from the time drainage begins, weigh the sieve and the drained shrimp. The weight so found, less the weight of the sieve, shall be considered to be the cut-out weight of the shrimp.

(b) If canned wet pack shrimp or canned dry pack shrimp, in nontransparent containers, falls below the applicable standard of fill of container prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, the label shall bear the general statement of substandard fill provided in § 10. 2(b) of this Chapter [4 F.R. 3320, § 10.020 (b)], in the manner and form therein specified. (52 Stat. 1046, 1047; 53 Stat. 561, ff.; 21 U.S.C. secs. 341, 343 (h) (2); 5 U.S.C. Sec. 133–133r; and Reorganization Plans Nos. I and IV. 4 F. R. 2727, 5 F.R. 2421)

Finding of No Controversy and of Existence of Emergency Conditions

It is hereby found that no controversy with respect to the subject of the hearing exists between the persons who appeared at the hearing, and that issuance of a final order without prior issuance of a proposed order will promote the purposes of the Act.

It is further found that the standards prescribed by the foregoing regulation specify fills of container which are about 30 percent greater in the case of dry pack shrimp, and about 20 percent greater in the case of wet pack shrimp, than the fills now generally used; that tin plate is used in making nontransparent containers for canned shrimp and for many other canned foods produced in great quantity; that, due to war conditions there exists a shortage of tin plate so serious as to constitute a condition of emergency, which makes imperative the efficient utilization of available supplies so as to meet as nearly as possible consumers needs for canned foods; that the annual packing season for canned shrimp closes about July 15 and a new packing season begins about August 1; and that this emergency necessitates that this order become effective not later than the beginning of the next shrimp packing season.

It is therefore ordered that this order become effective on August 1, 1942.

PART 155—CANNED SHRIMP

REGULATIONS FOR THE INSPECTION OF CANNED SHRIMP

Under the authority of section 10A of the Federal Food and Drugs Act (49 Stat. 871; 21 U.S.C. 14a), which remains in force and effect and is applicable to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040 et seq.; 21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), and by virtue of the Reorganization Act of 1939 (5 U.S.C. 133), and Reorganization Plan IV,[1] the following regulations for the inspection of canned shrimp, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 17, 1941,[2] are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 155.00 Application for inspection service. (a) Applications for inspection service on canned shrimp under the provisions of section 10A of the Federal Food and Drugs Act (which remains in force and effect and is applicable to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act) shall be on forms supplied by the Food and Drug Administration. No application for an initial inspection period filed with the Food and Drug Administration after June 1, preceding such period in any year, shall be considered unless the applicant shows substantial cause for failure to file such application on or before June 1 of such year. A separate application shall be made for each inspection period in each establishment in which the service is applied for. Each application for an initial inspection period shall be accompanied by an advance deposit of $150, as prescribed by § 155.12 (b). Such deposit shall be paid in the manner prescribed by § 155.12 (e).

(b) An application by two or more packers for inspection service in one establishment to be jointly or severally operated by them shall be accompanied by an agreement signed by such packers binding each to be jointly and severally liable for the payment of all fees and deposits required for such establishment by § 155.12.

§ 155.01 Granting or refusing inspection service; cancellation of application. (a) The Administrator of the Federal Security Agency may grant the inspection service applied for when he determines that the establishment covered by such application complies with the requirements of § 155.05.

(b) The Administrator may refuse to grant the inspection service at any establishment for cause. In case of refusal he shall notify the applicant of the reason therefor and shall return to such applicant the payment which accompanied the application, less any expenses incurred by the Administration for preliminary inspection of the establishment, or for other purposes incident to such application.

(c) The applicant, by giving written notice to the Administrator, may withdraw his application for inspection service before an inspector is assigned to the establishment. In case of such withdrawal, the Administrator shall return to such applicant the payment which accompanied the application, less any expenses incurred by the Administration for preliminary inspection of the establishment, or for other purposes incident to such application.

§ 155.02 Inspection periods. (a) The initial inspection period in each establishment in which inspection service under these regulations is granted shall be nine months. Extension inspection periods, each of which shall begin at the close of the preceding inspection period, may be granted in such establishment if application therefor, accompanied by a deposit of $100 as prescribed by § 155.12, is made at least two weeks in advance of the close of such preceding inspection period: Provided, That upon request by the packer and with the approval of the Administration, such service during any inspection period may be transferred from one establishment to another to be operated by the same packer; but such transfer shall not serve to lengthen any inspection period or to take the place of an extension inspection period. In case of such transfer the packer shall furnish all necessary transportation of inspectors.

(b) Each initial inspection period shall begin on or after July 1, but not later than September 15, of each year. No initial or extension inspection period shall extend beyond June 30 of any year.

(c) The date of the beginning of each initial inspection period shall be regarded as the date specified for the beginning of the service in the application therefor, or such other date as may be specified by amendment to such application and approved by the Administration; but if the Administrator is not prepared to begin the service on the specified date, the date of the beginning of such period shall be regarded as the date on which the service is begun.

(d) Inspection service shall be continuous throughout the inspection periods, except that, where the canning of shrimp is suspended as a result of the enforcement of State conservation laws, the inspection service may be withdrawn for the period of suspension or any part thereof. An inspection period in which such a withdrawal occurs shall be lengthened to compensate for the time of withdrawal.

§ 155.03 Assignment of inspectors. (a) An initial assignment of at least one inspector shall be made to each establishment in which inspection service under these regulations is granted. Thereafter the Administration shall adjust the number of inspectors assigned to each establishment to the number required for continuous and efficient inspection.

(b) Any inspector of the Administration shall have free access at all times to all parts of the establishment and to all fishing and freight boats and other conveyances catching shrimp for, or transporting shrimp to, such establishment.

§ 155.04 Uninspected shrimp excluded from inspected establishments. (a) No establishment to which inspection service on canned shrimp has been granted shall at any time thereafter can shrimp which has not been inspected under these regulations, or handle or store in such establishment any canned shrimp which has not been so inspected; but this paragraph shall not apply to an establishment after termination of inspection service therein as authorized by § 155.13.

(b) All shrimp delivered to or held in an establishment shall be subject to inspection, but certificates of inspection shall be issued under these regulations only on canned shrimp.

(b) Picking and packing rooms shall be separate, and fixtures and equipment thereof shall be so constructed and arranged as to permit thorough cleaning. Such rooms shall be adequately lighted and ventilated, and the floors thereof shall be tight and arranged for thorough cleaning and proper drainage. Blanching tanks shall not be located in picking room. Open drains from picking room shall not enter packing or blanching room. If picking and packing rooms are in separate buildings, such buildings shall not be more than 100 yards apart unless adequate provisions are made to enable efficient inspection.

(c) All surfaces of tanks, belts, tables, flumes, utensils, and other equipment with which either picked or unpicked shrimp come in contact after delivery to the establishment, shall be of metal other than lead, or of other nonporous and easily cleanable material. Metal seams shall be smoothly soldered.

(d) Adequate supplies of steam and of clean, unpolluted running water shall be provided for washing, cleaning, and otherwise maintaining the establishment in a sanitary condition.

(j) Suitable containers, flumes, chutes, or conveyors shall be provided for removal of offal from picking room.

(k) Picking tables shall be equipped with flumes supplied with clean, unpolluted water for removing the picked shrimp.

(l) Equipment shall be provided for code marking cans or other immediate containers.

For steam cook such thermometers shall be installed either within a fitting attached to the shell of the retort or within the door or shell of the retort. For water cook such thermometers shall be installed in the door or shell of the retort below the water level. If the thermometer is installed within a fitting such fitting shall communicate with the chamber of the retort through an opening at least 1 inch in diameter. Such fitting shall be equipped with a bleeder at least ⅛ inch in diameter. If the thermometer is installed within the door or shell of the retort the bulb shall project at least two-thirds of its length into the principal chamber thereof.

(3) A recording thermometer of a range from 170° F. to 270° F. with scale divisions not greater than 2°. The bulb of such thermometer shall be installed as prescribed for the indicating mercury thermometer. (6) For steam cook, a ⅛ inch bleeder in top of retort.

(7) For steam cook, a baffle plate in the base of retort, unless retort baskets with perforated base plates are provided.

§ 155.06 General operating conditions. (a) The decks and holds of boats catching shrimp for, or transporting shrimp to, an inspected establishment, and the bodies of other conveyances so transporting shrimp shall be kept in a sanitary condition. When necessary the shrimp shall be iced down immediately after they are caught and shall be kept adequately refrigerated until delivery to cannery.

(b) Canneries, cannery freight boats, and other cannery conveyances shall accept only fresh, clean, sound shrimp.

(c) After delivery of each load of shrimp to the cannery, decks and holds of each boat and the body of each other conveyance making such delivery shall be washed down with clean, unpolluted water and all debris shall be cleaned therefrom before such boat or other conveyance leaves the cannery premises.

(d) Before picking the shrimp shall be washed with clean, unpolluted water and then passed over the inspection belt and culled to remove all shrimp that are filthy, decomposed, putrid, or otherwise unfit for food, and all extraneous material.

(e) Offal from picking tables shall not be piled on the floor, but shall be placed in suitable containers for frequent removal, or shall be removed by flumes, conveyors, or chutes.

(f) Shrimp shall not be picked into cups but shall be picked into flumes which immediately remove the picked meats from the picking tables.

(g) Picked shrimp being transported from one building to another before enclosure in the can or other immediate container shall be properly covered and protected against contamination.

(h) From the time of delivery to the cannery up to the time of final processing, shrimp shall be handled expeditiously and under such conditions as to prevent contamination or spoilage.

(i) The packer shall immediately destroy for food purposes all shrimp in his possession condemned by the inspector as filthy, decomposed, putrid, or otherwise unfit for food. Shrimp condemned on boat or unloading platform shall not be taken into the ice box or picking room.

(j) All portions of the establishment shall be adequately lighted to enable the inspector to perform his duties properly.

(k) All floors and other parts of the establishment, including unloading platforms, and all fixtures, equipment, and utensils shall be cleaned as often as may be necessary to maintain them in sanitary condition.

(l) The packer shall require all employes handling shrimp to wash their hands after each absence from post of duty.

(m) The packer shall require all employees to observe proper habits of cleanliness, and shall not knowingly employ in or about the establishment any person afflicted with infectious or contagious disease.

(n) Offal, debris, or refuse from any source whatever, shall not be allowed to accumulate in or about the establishment.

§ 155.07 Code marking. (a) Code marks shall be affixed to all cans and other immediate containers before they are placed in the processing retorts. Such marks shall show at least (1) the date of packing, (2) the establishment where packed, and (3) the size of the shrimp when such shrimp were graded for size and are not in containers through which they are clearly visible.

(b) Keys to all code marks shall be given to the inspector.

(c) Each lot shall be stored separately pending final inspection. For the purposes of the regulations in this part all cans or other immediate containers bearing the same code mark shall be regarded as comprising a lot.

§ 155.08 Processing. (a) The closure of the can or other immediate container and the time and temperature of processing the canned shrimp shall be adequate to prevent bacterial spoilage.

(b) The following processes shall be the minimum employed for the containers indicated:

(c) For steam cook, blow-off vent shall be open during the coming-up period until the mercury thermometer registers at least 215° F. Bleeders shall emit steam during the entire processing period.

(d) The inspector shall identify each record on the thermometer chart with the code mark of the lot to which such record relates and the date of such record. The Administration shall keep such charts for at least five years, and upon request shall make them available to the packer.

(e) The packer shall keep for at least one year all shipping records covering shipments from each lot, and upon request shall furnish such records to any inspector of the Administration.

§ 155.09 Examination after canning. (a) Adequate samples shall be drawn by the inspector from each lot of canned shrimp and shall be examined to determine whether or not such canned shrimp conforms to all requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder.

(b) The packer shall destroy for food purposes, under the immediate supervision of the inspector, all canned shrimp condemned by the inspector as not complying with § 155.08 (a), or as filthy, decomposed, putrid, or otherwise unfit for food.

§ 155.10 Labeling. (a) Labels on canned shrimp covered by a certificate issued as authorized by § 155.11 (a) shall bear the mark "Production Supervised by U. S. Food and Drug Administration." Such mark shall be plainly and conspicuously displayed in type of uniform size and style on a strongly contrasting uniform background; and shall appear on the principal panel or panels of the label so as to be easily observable in connection with the name of the article.

(b) Two proofs, or one proof and one photostat thereof, or eight specimens of all labeling intended for use on inspected canned shrimp or on or within the cases therefor, shall be submitted to the Administration for approval. If proofs or photostat and proof are submitted, eight specimens of the labeling shall be sent to the Administration after printing. The Administration is hereby authorized to approve labeling for use on or with canned shrimp inspected under these regulations; approval shall be subject to the condition that such labeling shall be so used as to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder. The Administration is also authorized hereby to revoke any such approval for cause. The Administration shall not approve labeling for canned shrimp intended for export under the provisions of § 155.11 (e).

(c) No commercial brand or brand name appearing on labeling approved as authorized under paragraph (b) of this section, and no labeling simulating any such approved labeling, shall be used after such approval on canned shrimp other than that which has been handled, prepared, and packed in compliance with all provisions of these regulations; but this subsection shall not apply to any packer's labeling after termination of inspection as authorized by § 155.13, or to any distributor's labeling after three months' written notice by the owner thereof to the Administration that the use of such labeling on inspected canned shrimp has been discontinued and will not be resumed.

§ 155.11 Certificates of inspection; warehousing and export permits. (a) After finding that the canned shrimp comprising any parcel (1) has been handled, prepared, and packed in compliance with all provisions of these regulations, (2) bears labeling approved as authorized under § 155.10 (b), and (3) complies with all the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder, the inspector shall issue a certificate showing that such canned shrimp so complies. The certificate shall specify the code marks to which it applies, the quantity of the parcel so marked, the place where such parcel is stored, the size of the shrimp, the size and kind of containers, the type of pack, the commercial brand name on the labels, the quality grade of the shrimp if it is fancy, and the condition of the shrimp if it is broken. Such certificate shall become void if such labeling is removed, altered, obliterated, or replaced; but such canned shrimp may be relabeled under the supervision of an inspector and recertified if the inspector finds that, after being relabeled, it complies with the requirements laid down by this paragraph for the issuance of a certificate.

(b) Unless covered by certificate, canned shrimp shall be moved from an inspected establishment only for storage authorized under paragraph (c) of this section, or export authorized under paragraph (e) of this section, or for destruction as provided by § 155.09 (b).

(c) Applications to move unlabeled canned shrimp from storage in a warehouse elsewhere than in the establishment where such shrimp was packed shall be on forms supplied by the Administration. The application shall give the name and location of the warehouse in which such canned shrimp is to be stored, and shall be accompanied by an agreement signed by the operator of such warehouse that inspectors shall have free access at all times to all canned shrimp so stored, and that conditions which will preserve the identity of each parcel of such canned shrimp shall be continuously maintained pending issuance of a certificate thereon or removal as authorized by paragraph (d) of this section. If such application is approved and it appears to the inspector that the canned shrimp comprising any parcel (1) has been packed in compliance with these regulations, (2) is not slack filled, and (3) conforms, except for the absence of labeling, to all requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder, the inspector shall issue to the applicant, on his request, a warehousing permit covering such canned shrimp. Such permit shall specify the code marks to which it applies, the quantity of the parcel so marked, the places from and to which such parcel is to be moved, the size of the shrimp, the size and kind of containers, the type of pack, and the quality grade of the shrimp if it is fancy, and the condition of the shrimp if it is broken. When any provision of the agreement is violated the Administration may revoke any permit issued pursuant to such agreement, and may also revoke its approval of the application for warehousing which accompanied such agreement.

(d) Unless covered by certificate, canned shrimp stored under the authority of paragraph (c) of this section shall be moved from the warehouse where stored only for restorage under such authority, or for return upon written permission of the inspector to the establishment where packed, or for export authorized under paragraph (e) of this section, or for destruction as provided by § 155.09 (b).

(e) Section 801 (d) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act provides that a food intended for export shall not be deemed to be adulterated or misbranded under the Act if it (1) accords to the specifications of the foreign purchaser, (2) is not in conflict with the laws of the country to which it is intended for export, and (3) is labeled on the outside of the shipping package to show that it is intended for export. An application to export canned shrimp under the provisions of section 801 (d) of the Act shall be accompanied by the original or a verified copy of the specifications of the foreign purchaser; if so required by the Administration, evidence showing that such canned shrimp is not in conflict with the laws of the country to which it is intended for export; and, if shipment of labeled canned shrimp is specified or directed, eight specimens of the labeling therefor. If canned shrimp prepared or packed according to such specifications is not in conflict with the laws of such country, the Administration shall direct the inspector to issue to the applicant an export permit covering such canned shrimp comprising any parcel ordered by such purchaser under such specifications, when the inspector finds that such canned shrimp was packed in compliance with the requirements of these regulations regarding sanitary conditions and processing, is not filthy, decomposed, putrid, or otherwise unfit for food, accords to such specifications, and is labeled on the outside of the shipping package to show that it is intended for export. Such permit shall specify the code marks to which it applies and the quantity of the parcel so marked, and shall show that such canned shrimp was packed under sanitary conditions, is wholesome, and accords to such specifications. The applicant shall furnish to the inspector documentary evidence showing the exportation of all such canned shrimp. Canned shrimp intended for export under this subsection shall not be stored in any warehouse in the United States elsewhere than in the establishment where such canned shrimp was prepared or packed, except on written permission of the inspector, or of the chief of the Food and Drug Administration Station within whose territory such warehouse is located.

§ 155.12 Inspection fees. (a) Except as otherwise provided by these regulations, the fee prescribed for inspection service shall be four (4) cents for each case of canned shrimp packed under such service. For the purpose of this section a case of canned shrimp shall be 48 No. 1 cans (211 x 400) or the equivalent thereof. The sum of not less than $200 shall be paid at the beginning of the initial inspection period, and thereafter similar advance deposits shall be made whenever necessary to prevent arrears in the payment of fees, unless the Administration on an estimate of output authorizes payment in other amounts. Any excess advance deposits so made for the fiscal year shall be returned to the packer by the Administration after the inspection service is closed in the establishment.

(b) In addition to the fee prescribed by paragraph (a) of this section, an advance deposit of $100 multiplied by the number of months of the inspection period shall be paid for each inspection period in each establishment as follows: Each application for an initial inspection period shall be accompanied by an advance deposit of $150, and subsequent deposits of $150 shall be made at monthly intervals from the date of the beginning of such period as defined in § 155.02 (c) until the total amount of the deposit for the initial inspection period shall have been made. Each application for an extension inspection period shall be accompanied by a deposit of $100, and at subsequent monthly intervals thereafter additional deposits of $100 shall be made; but if the final deposit is to cover a time of less than 30 days, then such deposit shall be at the rate of $3⅓ for each day of such time. Advance deposits made under this subsection shall be charged with the cost of the inspection service which has not been provided for by fees under paragraph (a) of this section and any appropriations made by Congress for such purpose. The deposits by each packer shall be so charged in the same ratio to the total deposits as the number of months of inspection service rendered in such packer's establishment bears to the total number of months of inspection service rendered in all establishments. The balance remaining after such charges have been made shall be returned by the Administration to the packers at the end of the fiscal year. When inspection service is withdrawn from an establishment as authorized by § 155.13 (a), the Administration shall not return to the packer any of the advance deposits made for such establishments; and such deposits shall be charged with the cost incurred and the balance transferred into the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt. Such deposits shall not be included in the total deposits when computing charges against such total deposits.

(c) A separate fee shall be paid to cover all expenses, incurred in accordance with the regulations of the Government, for salary, travel, subsistence, and other purposes incident to inspection for the purpose of issuing a certificate or warehousing or export permit on canned shrimp stored or held at any place at which a sea food inspector is not assigned.

(d) When the cannery and the cannery warehouse of an establishment are located at different points of such distance apart that transportation between them is required for the inspector to perform his duties in the establishment, the packer shall furnish such transportation or shall pay an extra fee to cover all expenses therefor.

(e) All payments required by the regulations in this part shall be by bank draft or certified check, collectible at par, drawn to the order of the Treasurer, United States, and payable at Washington, D. C. All such drafts and checks, except those for the payment required by § 155.00, shall be delivered to the inspector and promptly scheduled to the Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency, Washington, D. C., whereupon after making appropriate records thereof they will be endorsed and transmitted to the Chief Disbursing Officer, Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department, for deposit to the receipt account "128013 Deposits, Sea Food Inspection Fees, Food and Drug Administration."

(f) Refunds to the packers making advance deposits will be by check drawn on the Treasury of the United States pursuant to refund vouchers duly certified and approved by the designated administrative officers.

§ 155.13 Suspension, withdrawal, and termination of inspection service. (a) The Administration may suspend and the Administrator may withdraw inspection service in any establishment (1) upon failure of the packer to comply with any provision of these regulations, or (2) upon the dissemination by the packer or any person in privity with him of any representation which is false or misleading in any particular regarding the application to any sea food of the inspection service provided by the regulations in this part.

(b) When inspection service is suspended in an establishment, as authorized by paragraph (a) of this section, the Administration shall not lengthen the inspection period in such establishment to compensate for any of the time of suspension.

(c) After inspection service for a fiscal year is closed in an establishment, but before the resumption of packing therein during the next fiscal year, the packer may terminate inspection service under the regulations in this part by giving written notice of such termination to the Administration.

The regulations in this part, so amended, shall become effective on July 1, 1942.

Acting Administrator.

AUTHORITY: §§ 804.1 to 804.9, inclusive, issued under sec. 6, 54 Stat. 714, Public Law 75, 77th Cong., Act of June 30, 1942, 77th Cong.; 50 U.S.C. Sup. 99; Order No. 3, Delegations of Authority Nos. 25 and 26, Part 800, supra.

§ 804.1 General provisions. (a) The articles, materials and supplies enumerated in § 801.2 of this subchapter may be exported only pursuant to individual licenses issued by the Export Control Branch, unless exportation is authorized by general, unlimited, technical data, or other special form of license.

(b) Application for individual license shall be made on the form prescribed by the Export Control Branch. All terms, conditions, provisions and instructions contained in the form are hereby incorporated as a part of the regulations in this subchapter.

(c) The return post card furnished with each application must be filled in and submitted to the Export Control Branch with the application.

(d) When countersigned and bearing the official seal of the Board of Economic Warfare, the application becomes a license.

(e) When a license is issued, the case number assigned by the Export Control Branch becomes the license number.

(f) An individual license is valid for six months unless it is otherwise stated on the license or unless sooner revoked.

§ 804.2 Applications for licenses. (a) License applications may be made by any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, who is in fact the exporter, or by his duly authorized agent, except as specified in paragraph (b) of this section. An applicant not subject to the jurisdiction of the United States must show that unusual hardship would result from a refusal to consider the application.

(b) (1) Applications for licenses to export unused metal-working machinery may be filed only by the manufacturer of such machinery.

(2) Applications for licenses to export farm equipment and machinery classified under Department of Commerce Schedule B numbers 7143, 7365, 7368, 7800–7870, 7879–7899, and 7975, may be filed only by the manufacturer of such machinery: Provided, That the manufacturer may submit application on behalf of a dealer, broker, etc.

(c) A separate and complete application must be submitted for each commodity to each consignee in each country of destination.

(d) Where partial or periodic shipments of an identical commodity are being made by the applicant to the same consignee in a foreign country, an application may be filed covering the entire quantity of goods to be so exported, and if a license is issued, partial shipments may be made from time to time during the life of the license.

(e) A second application covering the same proposed exportation must not be submitted pending action on the first application.

(f) All information pertaining to an application for an export license must be attached to the license application at the time it is originally filed. Additional information concerning the application for the license will not be attached after it has been received by the Export Control Branch.

§ 804.3 Expired, revoked and unused licenses. (a) If a license expires before complete shipment has been made, the licensee shall return the expired license to the Export Control Branch but may make a new application for the unshipped balance.

(b) If the license is revoked, expires or if shipment is not to be made, the license shall be returned immediately to the Export Control Branch, with a covering letter explaining the reason for such return. If the license is not in his possession, the licensee shall notify the Export Control Branch.

§ 804.4 Weight and volume tolerance. (a) For all articles and materials requiring export license, a ten percent (10%) tolerance by weight or volume over the amount specified on the license is allowed, except as noted below:

Pharmaceuticals and finished drugs	1 percent.
Platinum and platinum group metals	1 percent.
Industrial diamonds	Nearest carat.
Radium and radium salts	Nearest 100 milligrams.
Uranium and uranium salts.	Nearest 100 milligrams.

(b) This tolerance is allowed only when the unit of quantity called for on the license application is in terms of weight or volume and shall not be allowed where the unit of quantity called for is in terms of number of units.

(c) In all cases the tolerance shall be allowed on the basis of the actual quantity stated on the license.

(d) Whenever one or more partial shipments of the licensed material have been made, the license remains valid only for the unshipped balance of the licensed material, plus 10% of such balance; but this provision will not apply in the case of articles listed under paragraph (a) of this section.

(e) A tolerance up to ten percent (10%) in value over the value specified on the license is allowed on shipments where there is a proportionate increase in quantity.

§ 804.5 Port of exit. (a) Merchandise which leaves the United States at one frontier port crosses adjacent foreign territory, and reenters the United States at another frontier port before final exportation to a foreign country, will be treated as an export at the last port of exit from the United States.

(b) A license may be used for exportation from any port subject to the jurisdiction of the United States unless the Chief of the Export Control Branch shall otherwise direct.

§ 804.6 Duplicate licenses. Where a license is lost or destroyed, a duplicate of such license may be obtained by the licensee in accordance with the following procedure:

(a) Another application identical in all respects to the former and marked "Duplicate" must be submitted.

(b) An affidavit must be attached to the new application stating:

(1) That the original license has been lost or destroyed.

(c) Procedure in lieu of inspection. Where material is too bulky to transmit to this office for examination or by reason of time requirements or extreme urgency it is impossible or impractical to transmit material to this office for examination prior to shipment under a special license, the licensee may be authorized to export such material without prior examination by the Export Control Branch, but in each such case, a covering letter shall be submitted and such letter shall contain a complete statement of the reasons for the nonsubmission of the material and an accurate descriptive listing of all material to be exported.

(2) In answer to paragraph (7) (d) of the prescribed application form (currently AEC Form No. 16), the applicant shall set forth a general description by subject matter of the material to be exported under the license if granted. If the applicant contemplates exporting information so new and novel as to form the subject matter for a patent application, or similar experimental or research data, such facts shall be clearly stated.

(e) Signing of application. (1) Applications for license to export "technical data" if applied for by a corporation must be signed by an officer of the corporation or a duly authorized agent of the corporation; if made by a partnership, must be signed by a member of the firm, or its duly authorized agent; if made by an individual, must be signed by the individual or his duly authorized agent.

If, on the application the ultimate user named is a person other than the consignee, a statement must be obtained from all consignees as well as the ultimate user. Unrestricted general statements of the consignee or ultimate user accepted heretofore by the Export Control Branch may be incorporated by reference in applications for new or renewal licenses. Statements of consignees or ultimate users are not required in applications for licenses to export patent applications, amendments, and other technical information relating to inventions made in foreign countries, but must be obtained and submitted in support of license applications for the exportation, for informational purposes only, of descriptive material concerning inventions made in the United States.

(2) A statement of the consignee or ultimate user need not be acknowledged before a notary or consular officer if prepared on the letterhead of the organization of the consignee or ultimate user. The statement shall be dated, the place of its execution set forth, and signed by a responsible official of the organization of the consignee or ultimate user who is actually located in the country of destination and whose authority to enforce the conditions of the statement is apparent.

(3) If the applicant finds it impossible or impractical to submit the signed statement of the consignee or ultimate user at the time the application is filed, the application oath may be modified appropriately and an adequate explanation shall be made of the reasons why the statement is not furnished. The applicant shall also advise the steps being taken to obtain the statement.

(g) Validity of license. The technical data, blanket, special or unlimited license shall be valid for a period of one year from date of issuance unless otherwise stated on the license.

(h) Use of license. The blanket, special or unlimited license, shall be retained in the possession of the licensee until surrendered voluntarily, revoked by the Export Control Branch or until it expires. Such license need not be presented at the time of exportation of any article or material authorized to be exported thereunder, but the number assigned to the license shall be placed on the outside of the envelope or on the outside wrapper of the package containing such material.

(i) Duplicate applications. Duplicate applications shall not be filed unless specifically requested by the Export Control Branch.

(j) Duplicate licenses. Duplicate licenses may be issued by the Export Control Branch provided the licensee shows that the original license was lost or destroyed and submits such sworn proof as may be required in each instance.

(k) Cables, telegrams and radiograms. Technical data may be exported by cablegram, telegram or radiogram subject to prior examination and approval of the Export Control Branch. The exporter shall place on the message the number of the license to be used, i. e. special, blanket or general.

If the export is to be made under a special license, all the material shall be transmitted to the Export Control Branch for examination and approval prior to exportation, except as otherwise provided in § 806.4 (c).

(m) Export of technical data with commodity. (1) Whenever detailed drawings and instructions describing assembly, operation, testing, and routine maintenance or repair of machinery, etc., for which a commodity license (currently Form BEW 119) is required, are to be exported with such machinery, etc., only one application (currently Form BEW 119) need be submitted covering both the commodity and the technical data subject to the following conditions:

(i) The technical data shall apply directly to the particular shipment of the commodity.

(ii) The technical data may not include any manufacturing data.

(iii) The technical data to be exported with the commodity shall be shipped in the same container that is to be used for the commodity.

(iv) The technical data to be exported must be listed on the commodity license (currently Form BEW 119).

(2) Whenever the detailed drawings and instructions describing assembly, operation, testing, and routine maintenance or repair, are to be exported separately from the article or material itself, a technical data license shall be applied for on the prescribed technical data license application form (currently AEC Form 16). Where a commodity license (currently Form BEW 119) has been granted the applicant shall state the commodity license number on the application for license to export technical information related thereto.

(n) Exports to destinations through a foreign country. Technical data shall not be exported to a territory or possession of the United States through a foreign country except under license. In each such case, an application shall be made on the prescribed form (currently AEC Form No. 16 or in the case of Unlimited Licenses, OE Form No. 16–c) designating the foreign country or countries through which such technical data will pass.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–62]

ALBERT M. GREEN HOSIERY MILLS, INC.

Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc., Milroy, Pennsylvania, is a former manufacturer of full-fashioned silk hosiery. After restrictions were placed on the use of silk, the Company applied for and received allocations of reserved rayon yarn pursuant to the provisions of Supplementary Order M–37–a. On January 31, 1942, the Company sold and delivered to Samuel Paris, Bradley Beach, New Jersey, approximately 4,100 pounds of reserved rayon which had been allocated to it for its own use by the War Production Board, despite the fact that no authorization therefor had been obtained from the Director of Industry Operations. This transaction was entered into by the Company although it was familiar with the provisions of Supplementary Order M–37–a and knew that this order prohibited the delivery of reserved rayon yarn in the absence of specific authorization by the Director of Industry Operations.

This violation of Supplementary Order M–37–a, dealing with the supply and distribution of rayon yarn, has impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting reserved rayon yarn to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing,

It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.62 Suspension Order S–62. (a) Deliveries of material to Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of Preference Rating Certificates, Preference Rating Orders, General Preference Orders or any other orders or regulations of the Direct of Industry Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc., its successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(c) Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not order or accept the delivery of reserved rayon yarn, as the same is defined in Supplementary Order M–37–c, and no person shall sell or deliver to Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc., its successors and assigns, any such reserved rayon yarn, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Albert M. Green Hosiery Mills, Inc. from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on July 2, 1942, and shall expire on October 2, 1942, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F. R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. § 1055.1 Conservation Order M–73—(a) Curtailment of use of wool for nondefense orders for period August 3, 1942, through January 31, 1943. During the period from August 3, 1942, to January 31, 1943, both dates inclusive, no person shall put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account, for nondefense orders, any wool except as follows:

(1) On worsted system. Any person having a basic quarterly poundage on the worsted system shall be entitled to put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account:

(i) An amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 20% of such basic quarterly poundage, for the manufacture of fabrics or yarns containing not less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reprocessed and reused wool, and

(ii) An additional amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 25% of such basic quarterly poundage for the manufacture of fabrics or yarns containing not more than 65% wool and not less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool.

Provided, however, That notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) above any person who made and sold prior to June 1, 1942, fabrics or yarns containing less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool shall be entitled to put into process wool for the manufacture of these same fabrics and yarns within the limitations herein prescribed. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture of fabrics or yarns containing less than 20% of wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool.

(3) On manufacture of floor covering. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, any person whose basic quarterly poundage is calculated from wool put into process for the manufacture of floor covering shall only be entitled to put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account:

(c) Special provision for manufacture of yarn for use in manipulated fabrics. (1) For the purposes of paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) the putting into process of wool for the manufacture of yarns for sale to knitters or weavers to be manufactured by them into fabrics or garments containing not more than 65% wool and not less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool, shall be considered as the putting into process of wool for the manufacture of such fabrics: Provided, That each sale of such yarn to a knitter or weaver is made only upon the receipt from such knitter or weaver of a certificate in duplicate, signed on behalf of the knitter or weaver placing such order by a duly authorized person in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to his vendor and to the War Production Board that the yarn covered by this purchase order will be used by the undersigned for the manufacture of fabrics or garments containing not more than 65% wool as the term is defined in Conservation Order M–73, and not less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool.

and Provided, further, That one of the duplicate certificates required for each such sale shall be filed with the War Production Board on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which such sales were made.

(2) No knitter or weaver furnishing the certificate mentioned in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for the purchase of yarn shall knit or weave such yarn into fabrics or garments which contain more than 65% wool or less than 20% wool, wool waste, noils, reused and reprocessed wool, or otherwise use or dispose of such yarn.

(d) Restrictions on use of wool in the manufacture of certain products—(1) Restriction on wool content of blankets for nondefense use. No person shall manufacture for nondefense order any blanket containing more than 80 per cent of wool, wool waste, noils, or reused and reprocessed wool, in the aggregate, except blankets made solely from used or damaged paper-makers' felts and/or used processing felts.

(2) Restrictions on use of certain wools in drapery and upholstery fabrics for nondefense use. No person shall put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account for nondefense order for the manufacture of any drapery or upholstery fabrics any wool other than coarse carpet wool, mohair, either kid or adult, skin alpaca, coarse alpaca fleece, alpaca seconds, Huarizo, llama, or coarse pieces or locks of alpaca or llama.

(3) Restrictions on use of certain wools in floor coverings. No person shall put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account any wool other than coarse carpet wool for the manufacture of floor covering.

(4) Restrictions on use of wool in the manufacture of certain uniforms. All purchase orders placed on or after June 1, 1942, for uniform fabrics containing wool shall be deemed nondefense orders for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this order, regardless of any preference rating assigned thereto, and no preference rating for uniform fabrics containing wool shall be valid for any purpose, notwithstanding the provisions of any rule, regulation or order of the Director of Industry Operations; except that the foregoing provisions of this subparagraph (4) shall be inapplicable in the case of purchase orders bearing preference ratings for the following uniforms, or fabrics therefor:

(i) Uniforms to be delivered to or for the account of any agency of the United States.

(ii) Officers' uniforms, as defined in Preference Rating Order No. P–131, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(iii) Uniforms for members of a Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

(iv) Any other uniform which the Director of Industry Operations may specifically exempt in writing from the provisions of this subparagraph (4).

(e) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to any person to the extent that such person puts wool into process for the making of wool products entirely by hand, including the spinning, and weaving of the fabrics.

(f) Prohibition against sales or deliveries. No person shall hereafter sell or deliver any material to any person if he knows, or has reason to believe, such material is to be used in violation of this order.

(g) Limitation of inventories. No person shall receive delivery of wool or products thereof in the form of raw materials, semi-processed wool materials or finished goods containing wool, in quantities which shall result in an inventory of such material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the use of wool by this order: Provided, however, That nothing herein contained shall be deemed to restrict the purchase or delivery of any imported wool to the person importing the same either directly or through an agent or to the person to whom such wool may be sold prior to landing in this country.

(h) Fair distribution of products. In making sales or deliveries of wool yarn, fabrics, styles or patterns, no person shall make discriminatory cuts in amounts or quantities in acceptance of orders or deliveries between former customers and new customers who meet such person's regularly established prices and terms, or between former customers, new customers and his own consumption of these products, or any of them.

(i) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provisions hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(2) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of wool conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board on the form provided therefor setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director of Industry Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(3) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and the restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the use of wool put into process on or after August 3, 1942 in all articles hereafter manufactured. Insofar as any other order of the Director of Industry Operations may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the use of wool in the production of any article, the limitation of such other order shall be observed.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 1289—DIAMOND DIES

[General Conservation Order M–181]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of diamond dies for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1289.1 General Conservation Order M–181—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Diamond die" means any diamond which has a hole through it and which is designed for use in the drawing of wire.

(2) "Small diamond die" means a diamond die with a hole of a diameter of 0.0015 inch or smaller.

(3) "Supplier" means any person who engages in the importation, processing, or sale of diamond dies, or any person, other than a consumer, who owns or has possession of one or more diamond dies.

(4) "Processing" means drilling, piercing, and polishing a diamond for use as a diamond die.

(5) "Consumer" means any person who uses a diamond die for the purpose of drawing wire.

(b) Restrictions on suppliers of small diamond dies. (1) Reserve. Each supplier is hereby directed to set aside his entire stock of small diamond dies, including stocks received after the date hereof from any source, as a reserve for the fulfillment of present and future Defense Orders, and such other orders and uses as may be authorized from time to time by the Director of Industry Operations.

(2) Allocations. No supplier shall make deliveries or withdrawals from such reserve either to fill orders received from customers or for purposes of his own processing or use except as authorized or directed by the Director of Industry Operations. The Director will from time to time allocate the supply of small diamond dies and may specifically direct: the persons to whom deliveries shall be made and from whom deliveries shall be received; the manner, amounts, and times of such deliveries; the persons who may process, and the manner, amounts, sizes, and times of processing; and the particular uses which may or may not be made. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of the defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made in the discretion of the Director of Industry Operations without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(c) Restrictions on consumers. Unless specifically directed or authorized by the Director of Industry Operations, no consumer after the effective date hereof shall sell or deliver any small diamond dies to any other person, except Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other Federal agency organized pursuant to Section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended.

(d) Reports—(1) Supplier. Each supplier shall file with the War Production Board, Ref.: M–181, on or before the 15th day of each calendar month, a report on Form PD–559.

(2) Consumer. Each consumer shall file with the War Production Board, Ref.: M–181, on or before the 15th day of each calendar month, a report on Form PD–560.

PART 1363—FEEDINGSTUFFS

[Maximum Price Regulation 173]

WHEAT MILL FEEDS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, prices of wheat mill feeds have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of wheat mill feeds prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. The maximum prices established herein are not below prices which will reflect to producers of wheat prices for their product equal to the highest of any of the following prices for wheat, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture: (1) 110 percent of the parity prices adjusted by the Secretary of Agriculture for grade, location, and seasonal differentials; (2) the market price prevailing on October 1, 1941; (3) the market price prevailing on December 15, 1941; or (4) the average price during the period July 1, 1919, to June 30, 1929. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1 [3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 is hereby issued.

§ 1363.107 Licensing; applicability of the registration and licensing provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation are applicable to every person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 selling at wholesale or retail any wheat mill feed covered by this Regulation. When used in this § 1363.107, the terms "selling at wholesale" and "selling at retail" have the definitions given to them by §§ 1499.20 (p) and 1499.20 (o), respectively, of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 04.7030 Controllability at the stall. With power off and with 75% maximum-except-take-off power, with flaps and landing gear in any position; the airplane shall have sufficient directional and lateral control so that when the airplane is stalled, the downward pitching motion following the stall shall occur prior to any uncontrollable roll or yaw. Any such pitching motion shall not be excessive and recovery to normal flight shall be possible by normal use of the controls after the pitching motion is unmistakably developed, without excessive loss of altitude.

2. By striking § 04.706 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 04.706 Spinning. (Not applicable to airplanes certificated in the transport category). At any permissible combination of weight and center of gravity position obtainable with all or part of the design useful load, there shall be no excessive reversal of control forces during any possible spinning up to 6 turns. It shall be possible promptly to recover at any point in the spinning described above by using the controls in a normal manner for that purpose and without exceeding either the limiting airspeed or the limit design normal acceleration for the airplane. It shall not be possible to obtain uncontrollable spins by means of any possible use of the controls: Provided, That compliance with the foregoing requirements with respect to spinning shall not be required for those airplanes—

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

[Docket No. A-1474]

PART 327—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 7

RELIEF GRANTED

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 7 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 327.11 (Low volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, § 327.21 (High volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II, and § 327.34 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

The original petitioner proposed Price Classification B for the coals of Mine Index No. 310 in Size Group 8 for all shipments except truck. Since it appears that Price Classification D has been established in Size Group 8 for comparable and analagous coals, and since the petition does not allege any facts in support of the proposed price classification for the Size Group 8 coals of Mine Index No. 310, Price Classification D has been established by the order herein for the coals of this mine.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: June 16, 1942.

PART 330—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 10

RELIEF GRANTED

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 10 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 10.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 10; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 330.2 (Mine index numbers) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

The original petitioner proposed Price Classification B for the coals of Mine Index No. 310 in Size Group 8 for all shipments except truck. Since it appears that Price Classification D has been established in Size Group 8 for comparable and analagous coals, and since the petition does not allege any facts in support of the proposed price classification for the Size Group 8 coals of Mine Index No. 310, Price Classification D has been established by the order herein for the coals of this mine.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

mium and chromium-nickel iron and steel alloys for heat resistant purposes. Except pursuant to specific authorization or direction of the Director of Industry Operations, from and after the effective date of this order:

(1) No person shall melt, process, fabricate or deliver any heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel for the uses set forth in Schedule A with a higher chromium and/or nickel content than specifically authorized in Schedule A;

(2) No person, in placing an order for heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel for the uses set forth in Schedule A, shall specify temperature requirements beyond those necessary to maintain operations then engaged in; and

(3) No person, in redesigning or rebuilding any equipment, or parts therefor, for the uses set forth in Schedule A, shall increase the weight of the heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel in any unit to an amount greater than 10% of the weight of such iron or steel contained in the original design of such unit.

(b) Exception for Army, Navy, and Maritime Commission orders. The restrictions imposed by paragraph (a) shall not apply in the case of materials or equipment to be purchased by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, or the United States Maritime Commission, or to be physically incorporated into materials or equipment to be so purchased, to the extent that the use of heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel is required by the specifications (including performance specifications) of the Army or Navy of the United States, or the United States Maritime Commission applicable to the contract, subcontract, or purchase order.

(c) Other exceptions. The restrictions imposed by paragraph (a) shall not apply to:

(1) Materials fully fabricated at the effective date of this order;

(2) Materials to be melted, processed, fabricated or delivered pursuant to a contract made prior to the effective date of this order where it would not be practicable to change specifications to conform to the provisions of this order, provided that delivery of such materials under such contract shall be completed within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this order; and

(3) Any industrial instrument, instrument connection, instrument end, control valve, safety valve, or regulator, as defined by Conservation Order L-134, as amended from time to time, to the extent that the use of heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel is permitted by such order.

(d) General restrictions. (1) No person shall melt, process, fabricate or deliver any heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel to or for the account of any person for the uses set forth in Schedule A if he knows or has reason to believe that such material will be sold or used in violation of the terms of this order or any other or further order or direction of the Director of Industry Operations.

(2) A person melting, processing, fabricating or delivering any heat resistant chromium or chromium-nickel alloy iron or alloy steel for the uses set forth in Schedule A, may rely on the statement of his customer that such material will not be sold or used except in compliance with this order and any other or further order or direction, which statement shall be endorsed in the following form, signed by an official duly authorized for such purpose, on every purchase order for such material:

> The undersigned certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the material ordered herein will not be sold or used in violation of the terms of Supplementary Order M-21-g or any other or further order or direction of the Director of Industry Operations.
> Such statement shall be a representation to the War Production Board and shall be preserved by the seller for a period of at least two years.

(e) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other Order of the Director of Industry Operations may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided, the use of any material, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(f) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may apply to the War Production Board, Iron and Steel Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-21-g, setting forth the pertinent facts, and the reasons he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director of Industry Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Effective date. This order shall take effect immediately. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

PART 1083—KAPOK

[General Conservation Order M-85, as amended to July 2, 1942]

Section 1083.1 General Conservation Order M-85,[1] is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of kapok for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1083.1 General Conservation Order M-85—(a) Applicability of Priorities Regulation 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(b) Additional definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Kapok" shall mean the fiber or pulp from the pod of the Ceiba or kapok tree, except that grown in South and Central America, but shall not include any kapok which, on the effective date of this order, has already been put into process for the manufacture of any article of which kapok is a component part.

(2) "Dealer" shall mean any person purchasing kapok for resale and the term shall include also importers, agents and brokers.

(3) "Manufacturer" shall mean any person producing any product of which kapok is a component part or into which it is physically incorporated.

(c) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. No dealer shall hereafter sell, transfer title to, or deliver, and no person shall hereafter purchase, accept transfers of title to, or deliveries of, any kapok, except upon the following categories of orders:

(1) Orders placed by the Board of Economic Warfare, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or any corporation organized under the authority of section 5d of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, or any representative designated for the purpose by any of the foregoing.

(2) Orders placed by manufacturers for delivery in any calendar month of the minimum amounts necessary to enable them to continue until the end of the said calendar month to produce the products hereinafter listed in paragraph (d) of this order, taking into consideration their existing inventories, and to maintain not more than a practicable minimum working inventory of finished products: Provided, however, That each order placed by a manufacturer pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph shall be accompanied by a certificate manually signed on behalf of such manufacturer by a person authorized to sign for such manufacturer and in the following form:

> This order is for an amount of kapok which, together with the undersigned manufacturer's existing inventory and other orders outstanding will not exceed the minimum amount necessary to enable the undersigned manufacturer to continue operations, to the extent permited by paragraph (d) of General Conservation Order No. M-85, As Amended to July 2, 1942, (kapok) until the end of the calendar month in which such kapok is delivered, and maintain not more than a practicable minimum working inventory of finished products. This certificate shal be deemed to be a representation by the undersigned manufacturer to the War Production Board and to the above-named dealer that the facts stated above are true and correct.

(3) Orders specifically authorized hereunder by the Director of Industry Operations.

(4) Orders placed by dealers with manufacturers, importers, or importing agents.

(d) Restrictions on production. Notwithstanding anything in Priorities Regulation 1 to the contrary, unless specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations no manufacturer shall hereafter use any kapok in the production of any product, except those hereinafter listed:

(1) Life buoys to fill defense orders.

(2) Life preservers, life jackets and collars to fill defense orders.

(3) Sleeping bags, mattresses, pillows, blankets and pontoon bridges to fill orders placed by the War and Navy Departments but only to the extent that kapok is specifically required by the specifications of the prime contract involved.

(4) Insulation padding for airplanes, but only to the extent of 45% of the actual total fibre content of such insulation padding: Provided, however, That no person shall use any kapok of Java grades for the production of such product unless and until such person shall be unable to obtain any other kapok for such purpose: And provided further, That the foregoing restrictions may be exceeded in the manufactuer of insulation padding for airplanes to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States when a higher percentage of kapok or use of a Java grade is specifically required by the specifications of the prime contract involved or its use is hereafter specifically directed in writing by the Army or Navy contracting officer of the prime contract involved.

(e) Restrictions on manufacturers' sales of kapok. No manufacturer shall hereafter sell, transfer title to, or deliver any kapok to any person, except to the Board of Economic Warfare, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or any corporation organized under the authority of section 5d of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, or any representative designated for the purpose by any of the foregoing, or to a dealer, and no person except the Board of Economic Warfare, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or any corporation organized under the authority of section 5d of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, or any representative designated for the purpose by any of the foregoing, or a dealer shall hereafter purchase, accept any transfer of title to, or deliveries of kapok from a manufacturer.

(f) Assignment of preference rating. A preference rating of A-2 is hereby assigned to all orders for kapok placed by the Board of Economic Warfare, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or any corporation organized under the authority of section 5d of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, or any representative designated for the purpose by any of the foregoing, and such rating may be applied in the manner prescribed by Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended.

(g) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of kapok conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal in writing to the War Production Board, Reference M-85, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director of Industry Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(h) Communications to the War Production Board. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-85.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance. PART 1294—PHOSPHATE PLASTICIZERS

[General Preference Order M-183]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of phosphate plasticizers, as hereinafter defined, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1294.1 General Preference Order M-183—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Phosphate plasticizers" means tricresyl phosphate and triphenyl phosphate in any form or from whatever source derived.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of phosphate plasticizers and includes any person who has such phosphate plasticizers produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases phosphate plasticizers for purpose of resale.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of phosphate plasticizers. On and after August 1, 1942 no person shall use, deliver or accept delivery of phosphate plasticizers except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations upon application pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) hereof: Provided, however, That no such specific authorization shall be required with respect to:

(1) The use or acceptance of delivery by any person during any one calendar month of one hundred (100) pounds or less of phosphate plasticizers;

(2) The delivery by any producer or distributor of one hundred (100) pounds or less of phosphate plasticizers to any one person during any one calendar month (which may be made without regard to preference ratings): Provided, That the aggregate amount of such deliveries by any producer or distributor during any one calendar month shall not exceed two percent (2%) of the deliveries which he is specifically authorized to make during such month.

(c) Applications and reports. In addition to such other reports as may from time to time be required by the Director of Industry Operations:

(1) Each person seeking authorization for use or delivery of phosphate plasticizers during any month pursuant to sub-paragraph (b) hereof, including producers or distributors seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of phosphate plasticizers, shall file Form PD-558 in the manner prescribed therein on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or delivery is requested; Provided, however, That application for authorization by the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration may be made in any manner.

(2) Each producer or distributor shall file Form PD-557 in the manner prescribed therein on or before July 24, 1942, and on or before the 24th day of each month thereafter.

(d) Notification of customers. Producers and distributors of phosphate plasticizers shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of their regular customers of the requirements of this Order, but the failure to give such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms thereof.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(2) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of phosphate plasticizers shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-183. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

[Maximum Price Regulation 136[1]]

MACHINES AND PARTS

The title, preamble and §§ 1390.1 to 1390.34, inclusive, are renumbered and amended to read as set forth below.

[Maximum Price Regulation 136, as Amended]

MACHINES AND PARTS, AND MACHINERY SERVICES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of machines and parts and machinery services have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of machines and parts and machinery services prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

§ 1390.1 Definition of "machines and parts" and "machinery services." For the purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended:

(a) The term "machines and parts" means, and is limited to, products falling within the groups listed in § 1390.32, Appendix A, and § 1390.33, Appendix B. Any other product is subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation,[3] unless excluded therefrom or unless subject to some other specific regulation. For purposes of clarification, a list of certain products related to machinery but not covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, is contained in § 1390.34, Appendix C;

(b) The term "machinery service" means any operation in the processing, machining, welding, treating, finishing, testing, inspecting, adjusting, maintaining, repairing or rebuilding of a "machine or part" owned by another or of a product owned by another which, as a result of such operation, becomes a "machine or part."

§ 1390.2 Exclusions. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall not apply to:

(a) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part or any machinery service for which a maximum price is established by any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration,[4] except the General Maximum Price Regulation;[5]

(b) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part if, prior to July 22, 1942, such machine or part had been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to the purchaser;

(c) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part or machinery service performed pursuant to a "developmental" contract or subcontract, as provided in § 1390.21.

(d) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part or any machinery service performed pursuant to a "secret" contract or subcontract, as provided in § 1390.22;

(e) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part or any machinery service performed pursuant to an "emergency purchase", as provided in § 1390.23;

(f) Any sale or delivery at retail of a machine or part, except any sale or delivery of a machine or part by the manufacturer thereof. "Sale at retail" means any sale to an ultimate user other than an industrial, commercial or governmental user, or any sale made at a store or shop where such sales are customarily made;

(g) Any sale or delivery of a machine or part or any machinery service performed pursuant to a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost contract: Provided, That a report is filed with the Office of Price Administration as provided in § 1390.14.

§ 1390.3 Prohibition against sales at higher than maximum prices. (a) On and after July 22, 1942, regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation:

higher than the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended;

(2) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any machine, part, or machinery service at a price higher than such maximum price: Provided, That if upon the purchase of any machine, part, or machinery service, the purchaser shall receive from the seller or supplier a written affirmation that to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief the price charged does not exceed the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, the purchaser shall be deemed to have compiled with this section;

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in subparagraphs (1) and (2).

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting officer thereof, and any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1390.4 Maximum prices: general provisions. (a) The base date for machines and parts set forth in § 1390.32, Appendix A, is October 1, 1941; the base date for machines and parts set forth in § 1390.33, Appendix B, and for all machinery services is March 31, 1942. In applying the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, to the machines and parts set forth in Appendix B, the date March 31, 1942 shall be substituted for the date October 1, 1941 wherever it appears in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended. Such substitution, however, shall not be made in § 1390.10 (b) which applies only to machines and parts set forth in Appendix A.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended:

(1) The maximum price for the sale or delivery by the manufacturer of any machine or part set forth in Administrative Notice No. 1 [5] or any amendments thereto shall be the price provided for therein;

(2) The maximum price for the sale or delivery by a seller other than the manufacturer of any machine or part set forth in Administrative Notice No. 1 [5] or any amendments thereto, for which the manufacturer has published a list price in accordance with Administrative Notice No. 1 or any amendments thereto, shall be such list price, subject to all applicable extra charges, discounts or other allowances which such seller had in effect on October 1, 1941.

[5] 7 F.R. 2984, 3690. Administrative Notice No. 1 sets forth exceptions from the provisions of voluntary price agreements and arrangements.

§ 1390.5 Maximum prices: published or confidential price lists—(a) Prices. If any manufacturer, seller or lessor had published or confidential price lists in effect on October 1, 1941, covering:

(1) Sales of machines or parts, or
(2) Rentals of machines or parts,

the maximum price to any purchaser for any machine or part so listed shall be the net price which the manufacturer, seller or lessor would have received on that date from a purchaser of the same class. "Net price" means the amount paid by or charged to the purchaser, after adjustment for all applicable extra charges, discounts or other allowances in effect on October 1, 1941.

(b) Reports. On or before August 1, 1942, every manufacturer, seller, and lessor subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., if he has not already done so, all his published and confidential price, rental, and discount sheets in effect on October 1, 1941, for machines and parts. However, the manufacturer of any machine shall not be required to file list prices in effect on October 1, 1941, for repair parts for such machines unless such filing is specifically required in writing by the Office of Price Administration. Any person who on October 1, 1941, sold, leased or delivered machines or parts at prices based upon price sheets published by any other person subject hereto need not file such other person's published price sheets but shall file instead a statement identifying the particular price sheets he used on that date, together with his own discount sheets, if any, and a statement of any prices which constitute exceptions to such practice.

(c) Specification changes. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a), if substantial specification changes are made in any machine or part for which the manufacturer, seller or lessor had a published or confidential list price or rental in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price for such machine or part may be determined pursuant to §§ 1390.7, 1390.10 (c) or 1390.12 (b), whichever is applicable: Provided, That either before such change in price or within ten days after making such change in price, a report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the machine or part in question and of the specification changes, and a statement of the former price and the proposed price. If it is desired to issue a new list price, a report shall be filed pursuant to § 1390.13.

§ 1390.6 Maximum prices: sales by the manufacturer of machines or parts with list prices. If for any machine or part the manufacturer thereof had a published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price shall be determined as provided in § 1390.5.

§ 1390.7 Maximum prices: sales by the manufacturer of machines or parts without list prices. If for any machine or part the manufacturer thereof had no published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price of such machine or part to any purchaser shall be computed on the basis of the following:

(a) Pricing formula. (1) the price-determining method which was in use on October 1, 1941, applying the overhead rate, machine hour rates, if any, or other bases of computation which were in use on that date. If no such method was in use on October 1, 1941, the manufacturer shall use the method which would have been used on that date, applying the overhead rate, machine hour rates, if any, or other bases of computation which were in use or would have been used on that date. For the purposes of this subparagraph (1), the method of determining the total price in a cost-plus contract shall not be deemed to be a "price-determining method";

(2) to the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on direct labor costs, the manufacturer shall use labor rates in effect on October 1, 1941, determined and applied in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) below;

(3) to the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on prices paid for materials, the manufacturer shall use material prices in effect on October 1, 1941, determined and applied in accordance with the provisions of, and subject to the exceptions contained in, paragraph (c) below;

(4) to the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted machinery services, the manufacturer shall use actual prices paid or to be paid for subcontracted machinery services, not in excess of maximum prices provided by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, determined in accordance with paragraph (c)-(4) below;

(5) to the extent that the price-determining method includes freight rates paid, the manufacturer shall use freight rates in effect on March 31, 1942 for outbound shipments for the mode of transportation actually used and for inbound shipments for the mode of transportation actually used and from the actual point of origin;

(6) for the labor required for installation if the machine or part is sold on an installed basis: labor rates in the area of installation in effect on, or resulting from an agreement concluded or from a grant made or announced on or before, April 27, 1942, or, where the wage stabilization agreement issued May 22, 1942, between the Building and Construction Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor and certain agencies of the United States is applicable, labor rates in effect on July 1, 1942;

(7) all applicable extra charges, discounts or other allowances in use on October 1, 1941 to a purchaser of the same class.

(b) Labor rates. (1) "Labor rates in effect on October 1, 1941" are the labor rates prevailing on that date in the manufacturer's plant for each classification of labor. If the manufacturer employs labor of a particular classification not employed in such plant on October 1, 1941, he shall apply the rate prevailing on that date for such classification in the locality in which the manufacturing is to be performed. If labor of such classification was not employed on October 1, 1941 in such locality, the manufacturer shall apply the rate prevailing on that date for the nearest skill in the nearest comparable locality, as accurately as he is able to determine the same by reasonably diligent inquiry.

(2) The permitted labor cost to be used in the pricing formula provided in paragraph (a) is to be determined by applying to the clock hours of each classification of labor estimated to be required on the basis of previous production experience, or, where an estimate is not used, the clock hours actually required, the hourly rate for such classification in effect on October 1, 1941. If on October 1, 1941, an average rate was used, an average rate may be applied: Provided, That the labor rates and the method of computing the average in effect on October 1, 1941, are used. If individuals have been or are promoted from one classification to another because of increased efficiency, the higher rates may be used: Provided, That such higher rates may not be used if they result in increased prices.

(3) In determining the price for a firm price contract, the amount of overtime estimated to be required in excess of that provided for in the overhead or machine hour rate may be added to the estimated cost of labor. Further, the amount of overtime actually required in an unforeseen contingency, over and above the amount estimated, if any, may be added to the price if the purchaser agrees and if it is billed separately: Provided, That no markup, overhead, or profit shall be applied to that part of the labor cost which is in excess of the straight-time cost, except that no adjustment of the overhead rate or machine hour rate in effect on October 1, 1941, shall be required.

(c) Material prices. (1) The term "material prices" includes the prices for raw materials, and for materials or products which have been processed or fabricated to any degree, including parts and subassemblies.

(2) The permitted material cost to be used in the pricing formula provided in paragraph (a) is to be determined by applying material prices as determined in subparagraph (3) below to the quantities of materials estimated to be required on the basis of previous production experience or, where an estimate is not used, the quantities actually required.

(3) Except as provided in subdivisions (i) and (ii) below, the manufacturer shall use the lower of the following two prices: the price for the material which was or would have been paid by him on October 1, 1941, or the actual price for such material paid or to be paid, not in excess of the applicable maximum price.

(i) For any part or subassembly purchased, the manufacturer shall use the actual price for such part or subassembly paid or to be paid, not in excess of the applicable maximum price. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "part or subassembly" means, in addition to products covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, products covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 82—Wire, Cable, and Cable Accessories,[6] No. 105—Gears, Pinions, Sprockets and Speed Reducers,[7] Maximum Price Regulations No. 119—Original Equipment Tires and Tubes,[8] No. 147—Bolts, Nuts, Screws and Rivets,[9] and No. 149—Mechanical Rubber Goods.[10]

(ii) For any material for which the manufacturer is unable by reasonable diligence to determine the price he would have paid on October 1, 1941, the manufacturer shall use the actual price for such material paid or to be paid, not in excess of the applicable maximum price. In no event shall this subdivision (ii) apply if the material had a published price in effect on October 1, 1941, or if the manufacturer purchased such material on or about October 1, 1941, or if the manufacturer's supplier of the material, or one of the manufacturer's suppliers, was selling such material on or about October 1, 1941.

(4) Where the "actual price to be paid" for any material (including any part or subassembly) or machinery service is required or permitted to be used by the provisions of subparagraph (3) above, or of subparagraph (4) of paragraph (a), in calculating such price:

(i) The manufacturer shall use the price estimated by his supplier, if available: Provided, That the manufacturer has no reason to believe that the price so estimated exceeds the applicable maximum price; or

(ii) If a price estimated by a supplier is not available at the time he estimates his price, the manufacturer shall use his own estimate of the price to be paid for the material or machinery services: Provided, That if the price so estimated exceeds the actual price charged by the supplier, such actual price, not to exceed the supplier's maximum price, shall be substituted in the pricing formula and the manufacturer's maximum price recomputed accordingly. If the price so estimated is less than the actual price charged by the supplier, such actual price, not to exceed the supplier's maximum price, may be substituted in the pricing formula and the manufacturer's maximum price recomputed accordingly.

(d) Reports. If the price of any machine or part computed in accordance with the provisions of this Section is at any time increased above the price charged on the previous sale or delivery, or is increased above the original contract price by renegotiation or by a price adjustment clause, unless the increase is definitely assignable to a change in specifications or a change in conditions of delivery, the manufacturer thereof shall file the report required by § 1390.18 (g).

§ 1390.8 Maximum prices: Sales by the manufacturer of machines or parts manufactured in new or converted plants. Notwithstanding the provisions of §§ 1390.5, 1390.6, and 1390.7, if a machine or part is manufactured in a newly constructed plant, or, if the manufacturer is unable to determine the maximum price for a machine or part pursuant to the provisions of § 1390.7 because such machine or part is manufactured in a converted plant or for any other reason:

(a) Price. The maximum price for each sale of such machine or part shall be the price determined so far as possible in accordance with § 1390.7 and reported pursuant to paragraph (b) hereof: Provided, That the Office of Price Administration either approves such price in writing or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receipt of the report. Within five days prior to filing such report and during such thirty-day period, such manufacturer may quote, contract, sell or deliver at the proposed price; but final settlement shall be made in accordance with the action of the Office of Price Administration on such report and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made.

(b) Report. The manufacturer of such machine or part shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the proposed price, the proposed billing date, a statement of whether or not such machine or part had a published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, all relevant price-determining data including evidence that the proposed price was determined so far as possible in accordance with § 1390.7, a statement of whether or not quantity production of such machine or part is anticipated, and a brief description of the newly constructed or converted plant. If such manufacturer desires such price to become the maximum price applicable to all subsequent sales of such machine or part, a statement that the report is also being filed pursuant to § 1390.13 should be made.

§ 1390.9 Maximum prices: Machinery services—(a) (1) Services with list prices[3]. If for any machinery service the supplier had a published or confidential machine hour rate or other charge in effect on March 31, 1942, the maximum price to any purchaser for such machinery service shall be the net price which the supplier would have received on that date from a purchaser of the same class.

(2) Reports. On or before August 1, 1942, every machinery service supplier subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., if he has not already done so, all his published and confidential machine hour rates, charge sheets, and discount sheets in effect on March 31, 1942, for machinery services.

(b) Services without list prices. If for any machinery service a supplier had no such published or confidential rate or charge in effect on March 31, 1942, the maximum price for such machinery service to any purchaser shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 1390.7, except that the date March 31, 1942, shall be substituted for the date October 1, 1941, wherever it appears.

(c) New or converted plants. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, if any machinery service is performed in a newly constructed plant or if the supplier is unable to determine the maximum price for any machinery service because it is performed in a converted plant or for any other reason:

(1) Price. The maximum price for each sale of such machinery service shall be a price determined so far as possible in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section and reported pursuant to subparagraph (2) below: Provided, That the Office of Price Administration either approves such price in writing or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receipt of the report. Within five days prior to filing such report and during such thirty-day period, the supplier may quote, contract or perform such machinery service at the proposed price, but final settlement shall be made in accordance with the action of the Office of Price Administration on such report and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made.

(2) Report. Such supplier shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the proposed price, the proposed billing date, a statement of whether or not such machinery service had a published or confidential rate or charge in effect on March 31, 1942, all relevant price-determining data including evidence that the proposed price was determined so far as possible in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, and a brief description of the newly constructed or converted plant. If the supplier desires such price to become the maximum price applicable to such machinery services thereafter performed, a statement that the report is also being filed pursuant to § 1390.13 should be made.

§ 1390.10 Maximum prices: Sales by sellers other than the manufacturer—(a) Machines and parts with list prices. If for any machine or part a seller other than the manufacturer thereof had a published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price shall be determined as provided in § 1390.5.

(b) Thirty-day price adjustment period—(1) Price. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) or of § 1390.5 if for any machine or part set forth in § 1390.32, Appendix A, a seller other than the manufacturer thereof had a published or confidential list price in effect on October 31, 1941, which was higher than his price in effect on October 1, 1941, because of an increase in the price to him of such machine or part made between September 1, 1941 and October 1, 1941, inclusive, the maximum price for such machine or part shall be the lower of the following two prices:

(i) The price in effect on October 1, 1941, plus an amount not exceeding in percentage the amount of the increase in the price to him, or

(ii) The price in effect on October 31, 1941: Provided, That unless a report is filed pursuant to subparagraph (2), the maximum price for such machine or part shall be the maximum price provided in paragraph (a) and § 1390.5.

(2) Report. In the circumstances set forth in subparagraph (1), a report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., not later than September 1, 1942, containing a description of the machine or part in question, the seller's price in effect on October 31, 1941, and the date such price became effective, the seller's price in effect on October 1, 1941, and the date such price became effective, the price to such seller in effect on August 31, 1941, the price to such seller in effect on October 1, 1941 and the date such price became effective, and the maximum price determined pursuant to this paragraph (b).

(3) This paragraph (b) does not apply to machines and parts set forth in § 1390.33, Appendix B. For such machines and parts the base date in all cases is March 31, 1942.

(c) Machines and parts without list prices. If for any machine or part a seller other than the manufacturer thereof had no published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price to any purchaser for such machine or part shall be the net price determined by applying to the seller's net invoiced cost of such machine or part, not to exceed the applicable maximum price, the average percentage margin over net invoice cost realized on or about October 1, 1941, for all machines or parts of the same class sold by such seller on or about October 1, 1941, to purchasers of the same class.

(d) Machines and parts; new lines. If for any machine or part a seller other than the manufacturer had no published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, and if such seller sold no machine or part of the same class on or about that date:

(1) Price. The maximum price for such machine or part shall be the price reported pursuant to subparagraph (2), below: Provided, That the Office of Price Administration either approves such price in writing or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receipt of the report. Within five days prior to the filing of such report and during such thirty-day period, such seller may quote, contract, sell or deliver at the proposed price, but final settlement shall be made in accordance with the action of the Office of Price Administration on such report and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made.

(2) Reports. The seller of such machine or part shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing the proposed price, the proposed billing date, the net invoiced cost of such machine or part, the date of purchase, a statement of the basis on which such proposed price was determined, and an explanation of the reasons why § 1390.5 and paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section were inapplicable. If such seller desires such price to become the maximum price applicable to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such machine or part, a statement that the report is also being filed pursuant to § 1390.13 should be included.

(e) Machines and parts completely subcontracted. If a manufacturer subcontracts to another the manufacture of a machine or part which he resells in the form in which it is received from the subcontractor the maximum price for the prime contractor shall be determined as follows:

(1) If for any such machine or part the prime contractor had a published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price shall be determined in accordance with § 1390.5; or

(2) If the prime contractor had no such list price, the maximum price shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (d).

(f) Installed sales. Nothing in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall be deemed to establish maximum prices for installation services performed by persons other than the manufacturer or assembler of the machine or part to be installed.

§ 1390.11 Maximum prices: Sales of second-hand machines and parts. (a) For the purposes of this section, a second-hand machine or part is any machine or part which has previously been used or purchased for use.

(b) The price for any rebuilt and guaranteed machine or part shall not be more than eighty-five percent of the highest maximum price to any class of purchasers for the nearest equivalent new machine or part established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended. A "rebuilt and guaranteed" machine or part is one in which all worn or missing components which should be replaced or repaired for satisfactory operation have been replaced or repaired, and which carries a binding guaranty of satisfactory operation for a period of not less than sixty days, and which is expressly invoiced as a rebuilt and guaranteed machine or part.

(c) The price for any other second-hand machine or part shall not be more than fifty-five percent of the highest maximum price to any class of purchasers for the nearest equivalent new machine or part established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended.

(d) In quoting, contracting, invoicing or billing any second-hand machine or part for which a maximum price is provided in paragraphs (b) or (c), the seller may add to the maximum price the amount of any tax upon the sale or delivery of such machine or part, and shall bill any such tax separately from the price of such machine or part. No other charges may be added to the maximum price which were not customarily added by the seller on October 1, 1941, but any charges which were customarily added on that date may be added to the maximum price if billed separately.

(e) If the maximum price provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, for second-hand machines or parts are not adaptable to the pricing of particular machines or parts, or if they permit the charging of prices in excess of prices which could be obtained if sufficient new machines or parts were available, the Price Administrator may by separate regulation or order establish other maximum prices for the sale or delivery of such second-hand machines or parts.

§ 1309.12 Maximum prices: Leases. (a) If for any machine or part the lessor thereof had a published or confidential rental in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum rental shall be determined as provided in § 1390.5.

(b) If for any machine or part the lessor thereof had no published or confidential rental in effect on October 1, 1941:

(1) Rental. The maximum rental on each lease or delivery shall be the rental determined as it would have been on October 1, 1941, and reported pursuant to subparagraph (2): Provided, That the Office of Price Administration either approves such rental in writing or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receipt of the report. Within five days prior to filing such report and during such thirty-day period, such lessor may quote, contract, lease or deliver any such machine or part at the proposed rental, but final settlement shall be made in accordance with the action of the Office of Price Administration on such report, and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made.

(2) Report. The lessor of such machine or part shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the proposed rental, the proposed billing date, and all relevant price-determining data. If such lessor desires such rental to become the maximum rental applicable to all subsequent leases and deliveries of such machine or part, a statement that the report is also filed pursuant to § 1390.13 should be included.

§ 1390.13 New list prices. (a) Any person who desires or is required in writing by the Office of Price Administration to establish a list price for any machine or part or machinery service shall file a report pursuant to paragraph (b) hereof, containing a proposed price determined under §§ 1390.7 or 1390.8 (Manufacturer's Sales), 1390.9 (Machinery Services), 1390.10 (Re-seller's Sales), or 1390.12 (Leases), and such price shall thereafter be the maximum price: Provided, That the Office of Price Administration either approves such price in writing or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receipt of the report. Such price may be disapproved only on the ground that it was not computed in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, or because the Office of Price Administration finds that a computation at a later date may result in a lower maximum price.

(b) Under the circumstances set forth in paragraph (a), a report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the proposed list price, the proposed effective date, the class or classes of purchasers to whom such price is to be quoted, all relevant data used in determining such price, and evidence that such price was determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended.

§ 1390.14 Reports on cost-plus contracts. Any person who has agreed to sell or deliver any machine or part or to perform any manufacturing service pursuant to a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost contract shall on or before August 1, 1942, or within ten days after entering into such contract file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a copy or a summary of such contract.

§ 1390.15 Emergency service charges. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, any manufacturer, seller, lessor, or machinery service supplier may add to the maximum price herein provided an extra charge in the amount of the extra out-of-pocket expense incurred for special services, either where an emergency requires that material be obtained from a source more expensive than the usual source, or where an emergency requires special handling of a machine or part after its manufacture: Provided, That such extra charge is stated separately from the purchase price in billing. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit a manufacturer, seller, lessor, or machinery service supplier to pay more than the applicable maximum price for any material or service.

§ 1390.16 Federal and state taxes. (a) Any tax levied by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof which the seller on October 1, 1941 added to the price paid by the purchaser shall not be included in the maximum price but may be collected by the seller in addition to the maximum price if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price.

(b) Any tax upon the sale or delivery of a machine or part and any compensating use tax upon a machine or part levied by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof and become effective on or after October 1, 1941, may also be collected by the seller making such taxable sale or delivery in addition to the maximum price if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price, unless the seller had increased his price on or before October 1, 1941, to reflect such new or increased tax.

(c) (1) Any separately stated tax paid by a purchaser for resale upon the purchase of a machine or part may be collected by such purchaser in addition to the maximum price upon the resale of such machine or part unless the purchaser's price in effect on October 1, 1941, reflected the amount of such tax.

(2) Any tax paid by a manufacturer upon the purchase of a part which can be delivered separately from the principal assembly of the complete machine may also be collected by the manufacturer upon the sale of the complete machine, as well as upon the sale of the part separately, if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price, unless the manufacturer's price for the machine or for the part in effect on October 1, 1941, reflected the amount of such tax.

§ 1390.17 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export a machine or part shall be determined in accordance with the methods provided in the Maximum Export Price Regulation[*] issued by the Office of Price Administration. An "export sale" is any sale between a seller in the Continental United States and a purchaser outside thereof in which the commodity sold is transported from the Continental United States to a point outside thereof and includes any sale of a commodity outside the Continental United States by an agent of the exporter or by a corporation owned or controlled by the exporter within a period of two years after the date of shipment of the commodity from the Continental United States.

§ 1390.18 Contract prices, renegotiations, price-adjustment agreements, and price increases.—(a) Existing contracts. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 1390.3, any person may until September 1, 1942, deliver, perform, or receive, or make or receive payment for, any machine or part or machinery service pursuant to a contract entered into prior to July 22, 1942, at the price provided in such contract: Provided, That on or before September 1, 1942, the contract price shall be revised so as not to exceed the maximum price computed as of the date of entering into the contract or as of the date of any changes in the contract price, and that refunds or other allowances in accordance with such recomputation are made as to deliveries made or services performed on or after July 22, 1942.

(b) Prices for deliveries pursuant to a firm-price contract. Except as provided in § 1390.7 (c) (4), when the maximum price applicable to a firm price contract for the sale and delivery of any machine or part or for machinery services has been determined in accordance with the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, the maximum price need not be recomputed for any subsequent deliveries pursuant to such contract unless the contract price is revised by renegotiation or adjustment in accordance with paragraphs (d) or (e) of this section.

(c) Specification changes. If a contract for the sale and delivery of a machine or part or for machinery services for which there was no list price in effect on October 1, 1941, has been or is entered into at a price which does not exceed the maximum price, computed as of the time of entering into such contract, or has been revised in accordance with any of the provisions of this section, changes in the contract price required by changes in specifications may be made without recomputation of the maximum price: Provided, That the difference in price as a result of the change in specifications shall be calculated in accordance with the formula provided in § 1390.7.

(d) Renegotiations. If a contract for the sale and delivery of machines and parts or for machinery services has been or is entered into at a price which does not exceed the maximum price, computed as of the time of entering into such contract, or has been revised in accordance with any of the provisions of this section, the contract price may be reduced at any time without recomputation of the maximum price, and may be increased by renegotiation if the price, as so increased, does not exceed the maximum price computed as of the time of such renegotiation and if a report is made pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section.

(e) Price adjustment clauses. (1) On and after July 22, 1942, no upward adjustment in any contract price for a machine or part or machinery service shall be made other than by renegotiation except that an adjustment may be made pursuant to an "escalator clause" or other formula for price adjustment up to the maximum price in effect at the time of such adjustment, as it may then have been amended or revised by order of the Office of Price Administration: Provided, That such price adjustments shall not be used to correct estimating errors, and that a report is filed as required by paragraph (g) of this section.

(2) On and after July 22, 1942, no person shall enter any contract for the sale or delivery of machines or parts or for machinery services which provides for upward adjustment of the contract price without renegotiation, except to the extent permitted in subparagraph (1).

(f) New contracts. Whenever a new contract is entered into for the sale and delivery of machines or parts or for machinery services for which there was no published or confidential list price in effect on October 1, 1941, and which has previously been sold or supplied, the applicable maximum price shall be recomputed as of the time of entering into the new contract. For the purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, any extension of an existing contract which provides for the delivery of a greater number of machines or parts, or for a greater number of hours or other units of machinery services, than were originally contracted for shall be deemed to be a new contract.

(g) Price increases. If the price of any machine or part or machinery service computed in accordance with the provisions of § 1390.7 is at any time increased above the price charged on the previous sale or delivery or is increased above the original contract price by renegotiation or by a price adjustment clause, unless the increase is definitely assignable to a change in specifications or a change in conditions of delivery, the seller thereof shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after making any sale or delivery at such increased price, or agreeing upon such increased price, a report containing: (1) a description of the machine or part or machinery service; (2) the price on the sale prior to the price increase, the date of such sale and the name and description of the purchaser; (3) the price charged on October 1, 1941, or on the first sale subsequent thereto, and the date of such sale; (4) the new price; (5) the date of entering into the contract providing the increased price; (6) the name and description of the purchaser; and (7) an explanation of the higher price: Provided, That if the price of a machine or part or machinery service has previously been reported pursuant to this paragraph without objection from the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall not be required to report subsequent sales or deliveries at the same or a lower price.

§ 1390.19 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices, rentals, or charges than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1390.20 Evasion. (a) It shall be a violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, to effect a price increase above the applicable maximum price in connection with any sale, lease or delivery of any machine or part, or with the supplying of any machinery service by changing discounts or customary price differentials among classes of purchasers; by making minor changes in machines or parts or machinery services having published or confidential list prices; by requiring a customer to furnish material for processing not in accordance with previous practice; by entering into a joint venture with any other person subject hereto for cross-selling, cross-purchasing, or cross-servicing; by reducing the period of any guaranty or warranty of performance; by eliminating or reducing any maintenance, repair or installation service; by undervaluing commodities received in trade; by eliminating or reducing rental credits on purchases; or by any other change in terms or conditions of sale, lease, or contract.

(b) The Office of Price Administration may, upon request, grant written permission to any person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, to change a term or condition of sale, lease or contract in effect on October 1, where such change is necessitated by orders issued by the War Production Board, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or any other agency of the United States, or by other conditions caused by the war.

§ 1390.21 Developmental contracts and subcontracts. (a) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a machine or part or to any machinery service performed pursuant to a contract or subcontract certified in writing to the Office of Price Administration by the United States or any agency thereof as being developmental: Provided, That a report is filed pursuant to paragraph (b). For the purposes of this section, a contract is deemed to be "developmental" during the period required for the selection of a product by the purchaser or for the accumulation of sufficient production experience by the manufacturer or supplier to permit a fair estimate of the manufacturing costs, or both. After the Office of Price Administration shall have determined after consultation with the appropriate government agency that the period necessary for development has expired, and has in writing so notified such agency and the manufacturer or machinery service supplier, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall apply to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such machine or part or to all such machinery services performed thereafter.

(b) Within ten days after entering into any such developmental contract or subcontract the manufacturer or machinery service supplier shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the product or products to be manufactured or the machinery services to be supplied, a summary of the terms of the contract or subcontract including all pricing provisions, a short statement of the production plan of which this contract is a part, and an estimate of the expected duration of such developmental work. For any such contract or subcontract in effect on July 22, 1942 such report shall be filed prior to August 15, 1942.

§ 1390.22 Secret contracts. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a machine or part or to the sale of any machinery service pursuant to a contract or subcontract which is deemed to be a "secret" contract and is so certified to the Office of Price Administration by the United States or any agency thereof. Such certification shall set forth the date of the "secret" contract and its number or other designation. After the Office of Price Administration shall have received notice from the United States or the certifying agency that such contract is no longer deemed to be secret, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall apply to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such machine or part, or to all such machinery services completed thereafter.

§ 1390.23 Emergency purchases. (a) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, shall not apply to any sale or delivery pursuant to any emergency purchase by the United States or any agency thereof for immediate delivery of any machine or part or immediate performance of any machinery service: Provided, That if the total price exceeds $500, a report is filed pursuant to paragraph (b).

(b) Within ten days after making any such emergency purchase in the amount of more than $500, at a price which is known or suspected by the purchaser to be in excess of the maximum price, any person making such purchase on behalf of the United States or any agency thereof shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., certifying that such purchase was made in a situation in which it was imperative to secure the machine, part, or machinery service immediately and in which it was impossible to secure, or unfair to require, immediate delivery or performance at the applicable maximum price and setting forth (1) the name and address of the seller or supplier; (2) date of purchase; (3) date of delivery or performance; (4) description of the machine or part purchased or machinery service performed; (5) quantity purchased; (6) price at which purchased; and (7) a brief statement of the facts giving rise to the emergency situation which necessitated the purchase at a price higher than the applicable maximum price.

§ 1390.24 Privileges accorded to certain foreign governments. The privileges accorded to the United States or any agency thereof by § 1390.21 (developmental contracts and subcontracts), § 1390.22 (secret contracts) and § 1390.23 (emergency purchases) shall apply to the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States," or to any agency of any such government.

Upon or prior to the filing of an application for adjustment, and pending the issuance of an order granting or denying such application, the Office of Price Administration may issue a temporary permit in writing to the effect that during the period of such permit contracts or subcontracts may be entered into, or proposed to be entered into, and deliveries may be made at the price requested in such application, but final settlement shall be made in accordance with the order and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made. Notwithstanding the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6, the proposed price may not be charged pending the issuance of an order unless such a temporary permit is obtained.

(b) Adjustments. (1) Any person who on October 1, 1941, sold or offered for sale any machine or part at a list price on a delivered price basis in a given area and whose outbound freight cost has increased since that date may file a petition for adjustment of the maximum price for such machine or part pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 1 [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Amendments. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1 [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

The transferor in such cases shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended.

§1390.29 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages or suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

[2] Supra, note 2.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Supplementary Regulation 4—to General Maximum Price Regulation [2]]

EXCEPTIONS [3]

SALES TO U. S. AGENCIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Regulation, as amended, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register. Section 1499.29 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.29 Exceptions for sales and deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof of certain commodities and in certain transactions and for certain other commodities, sales and deliveries. (a) General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of the following commodities or in the following transactions:

(1) Sales or deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, of: (i) aircraft, ammunition, armored trains, artillery, balloon barrage equipment, bombs, bomb sights, caissons, fire control equipment, gas masks, grenades, gun sights, military bridges, mines, mortars, projectiles, pyrotechnics, small arms, ships and boats and torpedoes; and (ii) amphibians, armored vehicles, automobiles, tanks, trailers and trucks, for military purposes.

(2) Component parts and subassemblies of any product set forth in subparagraph (1) above, regardless of the person to whom sold or delivered. The term "component parts and subassemblies" includes all metallic and nonmetallic component parts, adjuncts, and accessories which have been machined or fabricated. The term does not include raw or unfinished materials or any other materials which are in such form as to permit their use in the manufacture of products other than those set forth in subparagraph (1) above.

(3) Any manufacturing service performed by a person other than the manufacturer in the production of any product set forth in subparagraph (1) or (2) above, if all or part of the material on which such service is performed is supplied by the manufacturer.

(4) Military propellants and explosives.

(5) Sales or deliveries of any commodity manufactured, or service supplied, pursuant to a contract or subcontract certified in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., by the United States or any agency thereof, or by the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, as being a developmental contract or subcontract: Provided, That within ten days after entering into any such contract or subcontract the manufacturer of the commodity, or supplier of the service, files a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the product to be manufactured or service to be supplied, a summary of the terms of the contract or subcontract including all pricing provisions, a statement of the production plan of which this is a part and an estimate of the expected duration of such developmental work. For any contract or subcontract in effect on July 1, 1942, such report shall be filed prior to July 15, 1942. For the purposes of this subparagraph (5), a contract or subcontract is deemed to be "developmental" if the manufacturer or supplier under such contract or subcontract requires a period of time for the accumulation of sufficient production experience to permit him to make a fair estimate of his manufacturing costs, or if the purchaser under such contract or subcontract requires a period of time to select a product, or both. If the Office of Price Administration determines, after consultation with the certifying Government agency, that the period necessary for development has expired and in writing so notifies such agency and the manufacturer of the commodity, or supplier of the service, this exception shall not apply to all sales or deliveries of the commodity or service made after such notification.

(6) Sales or deliveries of any commodity manufactured, or service supplied, pursuant to a contract or subcontract which is deemed to be a "secret" contract or subcontract and is certified as such to the Office of Price Administration by the United States or any agency thereof, or by the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government. Such certification shall set forth the date of the secret contract and its number or other designation. After the Office of Price Administration shall have received notice from the certifying Government agency that such contract or subcontract is no longer deemed to be secret, this exception shall not apply to all subsequent sales or deliveries of the commodity or service.

(7) Emergency purchases by the United States or any agency thereof, or by the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, of any commodity for immediate delivery: Provided, That the person making such emergency purchases on behalf of the United States or any such Government files a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within five days after such a purchase is made, certifying that it was made in a situation in which it was imperative to secure the commodity immediately and in which it was impossible to secure, or unfair to require, immediate delivery at the applicable maximum price, and setting forth (i) the name and address of the seller (ii) date of purchase (iii) date of delivery (iv) description of commodity purchased (v) quantity purchased (vi) price at which purchased, and (vii) a brief statement of the facts giving rise to the emergency situation which necessitated the purchase at a price higher than the applicable maximum price.

(8) Prior to January 1, 1943, to sales or deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, of any commodity set forth in subparagraph (9) below, if the purchaser under such contract or subcontract requires a period of time to select a product, or both, and if the Office of Price Administration determines, after consultation with the certifying Government agency, that the period necessary for development has expired and in writing so notifies such agency and the manufacturer of the commodity, or supplier of the service, this exception shall not apply to all sales or deliveries of the commodity or service made after such notification.

(9) Sales or deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof of Brazilian rock quartz crystals suitable for piezo-electrical purposes.

(10) Sales or deliveries of metallic copper, lead, or zinc, or of ores or concentrates containing copper, lead or zinc, to the Metals Reserve Company, or its duly authorized agent or agents, pursuant to the premium price plan announced by the Federal Loan Agency, the War Production Board, and the Office of Price Administration.

(11) Sales or deliveries of aluminum scrap to the Metals Reserve Company, or its duly authorized agent or agents, pursuant to the program with respect to idle or excessive inventories of aluminum materials adopted and announced on February 24, 1942, by the War Production Board, Division of Industry Operations.

(12) Sales or deliveries of nickel-bearing scrap materials to the Metals Reserve Company, or its duly authorized agent or agents, pursuant to the program with respect to frozen stocks of metallic nickel adopted and announced on April 15, 1942, by the War Production Board Division of Industry Operations.

(13) Sales or deliveries after May 17, 1942, of any imported commodity to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, or to any person who will use the imported commodity purchased by him to fulfill a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or with any such Government or any agency of any such Government, or a subcontract under any such contract: Provided, That this exception shall not apply to any lumber and shingles produced in and imported from Canada or to any commodity imported prior to April 1, 1942. For the purposes of this subparagraph (13), the term "imported commodity" means any commodity brought into the continental United States from outside the continental United States or brought into any territory of possession of the United States from outside such territory or possession.

(14) (i) Sales or deliveries to the Agricultural Marketing Administration for Lend-Lease purposes exclusively, of solid pack pie apricots in No. 10 cans.

(ii) Sales or deliveries to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States" or any agency thereof, of canned dried eggs.

(15) Sales or deliveries of any commodity by the War Department or the Department of the Navy of the United States through such Departments' sales stores, including commissaries and ships' stores ashore and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges or ships' service activities.

(b) Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or with the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, or a subcontract under any such contract, who believes that a maximum price established by the General Maximum Price Regulation impedes or threatens to impede production of a commodity, or supply of a service, which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of such contract or subcontract, may file an application for adjustment of such maximum price in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6. Upon the filing of an application for adjustment and pending the issuance of an order granting or denying such application, contracts or subcontracts may be entered into, or offered to be entered into, and deliveries may be made, at the price requested in such application. If, however, the order issued denies the application in whole or in part, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price ordered, and if any payment has been made at the requested price, the applicant may be required to refund the excess.

(c) Definitions. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the terms used herein.

This Supplementary Regulation No. 4 (§ 1499.29) shall become effective July 1, 1942. (Pub. Law No. 421, 77th Cong.)

(ii) Special characteristics which bring the grade or grades involved within the provisions of this paragraph (d);
(iii) Proposed sales prices per air dry ton, and terms of sale (i. e. delivered, delivered with freight allowed, f.o.b. mill, ex dock Atlantic seaboard, or other);

PART 1375—EXPORT PRICES

REVISED MAXIMUM EXPORT PRICE REGULATION[1]

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1375.1 to 1375.11 inclusive issued under Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

§ 1375.1 Maximum export price. On and after July 2, 1942, regardless of the terms of any contract of sale or purchase, or of any export license thereafter issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or other governmental agency, no exporter shall sell, offer to sell, transport, ship, or participate in the transportation or shipment of, any commodity at a price in excess of the following maximum export prices:

(a) In the case of an exporter other than the manufacturer or producer of the commodity the maximum export price shall be either:

(1) The price at which the commodity was acquired for export or the maximum domestic price which would be applicable to a current sale of the commodity to the exporter by the supplier thereof, plus the additions thereto authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1375.2 and less the deductions provided by § 1375.3 (a); or

(2) The maximum domestic price, at the point from which the commodity is to be shipped for export, which would be applicable to a sale of the commodity by the exporter to a domestic purchaser similar to the purchaser outside the Continental United States, plus the additions thereto authorized by § 1375.2 (b) less the deductions provided by § 1375.3 (a). In the event that a maximum domestic price for such a sale of the commodity by the exporter is not determinable, a price in line with the maximum undelivered price which would be applicable to such a sale by the domestic jobber or wholesaler located nearest the point from which the commodity is to be shipped for export may be substituted as the basic price and the additions authorized by § 1375.2 (b) and the deductions provided by § 1375.3 (a) made thereto.

(b) In the case of an exporter who is the manufacturer or producer of the commodity to be exported, the maximum export price shall be his maximum domestic price for the commodity to a domestic purchaser similar to the purchaser outside the Continental United States or, in case there is no such price, shall be his maximum domestic price to such a similar purchaser for the most nearly similar commodity of equal or lower quality or grade or, in the absence of both of the foregoing, the highest price at which the commodity to be exported was sold to such a similar purchaser in the domestic market on the date the contract of export sale was entered into, plus the additions thereto authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1375.2 and less the deductions provided by § 1375.3 (b).

(c) In the case of an exporter who is the manufacturer or producer of a commodity which is not sold domestically by any seller and for which there is no comparable domestic product, the maximum export price shall be the highest price charged in the export market by the manufacturer or producer to the same purchaser, or to a similar purchaser outside the Continental United States during the period March 1–April 15, 1942. No such price shall be charged until twenty days after an affidavit has been filed with the Office of Export Price Control, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., stating that no comparable product sold in the domestic market exists, showing the maximum export price proposed to be charged on export sales of the commodity, and indicating the transaction or transactions in the March 1–April 15, 1942, period upon which the proposed price is based, unless approval of such price is given prior to the expiration of such twenty days. The Price Administrator may disapprove the prices proposed or deny the right to use this section of this Maximum Export Price Regulation on the ground that a comparable domestically sold product does exist.

(d) In the case of solid fuels exported to the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, the maximum export price shall be that established by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 120, 121, and 122 to the extent that such regulations are applicable.

§ 1375.2 Additions to cost or domestic price. (a) An amount (stated either as a percentage or as a flat amount, depending upon the customary practice in the trade) not in excess of the average premium charged in the export trade for the particular services or functions performed during either the period July 1–December 31, 1940, or March 1–April 15, 1942, whichever average premium is the lower, may be added by the exporter to his cost of acquisition, maximum domestic price or other basic price, as provided in § 1375.1 of this Maximum Export Price Regulation. In determining the applicable premium, due recognition shall be given to existing differentials in the export premiums charged by different types of exporters, differences in premium resulting from variations in the size or value of exports or from variations in the volume of business done by various exporters, as well as to differentials in premium between exports to the Territories and possessions of the United States, Canada, and the various foreign nations: Provided, That no premium may be added to a maximum export price computed under § 1375.1 (a) (2) or § 1375.1 (c): Provided further, That the applicable average export premium shall not be increased by reason of the fact that more than one exporter participates in the process of exportation.

(b) An amount, in addition to the foregoing premium, may be added by the exporter to his cost of acquisition, maximum domestic price or other basic price as provided in § 1375.1 of this Maximum Export Price Regulation, to compensate for expenses, such as war risk insurance, consular fees, export packing charges, demurrage charges, and shipping charges, incident to the export and absorbed or to be absorbed by the exporter. When the price on a particular commodity or on particular types of export has been customarily computed by the individual exporter on a delivered f. a. s. or c. i. f. basis, inland or other shipping charges may be added as export expenses to the extent that the actual transportation and shipping charges exceed the charges customarily incurred and absorbed on export sales during the period July 1–December 31, 1941.

§ 1375.3 Deductions from maximum export price. (a) An exporter other than the manufacturer or producer shall deduct from the maximum export price the amount of any drawback of import duties, excise taxes, or export subsidy to which the exporter is entitled and lays claim, with allowance for the expenses incurred in obtaining such drawback.

(b) An exporter who is the manufacturer or producer shall deduct from the maximum export price the amount of any drawback of import duties, excise taxes, or export subsidy by which his cost of manufacture of the commodity being exported is reduced below the cost of manufacture of the same or a similar article sold domestically.

§ 1375.4 Promulgation of specific maximum export premiums. The Office of Price Administration may, from time to time, promulgate figures which shall reflect the average premium charged in the export trade for particular services or functions performed during either the period July 1–December 31, 1940 or March 1–April 15, 1942, whichever average premium is lower. Where the periods July 1–December 31, 1940 or March 1–April 15, 1942 are determined by the Price Administrator to be inappropriate base periods, or where the trade or industry finds great difficulty in discovering an appropriate premium in the base periods, the Office of Price Administration may publish a specific export premium for the trade or industry. In case of such promulgation, and pursuant to and subject to the terms of the promulgation, the premium therein stated shall become the maximum premium to be charged in the export trade. Such promulgation or promulgations, shall be in the form of amendments to this Maximum Export Price Regulation, and shall be inserted as subparagraphs of § 1375.5.

§ 1375.5 Specific maximum export premiums. (a) The maximum export premium to be charged on an export sale of any finished piece goods, as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 127[1] (whether covered by that regulation or not), shall be

(1) For finished piece goods covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 127:

(i) If sold by the manufacturer or converter thereof, an amount not in excess of 6% of the domestic maximum price applicable to a sale by such person to a Class I domestic purchaser.

(ii) If sold by a person other than the manufacturer or converter thereof, an amount not in excess of 6% of the domestic maximum price applicable to a sale by such person to a Class I domestic purchaser.

(2) For finished piece goods other than those covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 127:

(i) If sold by the manufacturer or converter thereof, an amount not in excess of 6% of the domestic maximum price applicable to a sale by such person to a domestic purchaser similar to the purchaser located outside the Continental United States.

(ii) If sold by a person other than the manufacturer or converter thereof:

(a) If the goods to be exported were acquired directly from the converter or manufacturer thereof, an amount not in excess of 13½% of the cost of acquisition;

(b) If the goods to be exported were acquired from a person other than the converter or manufacturer thereof, an amount not in excess of 8½% of the cost of acquisition.

§ 1375.6 Exceptions. (a) The provisions of this Maximum Export Price Regulation shall not be applicable to any export made pursuant to a contract of sale entered into prior to April 30, 1942 for which an export license is not required or which is made under a validly outstanding export license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or the Department of State prior to April 30, 1942: Provided, That the exception here granted shall apply to exports for which an export license is not required or which are made under general or unlimited licenses issued by the Board of Economic Warfare only if the commodity is actually transported outside of the Continental United States prior to October 1, 1942.

(b) The Administrator, subject to such terms and conditions as he shall determine to be necessary or desirable, may grant an exception to the provisions of this Maximum Export Price Regulation in any case in which a certificate is received by the Administrator from the Board of Economic Warfare certifying that such exception is necessary for considerations of political or military necessity or because of the requirements of economic warfare.

(c) The provisions of this Maximum Export Price Regulation shall not be applicable to any export under a contract of sale entered into prior to April 30, 1942, the price for which was determined under the export provisions of a specific price schedule or regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration prior to April 25, 1942.

§ 1375.7 Records. (a) Each exporter, in connection with any export for which a specific export license is required, either in the space provided under question 17 of the duplicate and triplicate copies of the export license application to be filed with the Office of Export Control, Board of Economic Warfare, or in the space provided in any form of export license application hereafter promulgated, shall state the following information:

(1) In the case of an exporter other than the manufacturer, the cost of acquiring the commodity or other basic price (exclusive of any expenses incident to export), or in the case of the manufacturer, the maximum domestic price or other basic price to which the additions authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1375.2 are to be made, and

(2) The amount of the premium to be added pursuant to § 1375.2 (a).

(b) In addition, each exporter shall, for a period of not less than two years from the date of export, retain a record of each export transaction which shall contain all the facts pertinent thereto, including:

(1) (i) In the case of an export by a person other than the manufacturer, the cost of acquisition and name and address of the person from whom the commodity was acquired, or other basic price authorized by § 1375.1 (a).

(ii) In the case of an export by a manufacturer or producer the maximum domestic price or other basic price authorized by paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 1375.1.

(2) The name and address of the importer to whom the export sale was made, and

(3) The aggregate price charged, the amount of the premium added pursuant to § 1375.2 (a) and the amount of each additional item of expense added pursuant to § 1375.2 (b) together with a copy of the invoice, bill of lading or other statement rendered to the importer in connection with the export sale.

(c) Such records shall be available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the Office of Price Administration and the Administrator may require their submission for periodical inspection if he deems such inspection necessary or desirable.

§ 1375.8 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Export Price Regulation the term:

(1) "Export" or "export sale" means any sale of a commodity located within the Continental United States by a seller in the Continental United States to a purchaser outside thereof in which the commodity sold is transported from the Continental United States to a point outside thereof and includes any sale of the exported commodity by an agent of the exporter or by a corporation owned or controlled by the exporter within a period of two years after the date of shipment of the commodity from the Continental United States: Provided, That it shall not include such a sale if the agent or subsidiary has processed, fabricated or otherwise substantially changed the form of the commodity exported, or if the sale by the agent or subsidiary is through a regularly established retail outlet owned or operated by the agent or subsidiary.

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

[Maximum Price Regulation 174]

FREIGHT CAR MATERIALS SOLD BY CAR BUILDERS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the application of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] and other specific regulations and orders heretofore issued to sales of freight car materials by car builders would tend to hinder the interchange between car builders of surplus scarce materials in accordance with Supplementary General Limitation Order No. L–97–a–1, as amended, issued by the War Production Board.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 174 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1390.51 to 1390.58, inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.

[2] 7 F.R. 971.

§ 1390.51 Prohibition against selling freight car materials above maximum prices. Notwithstanding the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, of any other regulation or order heretofore issued by the Office of Price Administration, or of any contract, agreement or other obligation, on and after May 26, 1942, no car builder shall sell to another car builder or to a railroad, pursuant to Supplementary General Limitation Order No. L–97–a–1, as amended, issued by the War Production Board, any freight car material, and no car builder or railroad shall buy from a car builder any such freight car material, at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by § 1390.52. The price at which any sale, delivery or offer to sell was made between May 26, 1942, and July 2, 1942, shall be adjusted so as not to exceed the maximum price herein permitted.

§ 1390.52 Maximum prices for freight car materials sold by car builders. (a) The maximum price for any freight car material or any sale by one car builder to another car builder or by a car builder to a railroad shall not exceed the total of the following:

(1) The selling car builder's net invoiced cost of such freight car material, or the maximum price otherwise established by the Office of Price Administration for the purchase of such material by the selling car builder, at the time of sale pursuant to such Supplementary General Limitation Order No. L–97–a–1, as amended, whichever is lower;

(2) Inbound freight paid by the seller on such freight car material, if any;

(3) Direct labor costs, if any, incurred by the selling car builder in partly or wholly fabricating or finishing such freight car material, determined on the basis of labor rates in effect on October 1, 1941; and

(4) Any State sales or retailer's occupational tax levied on such sale.

§ 1390.53 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in § 1390.52 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1390.54 Records, and reports. (a) Every car builder who sells any freight car material to another car builder or to a railroad, shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before the fifteenth day of each month, covering all sales made in the preceding calendar month. The first such report shall be filed on or before August 15, 1942 and shall cover all sales made between May 26, 1942 and August 1, 1942. Such report shall set forth (1) description of each item of freight car material sold; (2) quantity sold; (3) unit in which sold; (4) unit purchase price; (5) unit inbound freight, if any; (6) total unit cost (item 4 plus item 5); (7) direct labor cost of fabrication per unit, if any at October 1, 1941 rates; (8) unit selling price f. o .b. seller's plant (item 6 plus item 7); (9) unit state sales tax, if any; and (10) name of purchaser and destination.

(b) Every such car builder shall keep records of each sale containing the data used in preparing the reports required in paragraph (a) hereof.

(c) Every car builder shall keep such other records and file such other reports as the Office of Price Administration may at any time require in writing, either in addition to or in substitution for records and reports herein required.

§ 1390.55 Petitions for amendment. Any car builder seeking a modification of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 174 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1390.56 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 174 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 174 or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest District, State or Regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1390.57 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 174, the term:

(1) "Car builder" means any person engaged in the building of railroad freight cars either for his own use or for sale to others;

(2) "Freight car material" means any material which will ultimately be incorporated into the structure of a railroad freight car and which is sold by a car builder pursuant to Supplementary General Limitation Order No. L–97–a–1, as amended, issued by the War Production Board.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1390.58 Effective date and termination date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 174 (§§ 1390.51 to 1390.58, inclusive) shall become effective July 2, 1942 and shall terminate on December 31, 1942.

Issued this 2d day of July 1942.

(b) If the signatures before the Board and the transferor, on Part A of the certificate, do not appear to have been executed by the same person, the dealer or other transferor shall refuse to sell or deliver a new adult bicycle to the person presenting the certificate and shall report these facts to the issuing Board.

§ 1391.16 Allotment of State and Board quotas. The Office of Price Administration will forward to each State Director the quota allotted to his State. The State Director shall then forward to each Board its quota, if any.

(b) During any quota period in which the total number of applications, filed and anticipated, of applicants otherwise entitled to Certificates, exceeds a Board's quota, the Board shall determine which of them are to be granted by weighing the relative needs of the applicants, and the relative importance to the war program, public safety, health and morale of the operation of a bicycle by each applicant.

§ 1391.18 Application by Board for quota adjustment. Where a Board believes that the public interest requires an increase in its quota, the Board shall file an application for an additional quota allotment with the State Director setting forth in full the facts warranting such an increase. The State Director may draw upon his state reserve, if any, to augment the quota for such Board.

(c) The Office of Price Administration may deny an application for an authorization, or may grant it, in whole or in part, if it believes that the facts stated in the application are true and that the action will serve the convenience and advantage of the community and of the Nation.

(d) Authorizations issued on or after July 9, 1942, shall be serially numbered and in two parts, each part bearing the same serial number.

(e) Upon written application to a Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, an authorization issued on or after July 9, 1942, or Part B of such an authorization, may be exchanged by the Office of Price Administration for two or more authorizations or Parts B of authorizations, in the aggregate authorizing the transfer of not more than the number of bicycles specified in the document so exchanged. Such document shall thereafter be void. It shall be so marked and forwarded to the OPA Inventory Unit.

(f) Persons other than dealers, distributors or manufacturers, to whom an authorization has been surrendered in exchange for a new adult bicycle shall forward Parts A and B thereof to the OPA Inventory Unit, within 3 days after delivery of such bicycle.

§ 1391.26 Use by dealers and distributors of authorizations, and Parts B of certificates, authorizations, and WPB orders. (a) A dealer or distributor who has transferred a new adult bicycle to a consumer pursuant to a certificate or a WPB order, issued on or after July 9, 1942, or to another dealer or distributor pursuant to an authorization issued on or after July 9, 1942, and who has completed and forwarded Part A of such certificate, authorization, or WPB order, as required, may acquire, from a transferor, a new adult bicycle for purposes of sale, upon completion of Part B of such certificate, authorization, or order, and surrender thereof to such transferor.

(b) A dealer or distributor who has transferred a new adult bicycle to another dealer or distributor pursuant to Part B of a certificate, authorization, or WPB order, issued on or after July 9, 1942, may acquire, from a transferor, a new adult bicycle for purposes of sale, upon certifying on such document the name of the person from whom he received it and the number of new adult bicycles delivered by him pursuant thereto, and upon surrender thereof to such transferor. The dealer or distributor shall also note on such Part B the date on which he surrenders it to the transferor.

(c) New adult bicycles may be transferred under this section only in the number specified in the certificate, WPB order, or authorization, or Parts B thereof, pursuant to which such bicycles are transferred.

(d) A transferee of the entire assets of the business of a dealer or distributor who has filed with the O.P.A. Inventory Unit the report of such transfer specified in paragraph (a) § 1391.5, and who continues such business, may use any certificate, authorization, or W.P.B. order, or Parts B thereof transferred with the business, in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Ration Order No. 7 applicable to dealers and distributors.

(e) Within 3 days after the discontinuance of a business by a dealer or distributor, he shall forward to the O.P.A. Inventory Unit all certificates, authorizations, or W.P.B. orders, or Parts B thereof held by him.

tributor making or accepting a transfer of any new adult bicycle shall keep, and preserve for two years, in a serially numbered or original bound book, a record of such transfer which shall include the name and address of the transferor and transferee, the number of new adult bicycles transferred and their make, model and serial numbers, the date of the transfer and the serial numbers of the certificates, authorizations, or W.P.B. orders pursuant to which the transfer is made.

§ 1391.28 Transmittal of authorizations and W.P.B. orders issued prior to July 9, 1942. Within 5 days after the surrender to a distributor of an authorization or W.P.B. order issued prior to July 9, 1942, the distributor shall report on such authorization or W.P.B. order the number of new adult bicycles which he transferred pursuant thereto, sign such report, and forward such authorization or order to the O.P.A. Inventory Unit.

Manufacturers

§ 1391.29 Report of transfers by manufacturers. Each week, manufacturers shall complete OPA Form R–702 in duplicate and forward the original to the OPA Inventory Unit, together with certificates, authorizations, WPB orders, or Parts B of such certificates, authorizations, or WPB orders, pursuant to which shipments were made by them during the week covered by the report. The report shall be forwarded not later than Tuesday after the week covered by the report. The duplicate of the report shall be kept by the manufacturer for not less than two years.

Rights of Parties Under Contracts

§ 1391.30 Rights of parties under contracts when delivery is prohibited. No person who agreed to sell and deliver a new adult bicycle shall be liable for failure to perform such an agreement if performance is prevented by Supplementary Limitation Order L–52–a [2] of the War Production Board, as amended, or by Ration Order No. 7,[3] or by Revised Ration Order No. 7, or amendments thereto, except that, if a deposit or consideration has been paid to him on account of the purchase of the new adult bicycle, he shall be liable upon demand for the return of the consideration paid, or, in the event that the consideration has been materially altered in condition or cannot be returned, then its fair net value.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter II—Office of Defense Transportation

[General Order O. D. T. 13]

PART 501—CONSERVATION OF MOTOR EQUIPMENT

SUBPART I—ESTABLISHMENT OF JOINT INFORMATION OFFICES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 8989, dated December 18, 1941, and by Executive Order No. 9156, dated May 2, 1942, and in order to enable common, contract and private carriers by motor vehicle to comply with the requirements of General Orders O.D.T. Nos. 3,[1] 4,[2] and 5 [3] as amended or revised and other future orders to be issued by the Office of Defense Transportation:

It is hereby ordered, That

Sec.
501.56 Definitions.
501.57 Establishment of joint information offices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 501.56 to 501.57, inclusive, issued under E.O. 8989, 6 F.R. 6725, and E.O. 9156, 7 F.R. 3349.

§ 501.56 Definitions. As used in this subpart:

The term "carrier" means any common carrier as defined in § 501.4 (c) of General Order O.D.T. No. 3, contract carrier as defined in § 501.16 (c) of General Order O.D.T. No. 4 and private carrier as defined in § 501.24 (c) of General Order O.D.T. No. 5.

§ 501.57 Establishment of joint information offices. On and after the effective date specified in this subpart any two or more carriers or any carrier association or group of associations may establish joint information offices, at such points and places throughout the United States as may be authorized by the Office of Defense Transportation, under the following conditions:

(a) Each joint information office shall be governed by a committee or board, selected by the carriers or members of the carrier association or associations establishing it. In selecting the governing committee or board representation shall be allowed to the various types of carriers establishing or utilizing the services of the office.

(b) The Office of Defense Transportation shall be advised forthwith as to the name and address of each person selected as a member of the governing committee or board or as manager of a joint information office and shall be furnished accurate information with respect to the character, experience and past and present occupation and employment of such persons and, on the basis thereof, shall have the right to disapprove such selections. Each person so selected may be removed at any time from such office of position by direction of the Office of Defense Transportation. No person employed as a manager or as an employee of a joint information office shall, during his employment, be employed by a carrier nor shall he be a member of the governing committee or board.

(c) The function of the joint information office shall be to assist carriers in complying with the requirements of General Orders O.D.T. Nos. 3, 4, and 5, as amended or revised, by obtaining and receiving information as to the availability of equipment and of traffic originated or controlled by or in the possession of or on order to carriers and by furnishing such information to any and all carriers who apply therefor, in the order of the receipt of their respective applications and without discrimination, preference, or partiality. The authority of such joint information office shall include all things reasonably necessary to carry out the functions above described, but shall not include the right to fix the compensation for the interchange of traffic or for the transportation of traffic interchanged, or the rental price of vehicles leased, or to designate any particular carriers to receive any given traffic or to lease, rent or exchange any given vehicle.

(d) A clearance statement shall be issued by each joint information office to each carrier with respect to a designated motor truck when such carrier representing that the movement of such motor truck to the point of destination specified is not prohibited by any order of the Office of Defense Transportation, has requested from such office information of the type designated in paragraph (c) of this section in order to permit compliance with any such order, and when:

(1) The designated motor truck is moving with less than capacity load and there is no information on file with respect to property available for transportation to, intermediate to, or beyond the point of destination of such motor truck; or

(2) When the carrier has accepted for transportation and loaded in such motor truck all property available for transportation to, intermediate to, or beyond the point of destination of such motor truck; or

(3) The designated motor truck is moving empty and there is no information on file with respect to other carriers desiring to utilize such carrier's motor truck to or toward the destination of such truck. Such clearance statement shall describe the motor truck or trucks involved and shall state the point of destination and the date and hour of the issuance of the statement. A copy of each such clearance statement shall be retained in the files of the joint information office and the original shall be given to and retained by the carrier. Such statements shall not be conclusive evidence of the facts concerning the availability of such traffic or the possibility of lease of such motor truck or trucks by other carriers.

(e) Except as may be otherwise provided by agreement between the interested carriers or prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or by the appropriate State regulatory body, the divisions of revenues between carriers for traffic interchanged between them and the compensation to be paid and received for rental of equipment shall be as determined by the Office of Defense Transportation upon appropriate application.

(f) Disputes between carriers and the manager of a joint information office or the governing committee or board may be appealed to the Director of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, and his decision on any such appeal shall supersede the decision of the manager or the governing committee or board. In cases of disputes, the manager of the joint information office shall notify all parties thereto of their right to have the matter acted upon by such an appeal to the Director of Motor Transport.

(g) The manager of the joint information office shall maintain a record of all information filed with such office and shall keep such further records and make such reports as may be required by the Office of Defense Transportation. Each carrier shall advise the manager of the joint information office as to each transaction completed with another carrier resulting from information obtained at such office. The manager shall maintain a record of all such transactions between carriers for the exclusive information of the Office of Defense Transportation and its duly accredited representatives, and shall not divulge such information to any other person, including the members of the governing committee or board. All records, files and correspondence shall be available for examination by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation at all times.

(h) No membership fee shall be charged any carrier desiring to utilize the services of a joint information office as a condition precedent to the use of such services, but the cost of establishing and maintaining any such office may be apportioned, on an equitable basis, among the carriers participating in its establishment or utilizing its services, which basis of apportionment may be changed by direction of the Office of Defense Transportation. Non-discriminatory charges, in such amount as may be fixed by the governing committee or board, may be made to carriers for services rendered to them by a joint information office. The amount of such charges may be changed by direction of the Office of Defense Transportation. A statement of such charges currently in effect shall be conspicuously posted in each office at all times.

(i) No joint information office shall be established, or if heretofore established, shall be continued to be maintained, except in compliance with this order.

Issued at Washington, D. C. this 2d day of July 1942.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN,
Director of Defense Transportation.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

LIBERALIZATION OF STATE LIMITATIONS ON SIZES AND WEIGHTS

1. The War Department has been advised by the Council of State Governments that for the duration of the war all forty-eight States have agreed to accept any of the following standards which are less restrictive than those presently prescribed by State law:

a. Permissible width. Ninety-six inches.

[2] 7 F.R. 3153, 3330, 3666, 3990, 3991, 4339, 4487, 4659, 4738.

[2] 7 F.R. 3005, 4119, 4185.
[3] 7 F.R. 3007, 4119, 4184, 4185.

c. Permissible length. (1) A single vehicle, 35 feet.
(2) A combination, 45 feet.
d. Permissible weight. (1) Per inch width of tire, 600 pounds.
(2) On single axle, 18,000 pounds.
(3) On two axles, 30,000 pounds.
(4) On three axles, 40,000 pounds.
(5) Of semi-trailers, 40,000 pounds.
(6) Of other combinations, 40,000 pounds.

Present legal standards more liberal than the foregoing will remain in effect unchanged.

2. As it is highly important to the war effort that all available motor transportation be utilized to the utmost extent, all commercial motor carriers employed in the transportation of personnel or supplies for the War Department or in which the War Department is interested will be advised of the foregoing action and urged to take full advantage thereof. In giving such advice, carriers should be cautioned that a partial check-up has indicated that to date there has been something less than the reported full acceptance of the proposed standards in the following States and that exact information should be obtained from the State highway authorities before movements contrary to the following are attempted:

a. Kentucky. Liberalization has been granted only when the entire cargo being transported is owned and shipped by the Federal Government or an agency thereof and the driver has in his possession a waybill including a statement duly signed by the shipping agency showing that the entire cargo being shipped is Government-owned and constitutes a shipment in the defense of the United States. Even then the shipment is apparently still subject to a maximum axle load of 16,000 pounds and a maximum vehicle length of 40 feet, and the consent of the Highway Department to the shipment must be obtained.

b. Louisiana. Change in such of the old limits as are below the new uniform standards is dependent upon legislative action.

c. Mississippi. (1) Forty thousand pounds gross load on three or more axles not less than 10 feet apart is authorized for movement at not more than 35 miles per hour over all U. S. highways in the State and those sections of State highways designated in a State Highway Commission Order of May 12, 1942, as shown in (2) below. Otherwise old standards apparently remain in effect.

(2) 6 Clarksdale to Pontotoc; 8 Grenada to Houston; 12 Tchula to Lexington and Durant to Ackerman; 16 Canton to Philadelphia; 24 Woodville to Hattiesburg; 13 Mendenhall to Columbia; 13–W Columbia to the Louisiana State line; 15 from the Tennessee State line to the Alabama State line; 17 Lexington to Pickens; 35 and 35–W Forest to Mt. Olive; 35–E Taylorsville to intersection with U. S. 84; 20 Mize to Taylorsville; 45–W Brooksville to Shannon; and an unnumbered route from Poplarville to Bogalusa.

d. Missouri. Any operation in excess of old standards is dependent upon the issuance of a special permit authorizing the movement. The procedure for obtaining such permits is apparently being simplified.

e. Nebraska. A proclamation of the Governor of May 15, 1942 which brought the State limitations up to the proposed standards in all other respects, failed to increase the previous limits of 42 feet on the length of tractor-semi-trailers.

f. New Jersey. Change in the only limit which does not already meet the proposed standards (the 28-foot length limit for 2-axle vehicles) is dependent upon legislative action.

g. Oklahoma. The previous 24,000-pound limit for 2-axle vehicles still applies.

h. Texas. Special permits must be obtained for movements in excess of 38,000 pounds gross load.

i. West Virginia. There has been no change in the old limits which already comply with the exception of a 16,000-pound limit on axle loads in agricultural areas.

3. Motor carriers encountering difficulties in operating under the standards set forth in paragraph 1 (except as noted in paragraph 2) should communicate directly with the State highway authorities or the State Governors in the first instance, and then, if necessary, with the Highway Transportation Division, Transportation Service, War Department, Washington, D. C. (Republic 6700, extension 6176) if the matter cannot be satisfactorily adjusted locally. Written reports giving full details should be sent to the Highway Transportation Division, Transportation Service, in all cases, whether or not settled locally. Such reports should give the name of the carrier involved, the nature of the load being carried, the place and cause of the stoppage of the movement, whether State or local officials were responsible therefor, the manner in which the situation was handled, the final outcome, and any other pertinent facts necessary to permit appropriate action to be taken with a view to preventing recurrences of the situation in the future in the event the stoppage was unjustified. FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 6336]

INCREASED CHARGES FOR INTERSTATE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE SERVICE IN IOWA

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June, 1942;

It appearing that on May 29, 1942 Northwestern Bell Telephone Company for the first time filed with this Commission tariffs containing schedules stating its rates, charges, classifications, regulations, practices and services for and in connection with interstate telephone exchange service rendered by it in certain Iowa communities and in adjacent localities in other states; such tariffs to become effective on July 1, 1942, and which are designated as Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, Tariff F.C.C. No. 20;

It further appearing that certain of the charges stated in said tariff schedules are higher than the charges for and in connection with such interstate telephone exchange service in effect on September 1, 1934, when such schedules should have been filed under the Commission's Telephone Division Order No. 1 and under section 203 of the Communications Act of 1934; that such schedules have not been filed with any regulatory agency, and the justness and reasonableness of such increases have not been reviewed by any regulatory agency; that the rights and interests of the public may be injuriously affected by such increases; and it being the opinion of the Commission that the operation of such increased charges should be suspended pending hearing and decision as to their lawfulness;

It is ordered, That an investigation be, and the same is hereby, instituted into the lawfulness of the rates, charges, classifications, regulations, practices and services of Northwestern Bell Telephone Company for and in connection with interstate telephone exchange service rendered by it in Iowa, and in adjacent localities in other states;

It is further ordered, That the Commission, on its own motion, enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the charges contained in Northwestern Bell Telephone Company Tariff F.C.C. TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

PART 222—CONSUMER CREDIT

"CYCLE BILLING"

Section 222.12 is amended, effective July 2, 1942, by adding the following new paragraph at the end thereof:

(m) "Cycle billing". (1) The provisions of subparagraph (2) shall be applicable, instead of the provisions of the opening paragraph of § 222.5 (c), to any Registrant who (i) on May 6, 1942, was using a system of recording and billing his charge accounts whereby such accounts were divided into several groups and a different monthly closing date and monthly billing period was used for each such group, and (ii) has received from the Federal Reserve Bank of his district a notification which is still in force stating that the Federal Reserve Bank is satisfied (a) that such billing system makes it impracticable for him to operate under § 222.5 (c) and (b) that it would be impracticable for him, in view of orders of the War Production Board restricting deliveries of office machinery, to change his system over to one that uses the calendar month as the billing period.

(2) A charge account maintained by such Registrant shall be deemed to be in default if any article (whether listed or unlisted) for which credit was extended in such account has not been paid for in full on or before the 40th day following the last day of the applicable monthly billing period during which such article was sold, except as provided in the three numbered paragraphs in § 222.5 (c).

(3) With respect to any article sold in such a charge account, the maximum maturity shall be the period provided in subparagraph (2) instead of that provided in § 222.5 (a). [The foregoing amendment was issued under the authority contained in sec. 5 (b), 40 Stat. 415, as amended by sec. 5, 40 Stat. 966, sec. 2, 48 Stat. 1, sec. 1, 54 Stat. 179; sec. 301, Pub. PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-126]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron, steel, copper, brass, bronze and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1071.2 Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order and all schedules issued pursuant thereto:

(1) "Refrigerating and air conditioning equipment" means any type of machinery, equipment or other apparatus (except a domestic mechanical refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (2) hereof and except a domestic ice refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (3) hereof) which is primarily designed to lower the temperature of matter, or to regulate the temperature or humidity of air, by mechanical, chemical or physical means, and includes all insulated enclosures, materials, parts, implements and devices used with such machinery, equipment or apparatus in causing it to perform its function of refrigeration or air conditioning.

(2) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity of 16 cubic feet or less (National Electric Manufacturing Association rating) but does not include any low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen foods or for the quick freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(3) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box for home use.

(4) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(5) "Required specifications" includes requirements to standardize the types, sizes, models or forms of, or the specifications for, refrigerating and air conditioning equipment; to eliminate, reduce or conserve the use of critical materials in the production or use of such equipment; and to substitute less critical for more critical materials in the production or use of such equipment.

(b) Issuance of schedules of required specifications. The Director of Industry Operations may from time to time issue Schedules establishing Required Specifications with respect to the production or use of any Refrigerating and air conditioning equipment. On and after the effective date of any such Schedule, no Refrigerating and air conditioning equipment affected thereby shall be produced, fabricated, delivered, accepted or installed, if such production, fabrication, delivery, acceptance or installation is prohibited by the terms of such schedule.

(c) Appeals. Any person affected by this order or any schedule issued pursuant thereto who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order or such schedule would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense work, may apply for relief by addressing a letter to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director of Industry Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(d) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order (and any Schedule issued pursuant thereto) and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of the order (or schedule) shall govern.

(e) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this Order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–126.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E. O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

Issued this 3d day of July 1942.

Director of Industry Operations.

PART 3009—CATTLE HIDES, CALF AND KIP SKINS

[Conservation Order M-194]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of cattle hides, calf and kip skins for war purposes, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3009.1 Conservation Order M-194—(a) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944) as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(b) Additional definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Cattle hides" mean the hides or skins of bulls, steers, and cows, whether native or branded, foreign or domestic, including calf and kip skins (but excluding slunks) and shall also include buffalo hides.

(2) "Tanner" means any person who during the preceding three years has tanned, or who during the operation of this order tans, more than 100 cattle hides during any one calendar month either for his own account or on contract for others.

(3) "Contractor" means any person who during the proceding three years has caused, or who during the operation of this order causes, more than 100 cattle hides during any one calendar month to be tanned for his account by others.

(4) "Processor" means any person who during the preceding three years has converted, or who during the operation of this order converts, more than 100 cattle hides during any one calendar month into a product or products other than leather.

(5) "Producer" means any person who takes off catle hides in the United States.

(6) "Collector" means a dealer, importer or any other person who during the preceding three years has collected, or who during the operation of this order collects, more than 500 cattle hides during any one calendar month from producers or other collectors for resale to tanners, contractors, or other collectors.

(7) "Purchase" includes the making of an agreement to purchase.

(c) Restrictions on the purchase, sales and delivery of cattle hides. (1) No tanner, processor or contractor, or agent or broker therefor, shall purchase or accept delivery of any cattle hides sold or taken off subsequent to July 2, 1942, unless specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations as hereinafter provided in subparagraph (2) and no person shall sell or deliver any hides purchased or taken off subsequent to said date to any tanner, processor or contractor, or agent or broker therefor, unless such tanner, processor or contractor has been expressly authorized to purchase or receive such hides.

(2) Applications for authorization to purchase or accept delivery of cattle hides required by paragraph (1) above shall be made by tanners, processors and contractors on Forms PD 569, PD 569A stating the quantities, classes, selections and weights desired and the types of leather or other products to be produced. Such applications shall also state substitutable classes, selections and weights in the event that the requested hides cannot be allocated. The applications shall also contain such additional information as to inventories, capacity, and other matters as may be required by said forms.

Each application for imported cattle hides the importation of which is restricted by General Imports Order M–63 shall be accompanied by properly executed copies of all forms required by the Defense Supplies Corporation to authorize the purchase of foreign hides for its account.

Said applications shall be filed by such persons, on such dates and shall cover such periods as may be required by orders of the Director of Industry Operations supplemental to this order.

The Director of Industry Operations shall take such action upon all applications as he may deem necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

In making allocations from the available supply of cattle hides an allocation will be made to each tanner, processor or contractor in an amount equal to the proportion of the total wettings of cattle hides during the year ended June 30, 1941 by or for the account of such tanner, processor or contractor, Provided, however, That increased allocations may be made to tanners, processors and contractors who have purchase orders for leather to be physically incorporated into mechanical leather products, or into shoes, accoutrements and other articles to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, or any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), to the extent necessary to enable such tanners, processors and contractors to fill such orders. Where such increased allocations result in depleting the supply of hides of a particular class and selection which would ordinarily be available to other tanners, processors and contractors, equitable adjustments may be made in the allocation of hides of other classes and selections so as to provide such tanners, processors and contractors with hides substitutable, as nearly as may be, for those hides used to make the aforesaid increased allocations. Specific allocations of cattle hides may be made by the Director of Industry Operations from time to time to tanners or processors who have not received permission to purchase hides by reason of lack in whole or in part of a prior purchase record and who establish that the tanning or processing of cattle hides by them is appropriate in the public interest and will promote the national defense.

Tanners, processors and contractors who secure authorization to purchase or accept delivery of cattle hides may execute such authorization through agents or brokers, if they so desire.

(d) Restrictions on the use of cattle hides. (1) No tanner, processor or contractor shall tan or process or cause to be tanned or processed any cattle hides purchased after July 2, 1942 or taken off after said date except into the types of leather or other product stated in his application for authorization to purchase or accept delivery of the same unless in the judgment of a qualified export who inspects said hides after they have been delivered and before tanning or processing has begun, or during the course of such tanning or processing, said hides or any part thereof are not suitable for such purpose. A certificate by said expert covering all hides diverted during any month from the purposes originally stated in the application for authorization shall be furnished to the Director of Industry Operations on or before the tenth day of the succeeding month. Said expert may be regularly in the employ of the tanner, processor or contractor, but must be approved in writing by the Director of Industry Operations.

(2) A tanner, processor or contractor may apply by letter to the Director of Industry Operations for permission to sort out any cattle hides which in the judgment of the aforesaid expert will not produce the type of leather or other product he wishes to make and to sell such hides to another tanner or processor who has authority to purchase the same.

(3) The Director of Industry Operations may direct any tanner or processor to hold any cattle hides (whether or not purchased pursuant to this Order) and ship the same to another tanner or processor who may be better able to tan or process the hides into types of leather or other product for which they are suitable.

(e) Reports. (1) Each producer who during the preceding three years has produced, or who during the operation of this order produces, more than 500 cattle hides (other than calf or kip skins) during any one calendar month or more than 200 calf or kip skins during any one calendar month shall report on Forms PD569C, PD569D to the War Production Board on or before the tenth day of each month all cattle hides taken off during the preceding month, those sold during the month, shipped and unshipped, and the unsold and on hand balance as of the end of the month, wherever stored.

(2) Each collector who during the preceding three years has acquired, or who during the operation of this order acquires more than 500 cattle hides (other than calf or kip skins) during any one calendar month or more than 200 calf or kip skins during any one calendar month shall report to the War Production Board on Forms PD569C, PD569D on or before the tenth day of each month all cattle hides acquired by him during the preceding month (including those in transit, on contract or purchased), cattle hides sold during said month, shipped and unshipped, and the balance unsold as of the last day of the month (including those in transit, on contract, purchased, or in storage).

(3) Each tanner or processor who during the preceding three years has tanned or processed, or who during the operation of this order tans or processes, more than 100 cattle hides (other than calf or kip skins) during any one calendar month or more than 100 calf or kip skins during any one calendar month shall report to the War Production Board on Forms PD–569, PD569A on or before the tenth day of each month with regard to the number of cattle hides tanned or processed during the preceding month, sales of cattle hides sold during said month, shipped and unshipped, and the amount of hides in his possession as of the last day of the month or in transit, on contract, purchased, or in storage. Tanners and processors having contracts to tan or process hides for others (including collectors and producers) shall include in such reports the names and addresses of such other persons and the number and types of hides covered by each of said contracts.

(4) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such other reports and questionnaires as may be required by said Board from time to time.

(f) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of cattle hides, calf and kip skins conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board by letter or telegram, Reference M–194, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director of Industry Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(g) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(h) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all comunications concerning this Order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–194.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of Priorities assistance. § 1300.401 Right to apply for adjustment. Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a Government contract or a subcontract under any such contract, who believes that an established maximum price impedes or threatens to impede production of a commodity or supply of a service which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of such contract or subcontract may apply for adjustment of that maximum price in the manner set forth below.

Any Government agency may appear as an interested party in the case of any such application.

After an application has been filed and pending the issuance of an order granting or denying the application, the applicant may enter into or offer to enter into contracts and may make deliveries at the price requested in the application. If the order issued denies the application in whole or in part, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price ordered, and if any payment has been made at the requested price, the applicant may be required to refund the excess. If a request for review is filed by the applicant in accordance with § 1300.406 of this Procedural Regulation No. 6, the applicant, pending action by the Administrator, may enter into or offer to enter into contracts and may make deliveries at the price requested in the application. § 1300.402 Form of application. An application for adjustment shall be made on Form OPA–6PR–1 set out in Appendix A, incorporated as § 1300.412 of this Procedural Regulation No. 6, and a separate form shall be filed for each commodity or service. Such forms may be obtained from any field office of the Office of Price Administration or may be copied by the applicant from Appendix A.

C. Any application filed in Washington, D. C., may be transmitted by the Office of Price Administration to the appropriate Regional Office for action by that Office. The decision of the Regional Office shall be accompanied by a statement of the reasons for its action. In cases of unusual difficulty or importance, the Regional Office shall refer the application for decision to the Administrator in Washington, D. C.

§ 1300.406 Review by administrator. Any applicant whose application for adjustment has been denied in whole or in part by the Regional Office may, within fifteen days after the date on which such order of denial was mailed to him, file with the Regional Office a request for review by the Administrator of the order of denial. Requests for review shall be filed on Form OPA–6PR–2, set out in Appendix C, incorporated as section 1300.414 of this Procedural Regulation No. 6. Such form may be obtained from any field office of the Office of Price Administration or may be copied by the applicant from Appendix C.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts

CONTRACTS FOR CERTAIN DEHYDRATED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

EXCEPTION GRANTED

In the matter of an exception from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act of contracts for certain dehydrated fruits and vegetables.

Whereas, the Secretary of War on June 19, 1942, made written findings that the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Walsh-Healy Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. 35) in contracts awarded on or before December 31, 1942, for dehydrated fresh fruits and vegetables (such products after dehydration not to contain more than 10% moisture) of the varieties hereinafter named will seriously impair the conduct of Government business; and

Whereas, the Secretary of War has requested that an exception be granted under section 6 of the Act to permit the award of contracts during the period until December 31, 1942, for dehydrated fruits and vegetables of the varieties hereinafter named without the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Act; and

Whereas, the findings of the Secretary of War are that the processes followed and the labor employed in the dehydration of such fruits and vegetables are, to a great extent, the same as those involved in the canning industry and within the coverage of the exception order dated May 14, 1942; and

Whereas, it appears that justice and public interest will be served by the granting of the exception on the basis of the findings of the Secretary of War,

Now, therefore, I do hereby grant an exception, pursuant to the powers vested in me by section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35), permitting the award of contracts during the period from this date to December 31, 1942, without the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Act, for the following varieties of dehydrated fruits and vegetables:

Apples, dehydrated.
Apple sauce, dehydrated.
Apricots, dehydrated.
Beans, lima, dehydrated.
Beans, string (or snap), dehydrated.
Beets, dehydrated.
Berries (all varieties), dehydrated.
Cabbage, dehydrated.
Carrots, dehydrated.
Catsup, dehydrated.
Corn, dehydrated.
Figs, dehydrated.
Fruit juices (all varieties), dehydrated.
Kraut, dehydrated.
Onions, dehydrated.
Peaches, dehydrated.
Pears, dehydrated.
Peas, dehydrated.
Prunes, fresh, dehydrated.
Pumpkin, dehydrated.
Spinach, dehydrated.
Sweet potatoes, dehydrated.
White potatoes, dehydrated.
Squash, dehydrated.
Tomato juice, dehydrated.
Tomato puree, dehydrated.
Tomato paste, dehydrated.
Tomatoes, dehydrated.

Nothing in this exception shall excuse non-compliance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 or any rules or regulations issued thereunder.

Dated: July 2, 1942.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

[Docket Nos. A-1498, A-1498, Part II]

DISTRICT BOARD 2—H. F. WILSON

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SEVERING DOCKETS, ORDER GRANTING IN PART TEMPORARY RELIEF, AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines.

The original petition in the above-entitled matters which was filed with this Division, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requested the issuance of orders establishing temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

The petition proposed that price classifications and minimum prices be made effective from two shipping points, Somers on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, and Pricedale on the Monessen Southwestern Railway, for the coals of the Wilson Mine (Mine Index No. 1428) of H. F. Wilson, for all shipments except truck. While it appears that an adequate showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief by establishing temporary price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the above-named mine for all shipments except truck from Somers on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, it appears that the original petitioner has not set forth sufficient facts to warrant making such price classifications and minimum prices effective from Pricedale on the Monessen Southwestern Railway for the coals of this mine for all shipments except truck, without a hearing, and for the further reason that the Monessen Southwestern Railway is not listed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a common carrier.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the portion of Docket No. A-1498 relating to the coals of the Wilson Mine (Mine Index No. 1428), of H. F. Wilson, be and it hereby is, severed from the remainder of Docket No. A-1498 and designated as Docket No. A-1498 Part II.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in Docket No. A-1498 Part II under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on August 4, 1942, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, 734 Fifteenth Street NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section in Room 502 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That W. A. Cuff or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit to the Division proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in these proceedings and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before July 28, 1942.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervenors or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Wilson Mine (Mine Index No. 1428), of H. F. Wilson, for all shipments except truck for shipment from Pricedale on the Monessen Southwestern Railway and from Somers on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad.

It is further ordered, That, pending final disposition of Docket No. A-1498 Part II, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 2 For All Shipments Except Truck, is supplemented to include the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the schedule marked "Supplement R" annexed hereto and hereby made a part hereof.

Important. The apportioned classified Civil Service includes central offices physically located in Washington, D. C., or elsewhere. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his state of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from states which are in arrears.

SOUTHERN COLORADO POWER COMPANY AND SOUTHERN COLORADO POWER COMPANY

FILING NOTICE AND ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 2d day of July, A. D. 1942.

I

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules promulgated thereunder by Southern Colorado Power Company, a public utility company and a direct subsidiary of Standard Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

Southern Colorado Power Company (hereinafter referred to as Colorado) proposes to consummate a plan for its reorganization and recapitalization pursuant to section 11 (e) of said Act for the purpose of enabling it to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) (2) of said Act. The elements of the proposal are as follows:

(1) Coincident, or substantially coincident, with the consummation of the plan but not necessarily as a part thereof, Colorado proposes the retirement and redemption of the presently outstanding $6,828,300 First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds, due July 1, 1947 by the issuance and sale of $5,500,000 of First Mortgage 3½% Thirty-Year Bonds and $1,200,000 of Ten-Year 3% Serial Notes and the employment of the proceeds thereof, together with treasury cash in the estimated amount of approximately $100,000, for that purpose.

(2) By amendment to the Articles of Incorporation of Colorado, the presently outstanding 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock will be reclassified into 42,516 shares of new 4½% Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $50 per share, or a total of $2,125,800 and 638,942 shares of new common stock, par value $5 per share, or a total of $3,194,710, or a new corporation will be formed with authorized capital stock sufficient to meet the requirements of the plan.

(3) The 42,516 shares of new 4½% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 638,942 shares of new common stock, resulting from the reclassification mentioned in paragraph (2) above, will be distributed to the holders of the presently outstanding 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock as follows:

(a) One share of new 4½% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 12 shares of new common stock for each share of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon. The holders of the Cumulative Preferred Stock will thus receive a total of 42,516 shares of the new 4½% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 510,192 shares of the new common stock.

(b) One share of new common stock for each share of Class A Common Stock. The holders of the Class A Common Stock will thus receive 110,000 shares of new common stock.

(c) One-quarter share of new common stock for each share of Class B Common Stock. The holders of the Class B Common Stock will thus receive 18,750 shares of the new common stock.

Under the proposed distribution all of the new 4½% Cumulative Preferred Stock will be allotted to the holders of the old 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock, 79.85% of the new common stock will be distributed to the 7% Preferred stockholders, 17.22% to the Class A common stockholders and 2.93% to the Class B common stockholders.

(4) The capital surplus resulting from the reclassification of the Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock together with the earned surplus of Colorado will be employed as follows:

Unamortized debt, discount and expense on first mortgage bonds	$186,172.20
Redemption premium on first mortgage bonds—2½%	169,085.00
Duplicate interest on first mortgage bonds for one month	33,817.00
Estimated expenses in connection with the consummation of the plan	43,870.00
Write-off of portion of railway plant	915,313.20
Reserve for adjustment of property	1,447,719.22
Total capital surplus resulting from reclassification	2,795,976.62

The application states that the plan was filed for the purpose of enabling the applicant and the Standard Gas and Electric Company holding-company system to meet the requirements of section 11 (b) (2) of said Act by simplifying the applicant's corporate structure and effecting a fair and equitable distribution of voting power among the holders of its securities. The application requests (1) an order approving the plan, and (2) a recital in the order approving the plan that the contemplated distribution of the new preferred stock and/or common stock is necessary and appropriate to the integration or simplification of the Standard Gas and Electric Company holding-company system and the itemization in the order of the new stock to be distributed under the plan (in order that no gain or loss may be recognized as provided in section 371 (b) and section 371 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code).

If this Commission should approve the above plan the company may, but does not obligate itself to, request this Commission to apply to a United States District Court pursuant to sections 11 (e) and 18 (f) of said Act to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the plan. Submission of the plan to the company's security holders for their approval or rejection is not contemplated.

II

The reports filed with the Commission by Colorado disclose that:

(1) Colorado is a public utility company organized under the laws of the State of Colorado with its principal offices located in Pueblo, Colorado. The company is engaged in the business of generating, transmitting and distributing electric energy in the State of Colorado and also owns and operates a street railway system in the City of Pueblo.

(2) The capitalization of Colorado as of December 31, 1941 was as follows:

7% cumulative preferred stock, 42,516 shares including 360 shares owned by Standard Gas & Electric Co. (par value $100 [1]	4,251,600.00
Class A common stock, 110,000 shares including 6,247 shares owned by Standard Gas & Electric Co. and 23,570 shares owned by Standard Power & Light Corporation [2] ($25 par value)	2,750,000.00
Class B common stock, 75,000 shares all owned by Standard Gas & Electric Co. (no par value) stated value $10	750,000.00
Earned surplus since Apr. 30, 1938	364,886.62

[1] Accumulated dividend arrearages on the preferred stock amounted to $29.50 per share aggregating $1,254,222 as of Mar. 31, 1942.
[2] A registered holding company and the parent of Standard Gas & Electric Co.

(3) The preferred stock has no voting power unless and until not less than two quarterly dividends have accrued and remain unpaid thereon, in which event and so long as at least two quarterly dividends shall accrue and remain unpaid, the holders of such stock shall be entitled to the same voting powers as the Class B Common Stock which has full voting power. Except as otherwise specifically provided by law Class A Common Stock has no voting power.

(4) The preferred stock presently has full voting rights inasmuch as more than two quarterly dividend payments are in arrears. The annual dividend requirement on the preferred stock is 7% but the dividend paid in each of the last nine years has been only 4¼% or less. As of March 31, 1942 the accumulated dividends on the preferred stock aggregated $29.50 per share or a total of $1,254,222. No dividends have been paid on the Class A Common Stock since May, 1932 and no earnings have been available for the payment of such dividends subsequent to 1933. No dividends have ever been paid on the Class B Common Stock.

(5) The preferred stock is entitled in each year to a cumulative preference in dividends over the Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock to the extent of 7% of its par value and in case of liquidation, dissolution or winding up, whether voluntary or involuntary, is entitled to a preference in assets to the extent of its par value and all dividends then accumulated. The preferred stock has no further right of participation in dividends or assets. The company may redeem all or any part of the preferred stock at 110% of the par value thereof plus the amount of all accumulated dividends after 60 days' notice by mail to the holders thereof. If there are no preferred stock dividend arrearages the Class A Common Stock is entitled to receive non-cumulative dividends at the rate of $3 per share before any dividends shall be paid on Class B Common Stock. If there are no preferred stock dividend arrearages and if the Class A Common Stock dividend requirements have been provided for, the Class B Common Stock is entitled to receive in any quarter dividends at the rate of $2 per share per annum after which the holders of the Class A Common Stock and the holders of the Class B Common Stock share equally in any remaining earnings. In case of liquidation, dissolution or winding up, the Class A Common Stock is entitled to $27.50 per share after payment to the preferred stock and any remaining assets are to be divided equally between the Class A common stockholders and Class B common stockholders. The company has the right to redeem the Class A Common Stock at $35 per share after 60 days' notice by mail.

360 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock.
6,247 shares of Class A Common Stock.
75,000 shares of Class B Common Stock.

The aforementioned shares of the preferred stock and the Class A Common Stock are carried on the books of Standard Gas and Electric Company at $32,834 and $140,747.77, respectively, which are likewise the reported costs of these securities to the system company first acquiring them.

Standard Power and Light Corporation, a registered holding company, and the parent of Standard Gas and Electric Company, owns 23,570 shares of Colorado's Class A Common Stock which are carried on the books of Standard Power and Light Corporation at $636,390 which is also the reported cost of these securities to the system company first acquiring them.

(7) The net income of Colorado for the twelve months ended December 31, 1940 and December 31, 1941 was reported to be $244,401.97 and $260,900.91, respectively. The requirement for dividends on the preferred stock for each of these years was $297,612. As of March 31, 1942 the dividend arrearages on the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock amounted to $29.50 per share aggregating $1,254,222.

(8) The balance sheet of Colorado contains, among other things:

(a) An excess of book cost over "Original Cost" of Utility Plant as defined in the Uniform System of Accounts prescribed by the Colorado Public Utilities Commission.

(b) Deferred charges being amortized over varying periods.

(c) Railway Plant carried at $1,412,346.

III

It appearing to the Commission on the basis of allegations contained in the foregoing section II that there are reasonable grounds to believe that:

(1) The voting power is unfairly and inequitably distributed among Colorado's security holders.

(2) The corporate structure of Colorado unduly and unnecessarily complicates the structure of the Standard Gas and Electric Company holding-company system, of which it is a part.

(3) All or part of the items in the balance sheet referred to in paragraph (8) of section II hereof may have to be disposed of by accounting adjustments which may have some effect on future income.

IV

It being the duty of the Commission under section 11 (b) (2) of the Act, to require, by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that each registered holding company and each subsidiary company thereof shall take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to ensure that its corporate structure does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of such holding company system; and

It also being appropriate and in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to institute proceedings against Colorado under sections 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the Act directed toward a determination of whether appropriate orders should be entered pursuant to said sections; and

The Commission being required by the provisions of Section 11 (e) of said Act, before approving any plan thereunder, to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan; and

It appearing appropriate that notice be given and hearings held for the purpose of determining what action should be ordered under sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) and with respect to the proposed plan filed under section 11 (e); and

It further appearing to the Commission that said proceedings involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated and heard together;

It is hereby ordered, That hearings on (a) the proposed plan for reorganization and recapitalization filed pursuant to section 11 (e), and (b) the proceedings pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) herein instituted, be held on the 28th day of July, 1942 at 10:00 o'clock A. M., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on that day by the hearing room clerk in Room 318;

It is further ordered, That said proceedings be and the same are hereby consolidated;

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this order, by registered mail to the above named party, to Standard Gas and Electric Company and Standard Power and Light Corporation, and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to all security holders of Southern Colorado Power Company, to all states, municipalities, or political subdivisions of states or foreign countries in which are located any of the utility assets of the holding-company system of Standard Gas and Electric Company or under the laws of which any of said subsidiary companies are incorporated, to all state commissions, state securities commissions and all agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of one or more states, municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over Southern Colorado Power Company or over any of the business affairs of any of them, and to all other persons, such notice to be given by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

It is further ordered, That Southern Colorado Power Company mail a copy of this notice and order at least twenty days prior to July 28, 1942 to each of its stockholders at his last-known address;

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before the 18th day of July, 1942, a written statement relative thereto; any person proposing to intervene shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before such date his application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's Rules of Practice;

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the pending applications or declarations (or both) or by the proceedings hereby instituted, that evidence having particular bearing on the following matters will be adduced:

(1) Whether the proposed plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of said Act.

(2) Whether the proposed plan is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

(3) Whether the proposed plan is feasible.

(4) Whether the plan should be submitted to the stockholders of Southern Colorado Power Company for their approval or rejection.

(5) Whether the proposed transactions by Southern Colorado Power Company which are incidental to the consummation of the proposed plan comply with all of the requirements of the applicable provisions of the Act and Rules.

(6) Whether the allegations contained in sections II and III hereof are true and correct.

(7) Whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to require pursuant to sections 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and rules thereunder that Southern Colorado Power Company restate its plant and equipment, investment, reserves, surplus, capital or other accounts so as to segregate, eliminate and/or dispose of intangibles in the plant and equipment accounts and investment accounts; set up adequate reserves and make other accounting adjustments.

(8) What orders, if any, should be entered pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the Act, to require Southern Colorado Power Company to take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to comply with the provisions of said sections.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition in whole or in part, any of the issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economic disposition of the matters involved.

United States employees, possessing special qualifications, to governments of American republics and the Philippines, and for other purposes', approved May 25, 1938" (53 Stat. 652), I hereby authorize and direct the Secretary of State to administer the said act of May 3, 1939, in accordance with the following regulations:

1. Only officers and employees of the Government of the United States possessing special scientific or other technical or professional qualifications shall be assigned under the said act, and no assignment shall be effected except at the formal request of the foreign government concerned and in agreement therewith.

2. No officer or employee shall be assigned under any government other than the governments of the other American republics, the Commonwealth of the Philippines, and Liberia; and all references in this order to foreign governments shall relate only to the said governments.

3. All requests of foreign governments for the loan of the services of officers and employees of the Government of the United States shall be communicated through the diplomatic channel to the Secretary of State.

4. If the Secretary of State considers that it would be in the public interest to comply with the requests, he shall so inform the appropriate department or agency and indicate the number of persons desired by the requesting government and the probable length of the assignment, and shall supply such other information as he may consider pertinent. The department or agency concerned shall submit to the Secretary of State the name or names of any of its officers or employees whose services are available, together with information respecting their education, previous experience, special qualifications (including language qualifications), basic salaries, family status, and such other information as the department or agency concerned may consider appropriate or as may be requested by the Secretary of State.

5. If, after consultation with the appropriate department or agency, the Secretary of State determines that the request of the foreign government may and should be complied with, he shall inform the requesting government of the names, positions, and qualifications of the personnel available and of the exact period for which their assignment could be authorized, and shall ascertain whether the detail of that personnel would be acceptable to the requesting government. The Secretary of State may, in his discretion, supply the requesting government with an estimate of the expenses involved in the assignment, and request it to indicate whether it desires to reimburse the Government of the United States in whole or in part for such expenses.

6. If personnel having the requisite qualifications are not available, or if the Secretary of State determines that the Government of the United States is unable for any reason to comply with the request of a foreign government, he shall so inform the requesting government.

7. The Secretary of State may, when he deems it in the public interest, accept such advances of funds as the foreign government concerned may express a desire to offer for use by the Government of the United States to pay the expenses of such detail in whole or in part, and the amount so received shall be transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury to be established as a trust fund, to be available for the purposes and under the provisions of the said act until the termination of the detail; and any unused balance of the trust fund shall be returned to the government making the advance.

8. All officers and employees detailed pursuant to the provisions of the said act shall receive from the department or agency in which they are employed reimbursement for travel expenses to and from the place of detail, and a monthly allowance determined by the Secretary of State to be adequate for quarters and subsistence; and if, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, the duties to be performed under the assignment render it necessary, officers and employees so detailed may also receive additional compensation from such department or agency in amounts to be determined by the Secretary of State but not to exceed 50 percent of the amounts of compensation they were receiving as officers or employees of the United States at the time of the assignment. Such monthly allowance and additional compensation shall be paid only for the period the officer or employee is actually in the foreign country serving under his assignment.

9. No officer or employee detailed pursuant to the provisions of the said act shall perform any services not contemplated by his assignment, and no such officer or employee shall receive any monthly allowance or additional compensation not authorized in accordance with these regulations.

10. The Secretary of State shall fix the period of each assignment and each extension of an assignment within the limitations provided in the said act.

11. The time required for travel to and from the place of assignment shall be included within the period of the assignment.

12. No reimbursement shall be accepted from any foreign government for any expenses not authorized in accordance with these regulations, and no funds advanced by a foreign government shall be used to pay any expenses not authorized in accordance with these regulations.

13. The Secretary of State is authorized to establish for administrative purposes such forms as he may consider necessary for the maintenance of uniform records.

14. The Secretary of State shall give each person assigned pursuant to the said act an appropriate letter of instruction, which shall include the name of the country to which the officer or employee is assigned; the period of the assignment; a description of the duties to be performed; the amount of the monthly allowance, and the amount of additional compensation if any, which has been authorized; and such additional instructions as the Secretary of State may deem appropriate. The Secretary of State shall also transmit to the department or agency concerned the information set forth in the letter of instruction.

15. The Secretary of State may prescribe such additional regulations not inconsistent herewith as he may deem necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this order.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division

PART 620—MINIMUM WAGE RATE IN THE LUGGAGE, LEATHER GOODS AND WOMEN'S HANDBAG INDUSTRY

Wage order in the matter of the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 41 for a minimum wage rate in the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry.

Whereas on January 10, 1942, pursuant to section 5 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, herein referred to as the Act, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, by Administrative Order No. 138, appointed Industry Committee No. 41 for the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry, herein called the Committee, and directed the Committee to recommend minimum wage rates for the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry in accordance with section 8 of the Act; and

Whereas the Committee included 6 disinterested persons representing the public, a like number of persons representing employers in the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry, and a like number of persons representing employees in the industry, and each group was appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry is carried on; and

Whereas on February 4, 1942, the Committee, after investigating economic and competitive conditions in the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry, filed with the Administrator a report containing its recommendation for a 40-cent minimum hourly wage rate in the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry; and

Whereas the complete record of the proceeding before the Presiding Officer has been transmitted to the Administrator, and

Whereas, by notice given at the hearing, opportunity to request oral argument or submit written briefs was afforded all parties; and

Whereas no request for oral argument having been received, oral argument on the Committee's recommendation was dispensed with in this proceeding; and

Whereas the Administrator, upon reviewing all the evidence adduced in this proceeding and giving consideration to the provisions of the Act, with special reference to sections 5 and 8, has concluded that the Industry Committee's recommendation for the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry, as defined by Administrative Order No. 138, is made in accordance with law, is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of the Act; and

Whereas the Administrator has set forth his decision in an opinion entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the Matter of the Recommendation of Industry Committee No. 41 for a Minimum Wage Rate in the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry," dated this day, a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, New York, New York;

PRUDENTIAL SILK COMPANY, INC.

Prudential Silk Company, Inc., 2 Broadway, Paterson, New Jersey, formerly engaged in the processing of silk, and after restrictions had been placed upon the use of silk, the Company applied for and obtained allocations of reserved rayon yarn pursuant to the provisions of Supplementary Order M-37-a. Such allocations are made monthly on the basis of silk consumption during the first six months of 1941. Despite the fact that the Company had received notice that it had overstated its silk consumption for the first six months of 1941, it ordered and received, during the months of December, 1941, and January, 1942, 2,538 pounds of reserved rayon yarn in excess of that to which the Company was entitled on the basis of its silk consumption as confirmed to the War Production Board. During February and March, 1942, despite the fact that the Company had been instructed by the War Production Board to refrain from ordering or obtaining reserved rayon yarn until the matter of its overage had been adjusted, the Company accepted the delivery of 2,189 pounds of reserved rayon yarn in excess of that to which it was entitled during these two months upon the basis of its stated silk consumption during the first six months of 1941. Subsequently, the Company submitted a revised statement of its silk consumption during the first six months of 1941 and upon the basis of this revised statement, the Company ordered and received approximately 3,325 pounds of reserved rayon yarn in excess of that to which it was entitled during the months of December, 1941, through March, 1942. Upon the basis of the Company's earlier statement of its silk consumption during the first six months of 1941, as confirmed to the War Production Board, the Company ordered and received approximately 4,727 pounds of reserved rayon yarn in excess of the quantity to which it was entitled.

These violations of Supplementary Order M-37-a, dealing with the supply and distribution of rayon yarn, have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting reserved rayon yarn to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing,

It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.61 Suspension Order S-61. (a) Prudential Silk Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not order or receive during any month, either for its own account or for the account of others, more than one-third of the reserved rayon yarn as the same is defined in Supplementary Order M-37-c to which it would be entitled except for the restrictions contained herein, except as specifically authorized by the Director of Industry Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this Order shall be deemed to relieve Prudential Silk Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This Order shall take effect on July 5, 1942, and shall expire on October 5, 1942, at which time the restrictions contained in this Order shall be of no further effect. (P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Issued this 3d day of July, 1942.

J. S. KNOWLSON,
Director of Industry Operations.

(b) Additional definitions. For the purposes of this order (1) "Manila fiber" means fiber which is commonly known in the trade by this term and also known as Abaca or Manila hemp (either stripped or decorticated), Sumatra Abaca, and Panama Abaca, except that Manila fiber does not mean the fiber or grades T, O, W, or Y, as established by the Insular Government of the Philippine Islands.

(2) "Manila cordage" means cables and ropes 1/8" in diameter and larger, and twines used for fishing nets, in which Manila fiber either alone or in combination with other materials is used.

(3) "Class A cordage" means Manila cordage which contains such a combination of grades of Manila fiber as will at least equal the fiber quality requirements of Federal Specifications T-R-601a.

(4) "Class B cordage" means Manila cordage which contains such a combination of grades of Manila fiber as will give a Becker value not in excess of thirty-nine, such Becker value to be determined according to the methods set forth in said Federal Specifications T-R-601a.

(5) "Cordage processor" means any person other than the Navy Department who spins, twists, weaves or otherwise uses Manila fiber in the production of Manila cordage.

(3) Any cordage processor shall, notwithstanding the limitations of subparagraphs (d) (2) and (e) (1), and in addition to any action permitted thereunder:

(i) Process into Manila cordage any Manila fiber furnished to the said cordage processor by the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or its Operating or General Agents, and sell and deliver such cordage to, or for the account of, the agencies furnishing the fiber.

(ii) Process into Manila cordage such additional amounts of Manila fiber and sell and deliver such additional amounts of Manila cordage as may from time to time be determined by the Director of Industry Operations to be necessary in the public interest and to promote the National Defense in order to meet the emergency and otherwise unobtainable requirements of Manila cordage of any of the agencies mentioned in subparagraph (3) (i) above.

(e) Restrictions on sales and deliveries of Manila cordage. (1) No cordage processor shall sell or deliver more Manila cordage during the period from March 2, 1942, to January 1, 1943, than an amount thereof equal to five times his basic monthly poundage, and, in each month thereafter, no cordage processor shall sell or deliver more Manila cordage than 41½ per cent of his basic monthly poundage: Provided, however, That any cordage processor keeping his books on a weekly basis shall apply the said percentage to the weekly periods of processing most nearly approximating the respective calendar periods mentioned in this paragraph.

(iv) Orders placed by Defense Supplies Corporation:

Provided, however, That no cordage processor or dealer shall deliver any Manila cordage upon any order placed with him pursuant to subparagraph (e) (2) (ii) or (e) (2) (iii) (b), unless and until such processor or dealer shall have first received from the person placing such order a certificate signed on behalf of such person by a duly authorized individual in substantially the following form:
